PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Jubilee.

THE year 1887 is memorable as the Jubilee year of the reign of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress. The 16th and 17th of February, the days appointed for the celebration, were observed with appropriate honours throughout the province. The total number of prisoners released from the several jails was 256; while 613 prisoners received partial remissions of sentences. One civil debtor, imprisoned for a claim of under Rs. 100, was also released.

Personnel.

2. Mr. Cordery held the office of Resident during six months of the year, Colonel Ross being appointed to officiate for him during his absence on furlough from the 7th April to the 8th October 1886. Mr. FitzGerald held the office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar up to the 13th of October, and Mr. Martindale from the 1st November to the end of the year. Lieutenant Cornish officiated as First Assistant Resident and Secretary during the interval of one month and eighteen days. With the exception of three months, when he was on special duty in Kashmir, the last-named officer held the appointment of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar throughout the year, his duties during his deputation being carried on by Lieutenant P. J. Melvill, Assistant General Superintendent, Thagi and Dakaiti Department. There was no change in the office of Commissioner, which was held by Mr. Leslie Saunders, B.C.S.

Survey.

3. The work of the forest survey party employed in the Melghat tract progressed satisfactorily during the year under report. The total area plane-tabled up to 30th April 1887 was 337 square miles, and 383 square miles were triangulated, while a sufficient area was traversed to provide the plane-tablers with work. The whole of the Melghat tract, as well as the Binjara jagir, was thus completely triangulated, and the topographical survey of the whole of the Gugamal and of part of the Bairagarh reserve finished. The vexed question of the demarcation of the boundary between the Melghat tract and the Betul district of the Central Provinces was also settled during the year and accepted by both Administrations. The operations of the Revenue Survey, which had but lately been established, were to some extent handicapped by the death and desertion of a portion of the staff. Work was done for only seven months of the year under report, the monsoon period having been devoted to the recruiting of the establishment, collection of instruments, &c. During the first two months of the year 4,598 acres were assessed at a cost of Rs. 1,082. During the last five months 509 fields or 13,460 acres in the Wun District were measured, and 361 fields or 8,640 acres classed; and in the Basim District 549 fields or 14,816 acres measured, and 444 fields or 11,662 acres classed. The total cost of the operations amounted to Rs. 17,867-3-10, of which Rs. 14,968-15-1 were on account of establishment.

Waste lands.

4. The number of leased villages during the year under report fell from 534 to 513, with a decrease in the areas aggregating 920,861, as compared with 954,525 acres in 1885-86. But the rental rose from Rs. 72,395 to Rs. 79,763.

Acts introduced and repealed.

5. The Acts of the Imperial Legislature introduced into the province during the year under report were:—Act X of 1886 (an Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure and certain other Acts), the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, as amended by Act XV of 1885, and Sections 188 to 192 (inclusive) of Act V (the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879). No Acts were repealed.

Police.

6. The Police establishment as compared with the previous year was stronger by one inspector, two head constables, and eight constables, but owing to the facility with which employment is obtained elsewhere, the old difficulties regarding recruitment were experienced; and 34 vacancies in the force remained unfilled at the close of the year. The figures under the head of conduct and discipline testify satisfactorily to the management of the force, while a considerable falling off in crime indicates more efficient administration.

Crime.

7. The noticeable feature in the statistics of crime is the decrease in all classes of offences, more particularly in serious offences against person and property, and property only, and in minor offences against person and property. Murders fell from 27 to 23, dakaities from 12 to 6, robberies from 31 to 24, burglaries from 1,190 to 909, and thefts from 2,934 to 2,301.

Criminal Justice.

8. With the decrease of crime, there was a corresponding diminution in the work of the courts. The number of criminal tribunals was 67, as compared with 74 in the preceding year. The bulk of the work as usual fell to the Tahsildars and Special Magistrates, who performed respectively 49·2 and 28·5 per cent. of the whole. The Deputy Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners disposed of a larger share of the criminal work than they did last year. During the year 10,845 persons were punished. Of these, 4 were sentenced to be hanged, 9 to transportation for life, 1,754 to rigorous and 268 to simple imprisonment, 7,871 were fined, and 278 were sentenced to be whipped. The fines imposed amounted to Rs. 61,939 as against Rs. 66,077 in 1885, and the percentage of realizations was also less, 70·9, as compared with 73·9. The proportion relinquished, which fell from 9·3 to 7·6, however partly made up for this decrease. Of the 34,832 witnesses who attended the criminal courts during the year, 78·9 per cent. were only detained for one day, 14·9 for two days, 4·2 per cent. for three days, and 2 per cent. for more than three days. Six cases involving 7 European British subjects came on for trial before the magistrates, resulting in the conviction of 6 persons, who were punished with fines. There was a slight improvement in the average duration of cases in the various courts.

Prisons.

9. The decrease in crime was also followed by a decrease in the number of jail admissions, which fell from 3,230 to 3,015. The total prison population at the close of the year was 1,143 as compared with 1,118 prisoners at the close of 1885. The daily average strength rose from 1047·16 to 1058·44. There were no escapes of convicts during the year, but two who made the attempt were captured within jail precincts. Two under-trial prisoners succeeded in getting away and have not been re-captured. Offences against prison discipline increased, but, with the exception of five criminal cases, which were dealt with by the magistracy, all were breaches of jail rules. The mark system was for the first time worked in its entirety during the year under report, and appears to have been generally appreciated by the convicts. The net cash earnings of prisoners employed on manufactures, which are principally confined to the two Central Jails at Akola and Amraoti, were Rs. 11,395, or Rs. 445 more than in 1885. The average earning per head of those sentenced to labour was Rs. 11-1-0, as compared with Rs. 10 15-0 in the previous year, while the earnings per head of those employed on jail manufactures alone fell from Rs. 29-10-0 to Rs 28-11-0. The total expenditure of the jails rose from Rs. 63,535 in 1885 to Rs. 65,143 in the year under report, but the average cost per head fell from Rs. 60-12-5 to Rs. 59-15-1. The health of the convicts was generally satisfactory.

Civil Justice.

10. The administration of civil justice exhibited no special features. The number of courts open was one less than in 1885, and the total number of suits of all kinds instituted was 25,970 as against 22,775, showing an increase of 14 per cent. The bulk of the litigation consisted of suits for fulfilment of contracts and for money due on bond. Of the total 86·2 per cent. were for money due as compared with 98 per cent. last year; and of these, 14,749 were suits on contracts in writing. Suits relating to marriage decreased from 79 to 53, or by nearly 33 per cent. Excluding the suits of which the money value cannot be fixed, the aggregate value of suits instituted during the year was Rs. 27,79,560-1-10, as compared with Rs. 23,64,787-9-11 in 1885, or an increase of Rs. 4,14,772-7-11. The average value of each suit, Rs. 108-1-2, was nearly the same as the figure for the previous year. The average cost was Rs 13-7-2, the percentage of cost to value being Rs. 14-8-5. The average duration of contested and non-contested cases was somewhat higher than in 1885, being 78·2 and 36·7 days respectively, as compared with 65·5 and 34·4 days.

Registration.

11. Under Registration the year's operations were not so satisfactory as in 1885-86. Although there were two additional offices opened during the year, the total number of documents registered fell from 26,632 in 1885-86 to 25,088, and there was a corresponding decrease in the aggregate value of property transferred, which fell from Rs. 59,43,641 to Rs. 57,59,199 in the year under report. Of the latter sum, Rs 54,58,239 related to immoveable and Rs. 3,00,960 to moveable property. The number of registrations during the past year were, however, unusually high. The income of the year was Rs. 55,952-7-0 as compared with Rs. 59,838-6-3 in 1885-86, and the expenditure Rs. 36,318-8-7 as compared with Rs. 36,788-15-3. The net surplus amounted to Rs. 19,633-14-5, or Rs. 3,415-8-7 less than in the preceding year, while the average cost of registering a document was Rs. 2-1-2, or one pie less. Registration was as a rule effected with commendable celerity.

Municipalities.

12. The administration of the seven Municipalities in the province was on the whole satisfactory. No committee consisted of less than five members, and in the larger towns the members exceeded fifteen. The aggregate number of persons serving on the seven committees was 109, of whom 23 were ex-officio members, 78 nominated, and 8 elected. Of the total 43 were official and 66 non-official members, the European element forming 31 per cent. The Berar Municipal Law came into force on the 1st of January 1887, but effect was not given to it pending the preparation of subsidiary rules. The financial condition of the Municipalities is re-assuring. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 1,48,128, or Rs. 3,472 more than the income of last year, but the total expenditure was also greater by Rs. 2,216. Contributions to dispensaries increased from Rs 3,909 to Rs. 4,858, and to schools and libraries by the large sum of Rs. 2,588. It is said that as a general rule much interest was displayed by the non-official members in municipal affairs.

Agriculture.

13. In consequence of the discovery and rectification of certain errors, the total area of the province showed a net decrease of 595 acres for the year under report. The area under crops fell off by 103,100 acres, which is attributable to the unfavourable conditions of the season's rainfall. The decrease was under both kharif and rabi areas, in which the falling off reached 51,234 and 49,905 acres respectively. The percentage of acreage under the two most valuable staples of Berar—wheat and cotton—rose, the former from 12·3 to 14·4 per cent, and the latter from 29·6 to 32 per cent; a result which compensates for the badness of the year in other respects. The area under irrigation declined from 75,300 in 1885-86 to 67,115 in the year under report. The two experimental farms at Amraoti and Akola were continued, but no experiments of special importance were conducted in either. A trial was made in two of the wheat-growing districts with English wheat seed, but the results were not successful; the seeds had lost their germinating powers before they were sown.

Rain-fall

14. The average rainfall of the year for the whole province was 41·3 inches, or nearly 4½ inches more than in 1885. The chief peculiaritie of the fall were the abundant showers which fell in the early months; and the long drought which followed lasting throughout September and the first half of October. An extraordinarily heavy downfall of rain marked the latter part of October.

Food-grains.

15. The year under report showed an increase in the average prices of agricultural produce. Wheat sold at 17¾ seers as against 21 in 1885-86, and jowari at 29¼ as compared with 31 seers. The rise in the price of the former is ascribed to increased export, and of the latter to indifferent harvests in four districts.

Veterinary.

16. In the year under report the first real steps were taken towards the establishment of a Civil Veterinary Department. Although progress was at first necessarily slow, the operations undertaken have been satisfactory, and give every hope for the future. Mr. Cooper, the Veterinary Officer in charge, did valuable work in visiting the villages and explaining orally the more common diseases and the remedies to be adopted. Mr. Cooper's visits brought to light the fact that rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease are but too common in almost every district. The transfer of two donkey stallions from the department of horse-breeding operations was sanctioned by the Government of India, but the animals had not arrived when the year closed.

Agricultural stock.

17. The statistics of the agricultural stock of the province show an increase under all heads except buffaloes, but the figures are not absolutely reliable, as they do not appear to have been subjected to sufficient check before submission.

Tuccavi.

18. There was a decrease of over Rs. 20,000 in the amount advanced under the Land Improvement Act.

Forests.

19. The area of forest lands in Berar fell by 201 square miles, of which 197 are under the head of Unclassed State Forests and Waste Lands, excluded mainly on account of land having been given up for cultivation. Breaches of Forest Rules fell from 422 in 1885-86 to 406 in the year under report. Protection from fire was more successful than in the past year, and the expenditure under this head diminished, being Rs. 5-11-5 per square mile, as compared with Rs. 5-14-0 in the previous year. One result of these measures is a great improvement in the stock of bamboos in two of the forests under protection. The financial results of the year were on the whole not so favourable; an increase of Rs. 6,400 in the revenue being more than counterbalanced by an increase of Rs. 12,475 in expenditure. The surplus accordingly showed a reduction of Rs. 6,075. The revenue has however risen steadily during the last three years.

Trade.

20. The methods employed for the registration of rail-borne trade were the same as before. The statistics were furnished by the Railway Audit Office, which is subsidized for the purpose. A comparison of the figures for the year under report and the preceding year points to a steady growth of the provincial trade. The total values of the imports and exports for the two years are contrasted below :—

	1885-86.	1886-87.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Imports ...	1,76,35,588 ...	1,95,81,624 ...	19,46,036
Exports ...	3,05,21,270 ...	3,94,37,145 ...	89,15,875

Except from Bengal, imports increased, particularly in value, while exports from the province towards the Bombay Port and the Bombay Presidency also assumed considerable dimensions. On the whole both imports and exports increased by 20·6 and 22·4 per cent. in weight and by 11·03 and 29·2 per cent. respectively in value. There were 31 fairs of importance, and in all of them the trade was brisk.

Public Works

21. The progress made in public works is detailed in the section devoted to that head. The total disbursements from all sources amounted to Rs. 15,87,804, or Rs. 96,213 in excess of the expenditure of last year. Under imperial works grants of Rs. 2,48,000 and 21,700 were made for military and civil works respectively, and Rs. 1,53,648 and 18,990 of these amounts were expended. There was thus a lapse of Rs. 94,352 and 2,710 respectively under these heads. From the Berar Provincial Public Works Budget there was a grant of Rs. 10,39,000, of which Rs. 10,02,393 was utilized, showing a lapse of Rs. 36,607, or 3·52 per cent. of the budget grant. The grants from Incorporated and Excluded Local Funds amounted to Rs. 1,92,460 and 2,92,096 respectively. Of the former sum, Rs. 46,125 and of the latter Rs. 2,07,486 were expended mostly on original works. The principal works in progress from Imperial funds were the sepoys' lines for the regiment of the Contingent Infantry stationed at Raichore and the laying out of roads and culverts in that cantonment, bells-of-arms for the Cavalry at Hingoli, and other works of a miscellaneous character shown under the head of Civil Buildings. The most important works completed from Imperial funds were the bells-of-arms for the Cavalry regiment at Bolaram, additions to the Cavalry Hospital at Aurangabad, and stabling for the Artillery horses at the same station. Under the head of miscellaneous public improvements, the works completed were the Kalapani reservoir to supply the town of Amraoti with water and the Pahora tank. The towns of Amraoti and Khamgaon have now the boon of a pure supply of drinking water. Operations were also commenced in connection with the projects to supply the Civil Station of Amraoti and the Cantonment and the City of Ellichpur with water. The progress made in connection with Police, Educational, and Medical buildings, as in the construction of new roads and the maintenance of the existing communications, was satisfactory.

Railways.

22. The progress of the Berar State Railways was encouraging. The expenditure on the Khamgaon line was Rs. 39,220 and the receipts Rs. 59,452, showing a net profit of Rs. 20,232, equivalent to 4·13 per cent. on the capital outlay. On the Amraoti line the total disbursements amounted to Rs. 50,974 and the receipts to Rs. 95,111, leaving a net profit of Rs. 44,137, or 9·93 per cent. on the capital outlay. This record compares very favourably with that of the preceding year.

Revenue and Finance.

23. Turning to the financial condition of the province, the gross revenue amounted to Rs. 1,10,85,003, and the total disbursements to Rs. 92,23,931, which, omitting from calculation the receipts and disbursements under Excluded Local Funds, left a surplus of Rs. 18,54,200. The amount, however, actually paid to His Highness' Government was Rs. 18,23,318, and the accrued surplus which stood in its favour on the 31st March 1887 amounted to Rs. 46,26,488. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,04,71,558 formed provincial and Rs. 6,13,445 local revenue. Rs. 86,10,486 of the former and the whole of the latter amount were utilized. The balance at the credit of the Resident under the contract scheme amounted to Rs. 20,14,492. The Land Revenue demand showed an increase of Rs. 52,375 over that of the previous year, which is ascribed to the larger area given out for cultivation and to higher bids for the occupation of fields. The actual realizations brought to account under this head amounted to Rs. 66,66,730, giving a net increase of Rs. 2,03,975. Although, owing to heavier arrears of the kharif or autumnal instalments, the number of writs of demand rose by more than one thousand, extreme measures for the recovery of outstandings were rarely resorted to. The principal sources of income other than Land Revenue, exhibiting an increase, were Abkari, Stamps, Provincial Rates, and Railway, the increase under Stamps being the highest recorded. On the other hand the statistics under the heads of Registration, Interest, Law and Justice, Police, Education, Miscellaneous, Public Works, and Contributions from Provincial to Local and from Local to Provincial Funds all show reduced receipts. The aggregate charges under all heads, omitting Excluded Local Funds, furnished a net increase of Rs. 3,15,058, spread over the items Civil, Railway, Public Works, and Military, while under Provincial and Local Surplus and Deficits, and Contributions from Provincial to Local and from Local to Provincial Funds, the charges were smaller. On the whole the finances of the Province were in a healthy condition.

Vital statistics.

24. The year under report was not generally good as regards the public health, and returned a high rate of mortality. Notwithstanding a considerable fall in the number of deaths from epidemic diseases, the total deaths in the province rose from 89,558 in 1885 to 96,546, a result attributed mainly to fever and bowel-complaints. The death-rate in proportion to population rose from 34 in 1885 to 36·7 per mille. The number of births registered amounted to 98,229, or 14,552 less than in the preceding year. The rate to population, which was in the ratio of 37·3 per mille or 1 in 26, is the lowest recorded for the past seven years. This low birth-rate is believed by the Commissioner to be the natural result of the unhealthy conditions of the year, though something must be credited to defective registration. Of the births registered, 50,747 were males and 47,482 females, or in the proportion of 107 boys to 100 girls. This proportion has remained nearly unaltered for the preceding three years.

Medical Relief.

25. The number of civil hospitals and dispensaries open in the province was the same as in the previous year, but the number of patients treated rose from 226,652 to 234,595, or 7,943 more than in 1885. This was a natural outcome of the unhealthiness of the year. The patients belonged mostly to the class who seek out-door relief. Including those which were under treatment at the commencement of the year, 284 major operations were performed as compared with 320 in 1885. The gross receipts fell from Rs. 88,489-5-8 in 1885 to Rs. 86,231-4-8, and the expenditure rose from Rs. 84,542-2-10 to Rs. 85,787-2-9. As regards Dispensary Committees, the account given is regrettable. With few exceptions, the members are said to have been very apathetic and to have exhibited but little concern in the management of the institutions.

Sanitation.

26. Although no very extensive advance was made in connection with sanitary works in Municipalities during the year, the report is cheering as regards the attention paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy. Out of a total income of Rs. 1,66,333, Rs. 86,521, or 52 per cent., were spent on sanitary works alone, and a little more than 21 per cent. on conservancy, as compared with 36 and 21·8 per cent. respectively in 1885. The outlay on sanitary improvements in the districts amounted to Rs. 93,685, or Rs. 2,974 over the expenditure of the previous year. The sanitary condition of the rural parts of the province was still backward ; and there was but little sign of any tendencies towards self-improvement.

Vaccination.

27. As to vaccine operations, the year shows a decline of 2,150 in the aggregate number of persons operated upon, but the ratio of success was a trifle larger than in 1885. Of the 91,470 successful operations, 83,554 were performed by the special establishment, 6,672 at the several dispensaries, and the remainder in the Melghat. The total expenditure incurred amounted to Rs. 17,119-11-4, or Rs. 92-0-11 more than in the previous year, while the average cost of each successful operation rose from Annas 3-1 to Annas 3-3. The attitude of the people towards vaccination continues favourable.

Education.

28. The working of the Educational Department in Berar for the year under report was generally satisfactory and larger facilities were offered for instruction. The leading features of the year are the marked increase in the numbers of schools, pupils, and in the average attendance. The total number of schools was 988, as compared with 951 in 1885-86, and the number of scholars 43,661, as against 41,018. The proportion of scholars to population of school-going age rose from 19·23 to 20·4. The total expenditure increased from Rs. 3,89,392 to Rs. 4,02,782. The largest increases were in the items allotted to Government primary schools and to grants-in-aid to public schools under private management. Rs. 2,42,295 of the outlay was provided from provincial revenues, Rs. 1,06,089 from the educational cess, Rs. 39,324 from fees, and the balance from Local Funds. As a set-off against the enhanced expenditure, the income of the department rose under all heads of revenue except one. The Training College for schoolmasters continued to do satisfactory work, a fair proportion of the students having qualified as teachers during the year. The slight progress made previously in female education continued during the year under report, and an advance was also made in the education of Mahomedans and of low castes and aborigines. Physical education continued to gain in popularity both with the people and the scholars.

CHAPTER I.

PHYSICAL AND POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Information regarding the following six Sections will be found on reference to pages 1 to 20 of the Administration Report for 1882-83 :—

Section I.—Physical Features, &c.
„ II.—Historical Summary.
„ III.—Form of Administration.
„ IV.—Character of Land Tenures.
„ V.—Civil Divisions.
„ VI.—Details of last Census.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

2. The Resident, Mr. J. G. Cordery, M.A., C.S.I., was absent on furlough for six months from the 7th April 1886, and was relieved by Colonel E. C. Ross, C.S.I., who held charge of the Administration till Mr. Cordery's return in October 1886.

Mr. J. R. FitzGerald continued to hold the office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar till the 13th October 1886, when he was compelled from ill health to proceed to Europe, making over charge of his office to Lieutenant W. H. Cornish, the Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar. This officer officiated until the 1st November 1886, when Mr. A. H. Martindale, of the Madras Civil Service, was appointed First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar.

Lieutenant W. H. Cornish held the appointment of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary throughout the year, with the exception of three months, when he was on special duty in Kashmir.

SECTION VIII.

Relations with Tributary States and Frontier Affairs.

3. There is nothing to record under this head.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Forest Survey.

4. Satisfactory progress was made by the Forest Survey Party now working in the Melghat Hills. Up to the 30th April 1887, the total area plane-tabled was 337 square miles, whilst 383 square miles were triangulated and a sufficient area traversed to provide the plane-tablers with work. The whole of the Melghat is now completely triangulated, as well as the Binjara jagir. The topographical survey of the Gugumal and greater part of the Bairagarh reserve was also completed.

The long-pending settlement of the provincial boundary common to the Melghat in Berar and the Betul District in the Central Provinces was concluded during the year and accepted by both Administrations.

Revenue Survey.

5. In paragraph 5 of the report for the past year allusion was made to the appointment of an officer for the survey and settlement of unoccupied lands and leased villages in the Wun and Basim Districts. During the months of April and May 4,598 acres were assessed at a cost of Rs. 1,082; field work was stopped during the monsoon, and the rains were devoted to the recruiting of the establishment, collection of instruments, and so forth. The work done from November 1886 to March 1887 by the establishment is given below:—

	Wun District.	Basim District.
Numbers of fields measured ...	509, or 13,460 acres.	549, or 14,816 acres.
Do. classed ...	361, or 8,640 „	444, or 11,662 „

The average number of working days for measurement was 23·74, and for classification 6·40. The average work done by each measurer per day was 58·5 acres, and by each classer 154·39 acres. 60¾ days were devoted to boundary mark inspection, and 166½ days to the inspection and valuation of izara villages whose leases had fallen in. The total expenditure in conducting the operations was Rs. 17,867-3-10, of which Rs. 14,968-15-1 were on account of salaries. With reference to these figures, the Commissioner of the Province writes:—"I am afraid the result has not been as good as might have been expected, but there have been considerable difficulties to contend with, first, in collecting an efficient establishment of measurers and classers, and secondly, in keeping them together when recruited in an unhealthy and feverish country like Wun. One classer and one measurer died, while three others, after being reduced by fever, absconded, leaving their work undone, and naturally successors to these men were not easily obtainable."

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

6. The number of leased villages fell from 534 to 513. The area of all these villages fell from 954,525 acres to 920,861, but the rental rose from Rs. 72,395 to Rs. 79,763.

SECTIONS III and IV.

7. There are no Wards' or Government Estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Course of Legislation.

Acts introduced.

8. As stated in the last Report, there is no legislating authority for the Hyderabad Assigned Districts; such of the Acts passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor General of India as are considered applicable to the province, are extended under the authority of the Government of India as occasion arises. In this way, the following Acts were made applicable to Berar during the year:—

(1.) Act X of 1886 (an Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure and certain other Acts).

(2.) The Local Authorities' Loan Act, 1879, as amended by Act XV of 1885.

(3.) Sections 188 to 192 (inclusive) of Act V (The Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879).

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

9. During the year there was an addition of 1 Inspector, 2 Head Constables and 8 Constables to the strength of the Police in the province. The Inspector was for the Basim District, and the Head Constables and Constables for the two out-posts recently formed to protect the south-east corner of that district. With this increase the total strength of the force, including gazetted officers and the Town and the Railway Police, amounted to 2,762 and stood as under:—

Inspector General	...	...	...	...	1
District and Assistant Superintendents			...	...	8
Subordinate officers on Rs. 100 and upwards			...	...	18
Do.	on less than Rs. 100		...	...	501
Police { Mounted	...	...	...	...	40
Police { Foot	...	...	...	...	2,194
				Total ...	2,762

Excluding the Inspector General and District and Assistant Superintendents, this gives one policeman to an area of 6·4 square miles and to every 969* persons of the population.

Composition of the Force.

10. The sanctioned strength of the police is 2,762, but owing to the difficulty in obtaining recruits, the force was short of its full number by 34. With a steady demand for labour and fairly prosperous times, appointments in the Berar police are not readily sought after. The composition of the force was as under:—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	16	9
Mahomedans	176	925
Brahmins	174	406
Rajputs	38	171
Sikhs	12	12
Hindus of all other castes ...	108	681
	524	2,204

Conduct and discipline.

11. Punishments, departmental and judicial, were 332 and 50 respectively during the year 1886, as compared with 334 and 56 in 1885. Against the punishments inflicted by District Superintendents, 32 appeals were preferred, and in 24 cases the orders were upheld. Eighty-five constables were rewarded for good conduct, of whom 30 received promotion and 55 money rewards.

Resignations and entertainments, &c.

12. Two hundred and ninety-five persons left the department from various causes, and there were 348 new entertainments, against 274 in the previous year. Of those that left the force, 45 retired from the service on pension or gratuity, 132 resigned, 60 were dismissed and 34 discharged, 2 deserted and 22 died. With regard to service, in addition to the 348 recruits, there were 1,259 men with service ranging from 1 to 10 years, and 1,113 of over 10 years' service.

Equipment.

13. Leaving out of account Assistant Superintendents and superior officers, 1,383 members of the force were provided with fire-arms, 485 with swords or with swords and batons, and 885 with batons only.

State of crime.

14. The number of cognizable offences reported during the year was 7,792; eliminating from this the 151 cases that were rejected as false, the total number of offences that came under investigation was 7,641, of which 2,941 were petty nuisances. A comparison of the statistics for the past two years shows a decrease in each class of crimes as under:—

	1885.	1886.
Class I—Offences against the State and public tranquillity	104	98
„ II—Serious offences against the person ...	321	249
„ III—Serious offences against person and property or property only	1,379	1,055
„ IV—Minor offences against the person ...	281	178
„ V— Do. against property ...	3,551	2,849
„ VI—Other offences	3,506	3,212

There was no variation in the prices of food-grains, and the decrease may fairly be credited to a more efficient administration and to increased zeal and activity in the force.

Basim alone shows an increase in the first class of crimes. In that district cases of rioting rose from 3 to 12, but probably most of these were not true cases, for out of 59 persons arrested in cases taken up by Magistrates direct, 52 were acquitted or discharged. It is also satisfactory to note that, notwithstanding the festivals of the Dassera and the Mohurrum fell together this year, no rioting occurred.

Heinous crime.

15. Proceeding to the more heinous crimes, it is found that there were only 23 murders, against 27 in the previous year. It may here be noted, with reference to the Proceedings of the Government of India No. $\frac{1}{67-77}$, dated 17th January 1887, that there were no convictions for murders of illegitimate children.

Dakaitis fell from 12 to 6, robberies from 31 to 24, burglaries or house-breakings from 1,190 to 909, and thefts from 2,934 to 2,301.

16. The number of thefts, classified according to the value of property stolen, are thus compared for the last two years :— Thefts.

	1885.	1886.
Under Rs. 10 ...	2,090	1,599
From Rs. 10 to Rs. 100	716	586
From Rs. 100 to Rs. 1,000	127	113
Over Rs. 1,000 ...	1	3

17. The following table shows the result of the working of the police during the last two years :— Police action.

Cases.

	1885.	1886.
(a) Cases occurred inclusive of old cases investigated during the year and pending from previous year ...	9,280	7,770

(j) Of those arrested by the police, convicted by Magistrate, by Sessions or High Court	5,410	...	4,941
(k) Property stolen ... ... Rs.	1,72,799	...	1,41,369
(l) Property recovered ... ... ,,	46,027	...	43,011
(m) Percentage of recoveries ... ,,	26·6	...	30·4

Although these comparative results are satisfactory in regard to the province as a whole, there is still room for improvement in some districts.

18. The total number of non-cognizable cases was 5,933, against 6,610 in the previous year, of which 5,897 were instituted by complaint and 36 by Magistrates of their own motion. In 76 of the total number of cases the police were employed to make enquiry. Processes were issued against 12,062 persons, of whom 4,336 were convicted. Non-cognizable crime.

19. The subject of the recognition of old offenders has received careful attention for many years past. A record of every conviction of a cognizable offence is maintained at police stations, and the police are instructed to apply for an adjournment of a case if there is reason to suspect that the person arrested has been previously convicted. Old offenders.

20. During the year under report, for the first time, it was found practicable to have the uniform of each district made up at the head-quarters of the district instead of at Amraoti, and the new arrangement is considered more satisfactory in every way. Police clothing.

21. In future each police station will be provided with an almirah, a table, and a chair. To meet this cost, the necessary provision has been made in the budget. Furniture.

22. There is nothing particular to note regarding the Railway Police. Railway Police.

The following table compares the working for two years :—

		1885.	1886.
Cases	Occurred	43	46
	Detected	22	23
Persons	Arrested	43	43
	Convicted	31	27
Value of property.	Stolen	Rs. 1,160	942
	Recovered	,, 341	551

Compilation of Police Orders.

23. All the police orders issued since 1863 have been revised and compiled by Colonel Lane, the Inspector General, and, with the Resident's sanction, published in a single volume for the use and guidance of the officers of the department.

Relation between the Police and the Magistracy.

24. The relations between the Magistracy and the Police have continued to be satisfactory.

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

Tribunals.

25. There were 67 Courts for the disposal of criminal work, against 74 in the preceding year, viz. :—

1	Resident's Court (High Court).
1	Judicial Commissioner's Court (Sessions Court).
6	Deputy Commissioners exercising powers under Section 30 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.
15	First Class Magistrates.
23	Second Class Magistrates.
4	Third Class Magistrates.
17	Special Magistrates.
Total ... 67

Amount of crime.

26. The following comparative statement shows the number of offences reported during the year, the number dismissed under Section 203, Criminal Procedure Code and struck off the register, and the number returned as true :—

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under Section 203.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.
		No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.
1885	18,143	1,655	9·1	740	4·1	15,748	86·8
1886	16,017	2,104	13·2	742	4·6	13,171	82·2

The following table, abstracted from Imperial Statement No. II, shows the various classes of offences returned as true for the last two years :—

	1886.	1885.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the State	...	...	...	...
Do. relating to the Army and Navy ...	...	...	...	...
Do. against the public tranquillity ...	117	126	...	9
Do. by, or relating to, public servants ...	16	14	2	...
Contempts of the lawful authority of servants ...	428	306	122	...
False evidence and offences against public justice ..	68	66	2	...
Offences relating to coin and Government stamps...	12	20	...	8
Do. relating to weights and measures ...	73	31	42	...
Do. affecting the public health, safety, convenience, decency, and morals ...	324	244	80	...
Do. relating to religion	9	14	...	5
Total ...	1,047	821	248	22
Offences affecting human body	3,641	4,600	...	959
Do. against property	4,201	5,272	...	1,071
Do. not included in the above	196	309	...	113
Do. under special and local laws	4,086	4,746	...	660
Grand total ...	13,171	15,748	248	2,825

It will be seen from the above that there was a marked increase in cases of contempt of the lawful authority of public servants, which was due to the very large number of such cases dealt with by the Deputy Commissioner of Basim. Offences relating to weights and those affecting the public health, &c., also increased.

On the other hand, there is a decrease of 26·3 per cent. in offences affecting the human body and of 25·5 in those against property. Offences under special and local laws also show a considerable decrease.

For the first time since 1883 thefts show a considerable decrease. In 1883 the number of thefts was 2,490, in 1884 2,717, in 1885 2,946, and in 1886 2,318. There were only 22 cases of murder as against 34 in the previous year. Cases of robbery and dakaiti fell from 32 and 11 in 1885 to 24 and 5 respectively in 1886. These figures are satisfactory.

The total number of persons brought to trial during the year, including those pending at the close of the year, was 20,243 as compared with 23,545 in 1885. Of these, 20,167, or 99·6 per. cent., were disposed of during the year as under :—

Died, &c.	408, or 2·0	per cent.
Discharged or acquitted ...	9,498, or 47·1	„
Convicted	10,051, or 49·8	„
Committed and referred ...	210, or 1·1	„

27. The following statement shows the proportions in which the work was disposed of by the various Courts during the last three years :— Distribution work.

	Cases disposed of.			Percentage.
	1886.	1885.	1884.	1886.	1885.	1884.
Deputy Commissioners	493	430	364	4·3	3·2	3·1
Assistant Commissioners	783	830	994	6·7	6·3	8·4
Attachés	154	157	379	1·3	1·2	3·2
Assistant Conservator of Forests ...	5	7	3	...	...	...
Extra Assistant Commissioners	1,162	589	473	10·	4·4	4·0
Tahsildars	5,708	6,526	5,137	49·2	49·0	43·3

It will be seen that the Deputy Commissioners disposed of a slightly larger share of the criminal work, and that the proportion which fell to the Extra Assistant Commissioners was much increased; at the same time the rise is also partially accounted for by an increase in their number. As usual the Tahsildars did most of the work, but the cases that came to them were of a simple character.

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

28. The number of cases dealt with by the Deputy Commissioners under Section 34 of the Criminal Procedure Code was 72 as against 103 in 1885. The number of persons concerned was 107, of whom only 39 were convicted. They were sentenced as follows :—

Fined	...	...	...	1
Flogged	...	...	..	5
Imprisoned	...	..	...	33

Summary trials.

29. Four hundred and sixty-three cases involving 655 persons were disposed of summarily during the year as against 424 cases with 511 persons in 1885. 586 persons were convicted and 69 acquitted or discharged.

Jurisdiction over European British subjects.

30. During the year under report six cases involving seven European British subjects came before the Magistrates. Six out of these seven persons were convicted and punished with fines, and one was acquitted.

The following statement shows the punishments inflicted by the various criminal tribunals in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year under report :—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total number of persons punished.	Persons sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

	1886	10,845	4	9	1,754	268	7,871	278	619	42

Fines.

31. The amount of fines imposed was Rs. 61,939 as against Rs. 66,077 in 1885. The percentage of realizations was 70·9 as compared with 73·9 in the preceding year, but the proportion relinquished fell from 9·3 to 7·6.

Witnesses.

32. The number of witnesses who attended the Criminal Courts during the year was 34,832 as against 43,683 in the previous year; of the former, 27,514, or 78·9 per cent., were discharged after 1 day's attendance; 5,174, or 14·9 per cent., after two days; 1,447, or 4·2 per cent., after 3 days; and 697, or 2·0 per cent., were detained for more than 3 days.

Proportion of offenders and witnesses to population.

33. The proportion of persons tried for offences to the population was 1 in 132 as against 1 in 114, and that of witnesses 1 in 76 as against 1 in 61 in the preceding year.

Duration of trials.

34. The average duration of cases disposed of by the magistrates was 5·5 as compared with 6·0 in the year previous.

Sessions Court.

35. Fifty-nine persons including one awaiting trial at the close of the preceding year were tried by the Sessions Court during the year as against 60 persons in 1885. Of these, 11 were acquitted or discharged, 20 convicted, and 28 remained awaiting trial at the end of the year.

Four persons were sentenced to be hanged, and nine to transportation for life. Seven persons were sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for various terms.

The average duration of sessions trials from the date of receipt of the committing magistrate's proceedings to date of final order was 38·9 days as compared with 36·3 days in 1885.

The Deputy Commissioners disposed of 302 appeals as against 320 in 1885, and the Judicial Commissioner 155 as against 164.

Appeals.

36. The following statement shows the result of the appeals disposed of both by the Deputy Commissioners and the Judicial Commissioner:—

	Appeals rejected.	Sentences confirmed.	Sentences reduced.	Sentences reversed.	Proceedings quashed.	Total.
By Deputy Commissioners ...	138	59	40	62	3	302
By Judicial Commissioner ...	110	16	11	18	...	155

The average duration of appeals in the Deputy Commissioners' and Judicial Commissioner's Courts was 11·1 and 18·9 days respectively, the figures for the previous year being 13·9 and 17·4.

Including 5 pending from 1885, there were 35 appeals preferred to the Resident's Court. Of these, 27 were rejected summarily, in 3 cases the orders of the lower Courts were confirmed, and in 3 cases the sentences were reduced. Two cases remained pending at the close of the year. 48 cases came before the Resident as a Court of Revision with the following result:—

Rejected	25
Sentence confirmed	5
Do. reduced	4
Do. enhanced	1
Do. reversed	1
Proceedings quashed	6
New trial ordered	1

SECTION IV.

Prisons.

Jail population.

37. The year 1886 commenced with a population of 1,118 prisoners and closed with a total of 1,143. The admissions amounted to 3,015 against 3,230 in 1885. The direct admissions of convicts fell from 1,929 to 1,751, and of under-trial prisoners from 1,089 to 984. These results correspond to the statistics of crime as noticed in the section on Criminal Justice. The daily average strength rose from 1047·16 to 1088·44. This is partly due to an increase in the percentage of convicts admitted with longer sentences of imprisonment and to a corresponding decrease in the percentage admitted with shorter terms.

Number of convicts and their disposal.

38. Taking convicts alone, the figures below show the number in the jails and how they were disposed of during the year:—

Remaining at the end of 1885	1,091
Received from other jails	226
Imprisoned during the year	1,751

These were thus disposed of:—

Transferred to other jails	191
Released on appeal	67
Do. on expiry of sentence	1,529
Do. under remission rules	164
Do. by order of Government	7
Executed	1
Died	12
Remaining at the end of the year...	1,097

Classification of convicts.

39. Of the convicts admitted into jail, 1,627 were males and 124 females. The number of Christians was the same as in last year, viz., 1 (native); the number of Mahomedans, 291; Hindus and Sikhs, 1,452; and of all other religions 7. According to age, the great proportion of those admitted (1,476) were between 16 and 40 years. Of the females, 86 were married, 1 unmarried, 29 were widows and 8 prostitutes.

Previous occupation of convicts.

40. The following table shows the occupation followed by prisoners previous to their admission into jail:—

Persons employed under Government or Municipal or other local authorities	68
Professional persons	20
Persons in service or performing personal offices	78
Do. engaged in agriculture, &c.	342
Do. commerce and trade	71
Do. employed in mechanical arts, manufactures and engineering operations, &c.	11
Miscellaneous persons not classed otherwise	1,037

Nature and length of sentence.

41. Of the 1,751 convicts admitted, 131 were sentenced to simple and 1,381 to rigorous imprisonment, 196 to rigorous imprisonment with solitary confinement, and 43 to rigorous imprisonment with whipping. The following figures show the terms to which the 1,751 convicts were sentenced:—

Not exceeding 1 year	1,515
Above 1 year and not exceeding 5 years	210
Do. 5 years do. 10 do.	12
Exceeding 10 years	1
Sentenced to transportation	9
Do. to death	4

Previous convictions.

42. Two hundred and ninety, or 16·5 per cent. of admissions, had been previously convicted. Of these, 181 had been convicted once before, 55 twice, and 54 more than twice. 242 were recognized before and 41 after admission, while 7 confessed, without recognition, to previous convictions.

Escapes and recaptures.

43. There were no escapes of convicts from jail during the year. Two attempted to escape, but were caught within jail precincts. Two under-trial prisoners escaped and have not been re-captured.

Offences and punishments.

44. During the year 438 offences against jail discipline are recorded as compared with 332 in 1885. Of the 438 offences, 5 were criminal cases dealt with by the magistracy, and the remainder were breaches of the jail rules, such as smoking or having possession of forbidden articles, offences relating to work, and the like. In 173 cases the convicts were merely cautioned, and in the others the prisoners were sentenced to solitary confinement, to reduced diet, or to both, or to corporal punishment. In regard to the last description of punishment, the Inspector-General of Jails writes :—"Corporal punishments rose from 14 to 21. "The circumstances attending every offence for which corporal punishment is "inflicted are reported to me monthly in detail. Scrutiny of these records has "resulted in my finding that in only 3 cases of the 21 might some other form "of punishment better have been awarded."

Jail schools.

45. Instruction is imparted to convicts who are sentenced to imprisonment exceeding two years. On an average, 109 of this class were under instruction daily in the two Central Jails. 76 of those under instruction were released during the year, and of these 26 were able to read and write well, and 35 had made some progress.

Convict officers.

46. Ninety-four male and 4 female convicts were employed as convict officers during the year. 23 of the former and 1 of the latter were punished by reduction or otherwise. In the year 1885 there were only 67 male convicts thus employed. This system was reported by the Inspector-General of Jails to have worked well, but on a reference made by the Resident with regard to certain points connected with jail administration in India raised by the Surveyor-General of Prisons in England, the same officer asserted that he had abandoned his original view and was in favour of the abolition of the system altogether. The Resident, however, considered that from a disciplinary and financial point of view it might be continued with some limitations, and recorded this opinion in his reply to the letter from the Government of India on the subject.

Mark system.

47. The mark system was for the first time worked in its entirety during the year under report, with the result that only two of the convicts who came under it failed to gain remission. The maximum remission gained by any convict released during the year was 153 days. In connection with the working of the system, the Inspector-General writes:—"I have satisfied myself during my "inspection that convicts understand the benefits they can gain by it. I am also "convinced that they appreciate these benefits and work to gain them. No "stronger argument is needed to dispose of the statement often made that convicts "are so comfortable in jail that they have no wish to leave it than the fact that "convicts work hard to gain remission and to shorten their sentences."

Occupation of convicts.

48. The average number of convicts under sentence of labour on working days rose from 862·93 in 1885 to 893·88 in the year under report. The statement below furnishes details as to employment, &c.:—

On unremunerative labour	3·80
„ prison duties	405·64
„ jail buildings	54·14
„ manufactures	397·23
„ public works	0·63
Hired out to Municipalities, &c.	0·36
Sick	12·13
Convalescent and infirm	19·95

Manufactures.

49. The forms of labour underwent no change. In the two Central Jails the chief industries were (1) weaving material for police uniforms and (2) lithographing forms for Government departments; and in the District Jails stone-breaking, brick-making, oil-pressing, and making gunny cloth. The net cash earnings of prisoners employed on manufactures, &c., were Rs. 11,395, or Rs. 445 more than the previous year. The average earnings per head of those sentenced to labour was Rs. 11-1-0 as compared with Rs. 10-15-0 in 1885, while the earnings per head of those employed on jail manufactures alone fell from Rs. 29-10-0 to Rs. 28-11-0. The best results are to be noticed in the Yeotmal Jail, where the earnings per head from manufactures were Rs. 62-15-0.

Health.

50. The Buldana Jail was the only one in which there was over-crowding, and this was met by providing accommodation in tents and in the hospital. The matter is receiving attention. This, however, did not interfere with the health or the sanitary condition of the jail, and here, as elsewhere in Berar, the convicts enjoyed good health as is clear from the following figures:—

Average daily strength	1045·35	1086·75
Number admitted into hospital	577	537
Average daily sick	14·68	12·69
Total deaths	20	12

The only noticeable feature regarding the 12 deaths above recorded was an outbreak of remittent fever in the Akola Jail in August, which caused five deaths. As regards admissions from different diseases, the figures present no abnormal features requiring special notice. Of the convicts released during the year, 70·7 per cent. gained and 16·8 lost weight, while 11·9 per cent. exhibited no change. Eleven convicts were not weighed.

Expenditure.

51. With an increase in the daily average strength, the total expenditure incurred in guarding and maintaining the prisoners rose from Rs. 63,535 to Rs. 65,143, but the average cost per head fell from Rs. 60-12-5 to Rs. 59-15-1.

SECTION V.

Civil Justice.

Tribunals.

52. The number of Civil Courts open at the close of 1886 in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was as follows:—

	1886.	1885.
The High Court of the Resident	1	1
The Court of the Judicial Commissioner	1	1
Courts of the Civil Judges of the 6th grade ...	7	7
Do. do. 5th do. ...	10	10
Do. do. 4th do. ...	3	4
Do. do. 3rd do. ...	6	6
Do. do. 2nd do. ...	2	2
Do. do. 1st do. ...	5	5
Courts of Small Causes	3	3
Total ...	38	39

No. of suits instituted.

53. The total number of suits of all kinds instituted was 25,970 as against 22,775 in 1885, showing an increase of 14 per cent.

Classification of suits.

54. A classification of the suits instituted gives the following results for the past two years:—

	1886.	1885.
Contracts in writing	14,749	12,594
Do. not in writing	2,680	2,455
On account stated	4,197	3,471
Money had and received	160	88
Goods sold	610	629
Wages, work and material	192	212
Rent not falling under Rent Law	433	199
Moveable property or its value	447	731
Damages	215	157
Other suits for money or moveables not already mentioned	217	282
Suits relating to marriage	53	79
Immoveable property	1,137	1,148
Other suits	880	730
Total ...	25,970	22,775

Of the total number of suits instituted in 1886, 22,396, or 86·2 per cent., were for money due as compared with 98 per cent. in 1885. Of these, 14,749 were suits on contracts in writing. Suits relating to marriage decreased from 79 to 53, or 33 per cent.

Value and cost of suits.

55. Excluding suits, the money-value of which cannot be stated, the total value of suits instituted during the year was Rs. 27,79,560-1-10, against Rs. 23,64,787-9-11 in the previous year, or an increase of Rs. 4,14,772-7-11. The average value was Rs. 108-1-2, being almost the same as that in 1885.

The average cost of each suit was Rs. 13-7-2, and the percentage of costs to value was Rs. 14-6-5.

The relative value of suits disposed of during the year 1886 is given below:

Value of suits.					No. of suits disposed of.
Not exceeding Rs.	10	...	...		1,772
Do. „	50	...	...		12,099
Do. „	100	...	...		5,877
Do. „	500	...	...		5,632
Do. „	1,000	...	...		550
Do. „	5,000	...	...		223
Do. „	10,000	...	...		15
Exceeding „	10,000	...	...		7
			Total	...	26,175

The number of suits the value of which cannot be ascertained in money was 511, against 369 in 1885.

Disposal of suits.

56. Including 2,992 suits pending, 558 re-admitted, and 1,367 received by transfer, the courts had altogether 30,887 suits before them during the year, showing an increase of 9·9 per cent. Of these, 26,686, or 86·4 per cent., were disposed of.

The general results of the trial of suits disposed of, excluding cases transferred, are shown below :—

	Number of suits.	Proportion per cent.	Corresponding proportion in 1885.
Contested—
Judgment given for plaintiff in whole or in part ...	5,330	20·0	23·1
Defendant in whole	1,296	4·8	4·9
Total ...	6,626	24·8	28·0
Without contest—
Decreed on confession	9,227	34·6	33·9
Compromised	3,732	13·9	13·5
Decreed ex parte	4,559	17·1	15·6
Dismissed ex parte	175	0·7	0·7
Total ...	17,693	66·3	63·7
Without trial—
Dismissed for default	1,941	7·2	6·6
Withdrawn	341	1·3	1·1
Rejected or returned	44	0·2	0·4
By arbitration	4	0·2	0·2
Grand Total ...	26,686	100	100·0

Decrees ex parte increased from 15·6 in 1885 to 17·1 in 1886, and suits dismissed for default also increased from 6·6 to 7·2. The percentage of contested suits was only 24·8, against 28·0 in the previous year.

Work done by each class of court.

57. Excluding suits disposed of by the Small Cause Courts and suits transferred, the judicial work of the year was disposed of by the different grades of officers as stated below :—

Number of officers employed on civil work.		Grades of officers.	Percentage of work done.
1886.	1885.		1886.	1885.
6	6	Deputy Commissioners	0·2	0·5
8	10	Assistant Commissioners	6·3	24·2
3	5	Attachés	7·5	12·1
16	10	Extra Assistant Commissioners ...	72·0	45·4
9	8	Tahsildars	14·0	17·8
42	39		100·0	100·0

The most noticeable feature in the statement is the large proportion of work done by Extra Assistant Commissioners and the sensible relief thereby afforded to Tahsildars in judicial work.

Average duration.

58. The average duration of contested cases increased from 65·5 days to 78·2 days, and that of non-contested cases from 34·4 to 36·7 days.

Witnesses.

59. The number of witnesses who attended the courts was 43,193, of whom 40,038 were detained for one day, 2,111 for two days, and 1,044 for three days and upwards. The number of witnesses examined was 20,244.

Execution of decrees.

60. There were 27,702 applications for execution of decrees, of which 21,929, or 79·1, were disposed of. The corresponding figures for the past year were 24,488 and 19,605, or 80 per cent. The details of disposal during the past two years are given below :—

	1885.	1886.
Completely executed	20·6	20·1
Partially executed	17·6	17·9
Struck off without execution	52·1	57·1
Transferred	9·7	4·9

61. The total amount realized in execution of money decrees was Rupees 2,57,058-6-1, of which Rupees 9,779-15-3 were paid in voluntarily and Rupees 2,47,278-6-10 after issue of process.

Moveable property was attached in 3,261 cases, in 1,761 of which the property was sold, and in 1,500 the attachment was subsequently removed. There were 2,241 instances of attachment of immoveable property, against 2,177 in 1885. In 1,142 of these, sales were effected as against 1,019 in the previous year.

Land paying revenue to Government was attached in 1,119 cases, being 5 less than in 1885, and sales were actually effected in 101 cases only. In 52 instances of these self-acquired, and in 49 ancestral property was sold.

Temporary alienation of land was made in 145 cases by the Deputy Commissioners as Collectors under Section 323 of the Civil Procedure Code. The alienations exceeded 10 years in 17 cases. In 1885 the number was 28.

Civil debtors.

62. There were 156 civil debtors in prison during the year including 6 remaining from last year. Of these, 139 were released during the year, and 17 were remaining at its close.

Insolvency applications.

63. There were 47 applications under Chapter XX of Act XIV of 1882 for a declaration of insolvency, against 48 in the previous year. Eight applications were granted, in 4 cases a receiver was appointed, and the amount of creditors' claims admitted during the year was Rs. 5,330-14-9, as against Rs. 1,495-2-6 in 1885.

Processes.

64. The number of processes issued during the year was 220,232, against 198,835 in 1885, and the fees realized therefrom amounted to Rs. 84,561-13-0, against Rs. 96,407-10-0 in 1885. The total expenditure on the process-serving establishment was Rs. 57,922-14-7, leaving a net surplus of Rs. 27,364-14-11, or Rs. 12,402-7-8 less than the corresponding figure for the previous year.

The sale of court fee stamps in the Civil, Criminal, and Revenue Courts of the province realized Rs. 2,62,867-5-0, against Rs. 2,39,763-4-0 in 1885.

Appellate business.

65. The number of appeals that came up for disposal before the Deputy Commissioners including those pending at the close of the preceding year amounted to 433. Of these, 398 were disposed of, leaving a balance of 35 pending at the close of the year. They were disposed of as follows:—

Rejected under Section 551	136
Dismissed for default	10
Confirmed ex parte	1
Do, after contest	79
Reversed	80
Remanded	60

In addition to the above, there were 27 miscellaneous appeals, 26 of which were disposed of.

The average duration of appeals in the Deputy Commissioners' Courts fell from 63·6 days in 1885 to 55·5 days.

Including 26 pending at the commencement of the year, there were in all 256 appeals in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner, against 334 in 1885. Of these, 165 were disposed of as follows:—

Rejected under Section 551	82
Dismissed for default	3
Confirmed	29
Remanded	14

The average duration in this Court was 76·8 days as against 85·5 in the previous year.

Appeals to the Resident.

66. In the Court of the Resident 27 second appeals were presented during the year, which, with 28 pending from the previous year, made 55 appeals in all. In 15 of these the decision was confirmed, in 2 modified, and in 3 reversed. 14 appeals were rejected at the first hearing, and 4 were dismissed for default. There were also 12 applications under Section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Of these, 7 were rejected, in 3 the decision was confirmed, 1 was dismissed for default, and 1 remained pending at the close of the year.

SECTION VI.

Registration.

No. of offices.

67. Including the offices of the Inspector-General and Inspector, there were 62 registration offices in the province at the close of 1886 as against 60 in the preceding year. This gives one Sub-Registrar's office to every 295 square miles and to every 44,545 of the population. The various classes of registration offices are as follows:—

1. District Registrars	6
2. Tahsildars as Sub-Registrars or ex-officio Sub-Registrars	8
3. Honorary Magistrates as Sub-Registrars ...	2
4. Special Sub-Registrars	29
5. Rural Sub-Registrars	15

Registration work.

68. The total number of documents registered fell from 26,632 in 1885-86 to 25,088. But in 1885-86 the number of registrations was abnormally high, and the figures for the year under report are the highest that have been attained since 1870-71, with the exception above noted.

The following is a comparison of the figures for the past three years:—

	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.
Compulsory	16,800	17,717	17,017
Optional	8,203	8,854	8,003
Wills and authorities to adopt ...	46	61	68
Total ...	25,049	26,632	25,088

Cause of decrease.

69. The decrease as compared with last year is chiefly noticeable in instruments of mortgage, the registration of which is compulsory, and also to a less extent in instruments of the same kind when registration is optional. The falling off is attributed to some extent to the year being "sinhast" or unpropitious for marriages.

Value of property registered.

70. Naturally, with the fall in the number of documents registered, the aggregate value of property transferred also fell from Rs. 59,43,641 to Rs. 57,59,199 in the year under report. Of the latter, Rs. 54,58,239 related to immoveable, and Rs. 3,00,960 to moveable property.

Classification of documents registered according to value.

71. The following figures give a comparison of the documents registered according to their value:—

	Moveable.		Immoveable.
	1885-86.	1886-87.	1885-86.	1886-87.
Value not exceeding Rs. 20	92	82	1,365	1,361

Documents in which value is not ascertainable ...	689	732	166	141
Total ...	2,217	2,063	24,415	23,025

Despatch of work.

72. The promptness with which work was done during the past two years will be seen from the following figures:—

	1885-86.	1886-87.
Registration completed on day of presentation... ...	24,105	22,978
Do. on day after do ...	871	729
Do. after second day but within a week.	1,028	770
Do. after more than a week... ...	628	611
Total ...	26,632	25,088

Refusals to register.

73. There were 211 refusals to register; in 10 cases appeals were preferred, and in 6 of these registration was ordered.

Documents impounded.

74. The number of documents impounded by registering officers was 163. Of these, 42 were declared to be duly stamped, and in the case of 94, penalties were ordered to be levied. There were 27 documents pending disposal at the close of the year.

Financial results.

75. The income of the year was Rs. 55,952-7-0, against Rs. 59,838-6-3 in 1885-86, and the expenditure Rs. 36,318-8-7 as compared with Rs. 36,788-15-3. The net surplus was Rs. 19,633-14-5, or Rs. 3,415-8-7 less than in the preceding year.

The average cost of registering a document was Rs. 2-1-2, or 1 pie less than in 1885-86.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

Number and constitution.

76. During the year seven municipalities in the province were working under Act IV of 1873, viz., at Amraoti, Akola, Khamgaon, Shegaon, Akot, Ellichpur, and Basim. No Committee consisted of less than 5 members, and in the larger towns the members exceeded 15. In the seven Committees there were 109 members, of whom 23 were ex-officio, 78 nominated, and 8 elected. 43 of the total number were official and 66 non-official members, the European element forming 31 per cent.

Berar Municipal Law.

77. A new law entitled "The Berar Municipal Law, 1887," came into force on the 1st January 1887, but effect has not yet been given to it pending the preparation of subsidiary rules which are now under consideration.

Income and expenditure.

78. The sources of income are the same as those mentioned in previous reports excepting the water-tax, which has been levied at Amraoti and Khamgaon consequent on the introduction of the water works at those places. The total income and expenditure of the several municipalities for the past two years are contrasted below:—

	Income.		Expenditure.
	1885-86.	1886-87.	1885-86.	1886-87.
Amraoti	41,428	43,182	47,067	45,077
Akola	27,944	32,601	25,230	27,865
Khamgaon	38,806	34,380	28,501	28,633
Shegaon	8,301	7,312	3,867	7,736
Akot	6,740	9,670	6,588	7,461
Ellichpur	15,765	15,477	18,280	14,738
Basim	5,672	5,506	4,860	5,099
Total ...	1,44,656	1,48,128	1,34,393	1,36,609

The expenditure of the year was higher by Rs. 2,216 and was devoted to useful objects, such as drainage works, water-supply, conservancy, and other improvements conducive to the health of the people. Contributions to dispensaries were increased during the year from Rs. 3,909 to Rs. 4,858, and those to schools and libraries by the large sum of Rs. 2,888. As the principal and m urgent wants for sanitation and other necessities of daily life are gradually sa fied, more funds will be set free by municipalities for educational and med purposes.

Much interest is said to have been displayed by the non-official members generally in matters relating to the well-being of the community, with the exception of the Basim District, concerning which it is reported "that the Ward Commissioners take little or no interest whatever in their work."

SECTION VIII.

Military.

79. The military force stationed in the province belonged to the Hyderabad Contingent, and was located at the following places:—

Ellichpur with a strength of 126 Artillery, 76 Cavalry, and 523 Infantry.

Akola with 160 of Infantry.

Amraoti with 104 of do.

The force was below its normal strength consequent on field operations in Burmah, in which two regiments of Infantry and one of Cavalry were engaged.

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

80. During the year under notice mistakes have been detected and corrected in the total area of the province, the result being a net decrease of 595 acres. The following is a distribution of the total area:—

	Acres.
Village sites, tanks, rivers, &c.	200,589
State forests	279,513
Babul buns	15,670
Rumnahs or grass lands	37,152
District reserved forests	194,421
Fields assigned for free grazing...	717,549
Do. for village purposes	59,029
Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing ...	819,702
Land assessed and available for occupation	7,957,535
	10,281,160

6,677 villages are included in the above area. Of the total area assessed and available for occupation 7,542,803 acres, or 19,158 acres more than in 1885-86, were occupied.

Cultivated area.

81. There is a decrease of 103,100 in the total area, i.e., 7,542,803 acres, available for cultivation. 6,455,279 acres were actually under crops. The decrease is attributed to the special circumstances of the season's rainfall, which tended generally to reduce the area under cultivation. The year was particularly unfavourable to kharif cultivation, and its area shows a large falling off of 51,234 acres. The deficiency was moreover not made good by the rabi area, which also shows a decrease of 49,905 acres.

Crops cultivated.

82. The following figures give the percentage of acreage under each of the chief kinds of crops to the total area for the past two years:—

	1885-86.	1886-87.
Jowari (great millet)	33·5	30·2
Wheat	12·3	14·4
Gram	3·3	3·9
Rice or paddy	·4	·3
Bajri (spiked millet)	1·4	1·2
Tur (cadjan pea)	2 8	2·8
Til (sesame)	2·2	2·9
Linseed	9·4	5·9
Cotton	29·6	32·

Irrigated area.

83. The area under irrigation diminished from 75,300 in 1885-86 to 67,115 in the year under report. Of the latter, 24,676 were under rice, 6,500 under wheat, 3,900 under sugar-cane, 900 under minor cereals, and the rest are classed as garden produce of various descriptions.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rain-fall.

84. The provincial average rain-fall of the year was 41·3 inches, or 4 inches and 48 cents more than in 1885-86. It ranged from 34·6 in the Akola to 52·61 in the Ellichpur District, the fall in the Amraoti, Basim, Buldana, and Wun Districts being respectively 37·90, 38·5, 39·80, and 41·7. "The chief characteristics," writes the Commissioner of the province, "of the rain-fall of the year were the "excellent falls early in the year, succeeded by an exceptionally long break which "occurred through September and the first half of October, followed by an extra-"ordinarily heavy downfall in the latter half of October. The rains began "early, and the fall during June and July was seasonable and sufficient; in "August they were somewhat scanty, but the comparative drought of the succeed-"ing month half injured the kharif crops, especially jowari, one of the principal "staples of the province."

Effect of rain-fall on the crops.

85. How the rains affected the crops will be gathered from the following extract from the last published Revenue Report:—

> The heavy rain in October secured the prospect of the rabi sowings, but did a considerable amount of damage wherever linseed had been previously sown. A large proportion of this area had to be ploughed up again, and was then sown with wheat. But the fresh sowings were made under far more favourable conditions, and this late rain also enabled the people to cultivate a large amount of wheat. The wheat crop in some places, particularly in Buldana, suffered from damp and cloudy weather which followed the late rains, having induced an attack of rust; but on the whole the result of both cotton and wheat crops in this year was decidedly above the average.

Prices of produce and labour.

86. The prescribed statement showing the prices of produce and labour will be found among the statistical returns. The year shows an advance in the average prices of agricultural produce. Wheat was sold at 17¾ seers, against 21 in 1885-86, and jowari at 29¼, against 31 seers. The increased price of the former is attributed to increased export, and that of the latter to the harvest in four districts having been an indifferent one.

English wheat cultivation.

87. Experiments were made during the year in two of the wheat-growing districts with English wheat-seed furnished by Messrs. Oakshot and Company of London, but in both the trial proved a failure inasmuch as the seeds did not germinate, and in the opinion of the Commissioner of the province "the seeds had for some cause lost their germinating powers before they were sown."

Experimental farms.

88. The two experimental farms were worked during the year, but without any particular results. This was due partly to unfavourable season and partly to the management of the farm at Amraoti having been in the hands of a young officer who had not sufficient experience in such matters. No experiments of importance were undertaken in these farms, and only the ordinary crops grown by cultivators were raised.

Agricultural stock.

89. The agricultural stock of the province is given below and, compared with the corresponding figures of 1885-86, there is an increase under all heads excepting buffaloes; the figures are not however reliable. Referring to this subject, the Commissioner of the province says: "Statistics of this nature "collected by ignorant and careless putwaris (village accountants) are always open "to question, and there is nothing to show in the district reports that the tahsil "establishments or the munsarims or any other agency have been employed to "check them. Measures must be taken to prevent such doubts being felt by "Deputy Commissioners in future."

	1885-86.	1886-87.
Cows and bullocks	1,618,392	1,667,730
Buffaloes	325,086	298,694
Sheep and goats	430,376	443,092
Carts	109,965	113,133
Ploughs	124,367	122,405

Veterinary Department.

90. In paragraph 91 of the last report mention was made of the sanction accorded by the Government of India to the establishment of a Civil Veterinary Department for the province, to the creation of six scholarships for pupils to study in the Bombay Veterinary College with a view to their ultimate employment in Berar, and to the extension of horse-breeding operations by the purchase of four stallions in addition to two already in the province. During the year under report full scope was given to the above measures. Mr. Cooper, the Veterinary Surgeon, took up his duties in October 1886, and, after visiting many villages in various parts of Berar, submitted a very careful report showing that rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease were only too common in almost every district. Mr. Cooper is reported to have made good use of his time in attending to the treatment of cattle affected by disease and instructing the people as to the measures to be taken when sickness breaks out among their cattle. "To the well-being of agriculture and general wealth of the country," writes the Commissioner, "in a small province like Berar, it will scarcely be credited that there exist the large number, at the very least, of 20 lakhs of horned cattle, on which, if the small average value of Rs. 20 is cast, the market value of such stock amounts to 400 lakhs of rupees. The saving therefore to the agriculturist that can be effected by the professional treatment of cattle-disease is one which thoroughly authorizes the expenditure of a far larger sum than is now asked for in the Civil Veterinary Department." The question is undoubtedly one of extreme importance here as elsewhere, but it is impossible to provide sufficient money from public funds to maintain a Veterinary Department on a large scale. All that the Government can hope to accomplish is to place the benefits of treatment and segregation before the people, who may then be induced to take a practical interest in these beneficial measures.

Horse-breeding.

91. Besides the treatment of cattle-disease, Mr. Cooper had the superintendence of the horse-breeding operations and of the 6 pony stallions allotted to the various districts. The success hitherto attained has been somewhat unequal, but progress is necessarily slow at first. In his report Mr. Cooper writes:

> During the cold season substantial advances should be made in Berar in the Department Horse-breeding Operations. The Superintendent, His Highness the Nizam's Stud, has offered to place a few horses for service in the province. This offer has been accepted, and we propose to select the horses at the Malegaon Horse Fair in December next. These stallions will be a valuable addition to the small stud at present located in the districts, and good results may be expected from the scheme, which will necessitate no other outlay than providing food and shelter for the extra animals.
> Stallions from His Highness the Nizam's stud.
> The Government of India has also sanctioned the transfer to Berar of two donkey stallions from the Department Horse-breeding Operations. They will arrive during the month of October, and we suggest that for some time they should march with this camp, as it will probably require some persuasion to induce the owners of small mares to allow them to be covered by a donkey. The natives of the Punjab and North-West Provinces are already awakening to the fact that a young mule is a far more valuable commodity than a diminutive pony foal. The Department Horse-breeding Operations merely stipulate that these animals shall be returned if the undertaking should prove unsuccessful.
> Initiation of mule-breeding.
> Covering and produce certificates have recently been introduced. They are almost identical with those in use in the Department Horse-breeding Operations. They are in triplicate, and bound in book form. At the time of service two copies of the covering certificate—one in English and another in the Vernacular—are handed to the owner of the mare. A counterfoil in English remains in the book for the information of officers concerned. The produce certificate is to be given to the owner and the counterfoil in the book filled in as soon as the birth of a foal is authenticated. By this means accurate information of the progress of horse-breeding operations in any particular district should be available at any time.
> Covering and produce certificates.

Land Improvement Act.

92. Cultivators did not avail themselves of the benefits of this Act as freely as in the two previous years. Only Rs. 9,425 were advanced under the Act, against Rs. 29,650 in 1885-86. Of the former, Rs. 3,800 were for wells, Rs. 5,525 for reclamation, &c., and Rs. 100 for drainage works.

SECTION III.

Horticulture.

93. The public gardens at the head-quarters of districts and tahsil stations continue to be supervised by the district officers and to be maintained from the local funds.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

94. Until November 1886 the superior staff of the Forest Department was not sufficient to provide an officer for each district. From that date each civil district has been placed under a District Forest Officer. At the close of the year the establishment was as follows:—1 Conservator in charge of the Circle, 2 Deputy Conservators, 1 Officiating Deputy Conservator, 1 Assistant Conservator, and 2 Sub-Assistant Conservators.

Forest area.

95. The area of forest lands in Berar for the past two years according to the classification recently ordered by the Government of India is given below:—

	Area in square miles.
	31st March 1886.	31st March 1887.
Reserved Forests	1,110	1,107
Village Forests ...	436	435
Unclassed State Forests and Waste Lands	2,796	2,599
	4,342	4,141

There is thus a falling off of 201 square miles, of which 197 are under the head of "unclassed state forests and waste lands," and were excluded mainly on account of land having been given up for cultivation.

Boundaries.

96. Satisfactory progress is reported as regards demarcation and boundary surveys, and attention has been paid to the maintenance of existing boundaries excepting in one district. A report on this subject has been called for.

It is also satisfactory to note that the settlement of the boundary between the Melghat and Betul District of the Central Provinces was completed during the year, and has been accepted by the Resident and the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.

Prosecutions.

97. Breaches of forest rules fell from 422 in 1885-86 to 406 in the year under report. Including those pending from the previous year, 404 cases involving 689 persons were disposed of, 309 ending in convictions and 95 in acquittals. There were 5 cases pending at the end of the year. Of the total number of offences, 285 were under the head of "unauthorized felling or appropriation of wood and minor forest produce."

Fire Protection.

98. The total area over which protection was attempted was 668,371 acres, and in 14,769 acres protection failed as against 28,342 acres in the previous year. These results are not unsatisfactory. The expenditure on the successfully protected area fell from Rs. 5-14-0 per square mile to Rs. 5-11-5. "One very striking and satisfactory result of continued protection from fire," writes the Conservator, "is that the stock of bamboos now standing in the Gugumal forest, and more especially in the Bairagarh forest, which has been longer protected, has improved vastly in quality. The bamboos throughout the Melghat is Dendrocalamus strictus.

In the unprotected forests the clumps show culms of small girth, of which about 100 go to the bullock-load. This used to be the load of bamboos from the Bairagarh forest 12 to 18 years ago. The bamboos in that forest have gradually increased in bulk till a very ordinary load for a bullock is now 30 to 40. This, there can be no doubt, is due entirely to immunity from fire."

Forest Law.

99. During the year the new Berar Forest Law, 1886, was published, but the necessary subsidiary rules under that Law had to be re-drafted, and are now under consideration.

Working plans.

100. The year under report is the first in which a preliminary working plan for two blocks measuring 84 square miles was drawn up. "The field work," writes the Conservator, "begun in March 1886, was completed on 15th May. The counting of rings for growth data and the working out of the various calculations were completed, and the plan submitted in September 1886."

Grazing.

101. Light grazing was, as in the previous year, permitted under careful supervision in the State reserves, and, in the opinion of the Conservator, with much advantage to the reproduction of young trees. The whole of the reserves outside of the Melghat are being carefully nursed. Specific proposals for their better management, for protection in certain cases, and the regulation of light grazing during part of the year were approved and put in force. No change was made during the year in the arrangements for grazing sales, and the right of grazing was again sold by auction in parts of four districts; this system will cease in the current year, and all grazing will be sold on passes in future.

Natural reproduction.

102. The account given of the progress of natural reproduction is decidedly satisfactory. On this subject the Forest Report says, "the continued success that has now for many years followed fire protection work is showing itself in the fact that natural reproduction throughout Berar, aided by light grazing outside of the Melghat, is almost everywhere most encouraging. There are some parts of the forests which, owing to dry and hungry soil or to very precipitous and stony hill sides, will never be worth much, but from all districts the reports are very cheering. The Conservator spent several days in the northern and central parts of the Gugumal forest and, after a careful inspection, is able to say that the natural reproduction here, aided to a small extent by sowings, is very good. In many parts the hill sides and valleys are thickly clothed with young teak, other valuable trees, and bamboos."

Artificial reproduction.

103. Operations in the way of artificial reproduction were insignificant, but, being expensive, they have to be carefully watched.

Communications and buildings.

104. Under this head there was an outlay of Rs. 11,335-7-2, against Rupees 12,627-14-7 in 1885-86. The chief item was for "repairs to roads," due to a heavy slip in the Melghat in August.

Rainfall in Melghat.

105. The Forest Report thus describes the rainfall of the year:—

"In 1885-86 the rain-fall as measured at Chikalda was 71·30; that for 1886-87 was 96·54. Of this total, 93·26 inches fell between 1st April and 31st October 1886, while on the 19th August alone 16·97 inches fell, nearly 5 inches having fallen the preceding day. This naturally damaged the forest roads, necessitated many repairs, broke up the working parties, and checked the progress of new roads. Between the 11th and 12th January 1·5 inches fell preceded by a great hail storm. This rain was general over the Melghat and the rest of the Ellichpur District, in the plains of which district more rain fell again during January, cutting up the cross roads, and by thus stopping wheel traffic for several days spoilt the wood bazaars and told at once on the exports of wood from the Melghat in a month when we ordinarily count on getting out and selling much wood."

Yield and working.

106. The departmental operations consisted in the felling of 3,472 trees at a cost of Rs. 647. These were all improvement fellings, and the whole of the trees sold to purchasers for Rs. 7,194, and were removed at the owners' expense. The yield under the several heads of forest produce is contrasted below for the past two years:—

	1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.
Timber	71,872	76,897
Firewood and charcoal ...	26,046	23,738
Bamboos	28,736	31,359
Grazing and fodder grass ...	1,72,254	1,72,249
Minor produce	15,235	18,785
Confiscated, drift, and waif wood	1,642	2,134
All other sources ...	4,262	1,285
	3,20,047	3,26,447

Although the quantity of bamboos brought for sale was less than the previous year owing to the unseasonable weather already alluded to and also to a large number of carts having been employed in carrying more timber out of the Melghat for the general public and for the piles of the bridge over the Purna river now under construction by the Public Works Department, yet the revenue derived from their sale was larger owing to the higher rate of royalty in force throughout the year.

Financial results.

107. The financial results show a gross revenue of Rs. 3,26,447 as compared with Rs. 3,20,047 in 1885-86, while the expenditure has risen from Rs. 1,59,035 to Rs. 1,71,510. The surplus is thus only Rs. 1,54,937, or Rs. 6,075 less than in the previous year. The main items of increase in expenditure are arrears paid during the year to village officials, the maintenance of an elephant transferred from the Revenue to the Forest Department, the purchase of new tents on formation of new district charges, the extension of plantations, and the travelling allowances of officers who were kept much on out-door duties to the benefit of the department. The revenue and expenditure of the different classes of forests for the two years are shown as under:—

	Revenue,		Expenditure.
	1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.	1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.
Reserved Forests ...	54,331	57,223	62,470	64,694
Village Forests ...	1,72,605	1,68,962	45,049	51,182
Unclassed State Forests and Waste Lands ...	93,111	1,00,262	51,516	55,634
	3,20,047	3,26,447	1,59,035	1,71,510

SECTION V.

Mines and Quarries.

108. There is no scope in the province for operations under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

109. Strictly speaking there are no skilled manufactures in Berar, but the most important of the foreign industries are the steam cotton presses, 18 of which were at work during the year and turned out 297,905 bales of cotton, against 212,773 in 1885-86. There is also an oil press at Amraoti, which manufactured 218 tons of linseed oil and 561 tons of oil-cake, and a flour mill, which turned out 850 candies of flour. The spinning mill at Badnera produced 1,635,864 lbs. of twist and yarn, as compared with 1,321,048 lbs. in the previous year. The number of persons employed by the last mill was 650, against 504 in 1885-86.

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Registration.

110. The statistics relating to trade solely refer to rail-borne traffic. They are, as stated in the last report, supplied by the Railway Audit Office, to which Rs. 720 are paid annually as the cost for registration.

Total trade.

111. The import and export trade of the province is compared in the following table for the past two years :—

	Weight in maunds.		Value in rupees.
	1885-86.	1886-87.	1885-86.	1886-87.

These figures show that the trade of the province is steadily increasing. Except from Bengal, imports increased particularly in value, while exports from the province towards the Bombay Port and the Bombay Presidency have risen considerably. On the whole both imports and exports increased by 20·6 and 22·4 per cent. in weight and by 11·03 and 29·2 per cent. respectively in value.

Principal articles imported and exported.

112. The principal articles imported and exported during the past two years are contrasted in the table below :—

Fairs.

113. There are 31 fairs in Berar lasting more than one day. All of these are reported to have done well during the year, and the sanitary and police arrangements were satisfactory. Commercially the one held at Nagardas in the Basim District was the most important, as goods to the value of Rs. 6,00,000 are reported to have changed hands there. The chief articles brought for sale at these fairs are Bombay and country-made cloth, European piece-goods, copper and brass pots, and miscellaneous goods. But the fair held at Wun is famous for the sale of bullocks, and the actual amount realised by the sale of these animals in this fair was Rs. 1,14,764.

SECTION VIII.

Public Works.

Total expenditure.

114. The total expenditure on Public Works under this Administration during the official year 1886-87 amounted to Rs. 15,87,804 as detailed below, viz. :—

	Rs.
Imperial { Military	1,53,648
Imperial { Civil Works	18,990
Provincial Works	10,02,393
One per cent. Cess	68,968
Incorporated Local Funds	46,125
Excluded do.	2,07,486
Khamgaon State Railway	39,220
Amraoti do.	50,974

IMPERIAL—MILITARY.

115. The budget grant for the year was Rs. 2,48,000 and the expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,53,648, being a lapse of Rs. 94,352.

The lapse of Rs. 76,304 on original works is due to the following causes:—

	Rs.
Provision to the extent of Rs. 1,08,500 was made in the budget for the Hyderabad Residency defences and the erection of new escort barracks. In the revised estimate for the year it was calculated that the sum of Rs. 35,000 surrendered from the aforesaid grant in this office No. 176-M. W., dated 4th November 1886, would be accepted, and the balance available for expenditure in the province, but in despatch No. 110-M. W., dated 21st January 1887, the Government of India withdrew a sum of Rs. 50,000 from said grant, being Rs. 15,000 more than was anticipated. This left Rs. 58,000 at credit of the work, but as estimates were not sanctioned during the year and as orders on another project for additional buildings required for the British Cavalry at Trimulgherry were not passed till the close of the official year, the funds in question could not be utilized, and have consequently lapsed. Thus there is a nominal lapse of Rs. 15,000, and an actual one of Rs. 58,500, making a total of	73,500
Add—Lapse on grant for improving the flanking defence of bastions of the Trimulgherry entrenchment	1,699
Savings on allotments for minor works	1,105
The total amounts to ...	76,304

There was a short expenditure of Rs. 6,142 on grant for repairs made up as follows:—

	Rs.
On grant for periodical repairs to military buildings ...	2,432
Sum unallotted from general grant for repairs ...	1,766
Savings on petty requisitions...	1,399
Do. on other allotments	545
Total ...	6,142

Owing to a re-distribution of charges on "Direction" and "Accounts" in accordance with Government of India No. 266-G of 29th February 1884, there has been a reduction of Rs. 6,138. Other savings under head "Establishment" bring up the total of short expenditure to Rs. 8,424.

The following table shows the final grants compared with the expenditure:—

Heads.	Final Grants. Rs.	Expenditure. Rs.
Original works ...	1,35,400	59,096
Repairs	60,000	53,858
Establishment	50,500	42,076
Tools and plant	2,100	1,866
Total ...	2,48,000	1,56,896
Add—Fluctuations in balance of Suspense Account ...	...	—3,248

The expenditure on original works and repairs, classified under departments and different heads, is shown below :—

	Original Works. Rs.	Repairs. Rs.
Accommodation for European troops	13,346	25,132
Do. for Native troops	2,010	2,981
Ordnance buildings...	4,719	444
Commissariat buildings	2,684	1,200
Staff and miscellaneous	8,415	4,336
General Cantonment work	5,303	19,065
Fortifications...	22,619	700
Total	59,096	53,858

The work of providing additional earthwork protection to No. 2 Magazine, Trimulgherry entrenchment, was completed at a cost of Rs. 7,509; improvements were carried out to lightning conductors of military magazine, Secunderabad, at a cost of Rs. 2,584; additional stabling was given to the Royal Artillery at Trimulgherry, costing Rs. 13,099; and quarters were built for native servants at south station hospital, Trimulgherry, at a cost of Rs. 2,757.

Certain minor works estimated at Rs. 8,983 were constructed at an aggregate cost of Rs. 8,436.

Improving the flanking defence of bastions (by means of galleries in the escarps) of the Trimulgherry entrenchment (item No. 4 of budget) was in progress during the year, and an expenditure of Rs. 24,436 incurred on an estimate of Rs. 36,146.

Minor works the estimates for which amount to Rs. 6,525 were in hand during the year, and the expenditure incurred aggregates Rs. 3,912.

Repairs.

116. The military buildings in the Cantonments of Trimulgherry and Secunderabad were maintained, as far as funds would permit, in an efficient state of repair, as also the defences and drawbridges of the entrenched post at Trimulgherry.

Establishment.

117. Mr. M. P. Coode, Executive Engineer, held charge of the Secunderabad Division during the whole year, with Lieutenant E. Houston, R. E., as his Assistant.

The following works were completed, viz.:—

	Estimate. Rs.	Total cost. Rs.
Forming a new treasury and also a new stamp office and stamp store room at the Hyderabad Residency...	5,550	5,416
Runners' quarters and cook room and privy in connection with the Damangaon post office ..	1,564	1,399
Renewing the flooring of St. John's Church at Secunderabad...	1,836	1,785

Minor works estimated at Rs. 2,822 were undertaken, but not completed, and an expenditure of Rs. 1,536 incurred on them.

PROVINCIAL PUBLIC WORKS.

1.—GENERAL.

118. The final budget grants, compared with the expenditure, are shown below:—

Heads.	Grants.		Expenditure.
	Original Works.	Repairs.	Original Works.	Repairs.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Military	44,459	12,700	42,085	11,016
Civil buildings	1,78,370	25,265	1,49,663	25,094
Communications	2,16,416	2,76,315	2,21,111	2,59,769
Miscellaneous public improvements ...	47,064	2,050	41,980	1,511
	8,02,639		7,52,229
Establishment	2,27,000		2,30,566
Tools and plant	9,361		14,838
Profit and loss	...		...
Suspense	...		4,760
Grand Total ...	10,39,000		10,02,393

The lapse was therefore Rs. 36,607, or 3·52 per cent. of the budget grant.

Excluding the grants for establishment and for tools and plant, and confining the comparison to grants and expenditure on the first four heads of the foregoing statement, there was a lapse of Rs. 50,410, or 6·29 per cent. of the grant, for works only. But as a set-off against this is an excess expenditure on "establishment" of Rs. 3,566; on "tools and plant" of Rs. 5,477 due to the charge for a steam road roller procured from England having been adjusted with the Civil Department against the accounts of the official year 1886-87, although the matter was not settled till after the 31st March 1887; and on suspense, of Rs. 4,760, making a total of Rs. 13,803. The lapse is thus reduced to Rs. 36,607.

It may here be noted that from the sum of Rs. 39,000 provided from the jaglia cess for public works there has been an actual lapse of Rs. 21,172, so that the lapse on the provincial grant proper of ten lakhs is only Rs. 15,435, or 1·54 per cent. This may be considered satisfactory.

IMPERIAL—CIVIL WORKS.

119. The following table shows the final grants compared with the expenditure of the year:—

Heads.	Final Grant. Rs.	Expenditure. Rs.
Original works	8,500	6,844
Establishment	3,300	2,691
Tools and plant	200	176
Total ...	21,700	18,990

The lapse of grant under this head was Rs. 2,710. The savings on "original works" are due to lapses, principally on grants for certain post offices (notably on the work of altering the Yeotmal post office, sanction to which was accorded late in the year) to the extent of about Rs. 1,300, and to savings on grants for petty works on requisitions:—

The short expenditure under the other heads noted above calls for no particular remarks.

The expenditure on original works and repairs, classified under different departments, is shown below :—

Heads.	Original Works. Rs.	Repairs. Rs.
Residences for administration	399	4,300
Secretariat	337	80
Post offices	3,556	1,795
Telegraphs	...	361
Ecclesiastical	2,230	1,949
Minor departments	322	794
Total ...	6,844	9,279

The distribution of lapses on works and repairs according to budget sub-heads is as follows :—

Expenditure	...	„ 49,056

Good progress was made on this road.

Budget Item No. 24.—Road from Morsi to Burroor—21 miles long. In progress:—

Amount of estimate	...	Rs. 1,76,769
Expenditure	...	„ 1,72,294

On this road also work was pushed on with fair vigour.

Budget Item No. 26.—Gugmal forest road. In progress.

Expenditure	...	„ 1,15,594

There was considerable progress on this work. Nearly all the labour employed is imported, and much difficulty is experienced in keeping it together. The road is carried through a very difficult country, and great care and judgment were required to obtain a satisfactory alignment. An excellent line has been secured, and the work of construction is being done in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. Expenditure to the extent of Rs. 9,708 was incurred in the construction of a combined dâk and inspection bungalow at Darwha in the Wun District. The work is still in progress.

A girder bridge on stone masonry piers of 7 spans of 80 feet across the river Purna at Assagaon on the Amraoti-Ellichpur road, estimated to cost Rs. 2,74,685, was in progress during the year, and an expenditure of Rs. 7,427 incurred.

Road from Burroor to Wurda, being 2nd section of the road from Morsi to Wurda. In progress.

Amount of estimate	...	Rs. 73,991
Expenditure	...	,, 926

Other works of minor importance carried out during the year are as follows:—

Name of work.	Estimate. Rs.	Outlay. Rs.	State of progress.
Stone metalling 1½ miles of the Amraoti-Ellichpur road	3,656	3,571	Completed
Do. first 5 miles of Amraoti-Morsi road	11,282	5,451	In progress

Repairs.

The length of bridged and metalled roads in Berar in charge of the Public Works Department is 784 miles, and during the year they were efficiently maintained at an outlay of Rs. 2,55,638, a mileage rate of Rs. 326.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

123. The Kalapani reservoir to supply the town of Amraoti with water is now completed at a cost of Rs. 2,13,398, against an estimate of Rs. 2,87,316, and water was supplied to the town for a part of the year. Since the completion of the reservoir, the rainfall at Amraoti has not been sufficient to fill it, and the supply to the town has not in consequence been so plentiful as is desirable. But once it fills—and the heavy rainfall which has already occurred at Amraoti gives every reason for hope that it will fill this year—the storage is sufficient for an ample and constant supply at all times.

The Pahora tank, estimated to cost Rs. 28,621, was completed at an outlay of Rs. 26,114.

Budget Item No. 36.—A project for the supply of water to the civil station of Amraoti was sanctioned and commenced in this year; the estimate amounts to Rs. 48,431, and expenditure was incurred to the extent of Rs. 7,732.

Budget Item No. 37.— Preliminary operations in connection with water-supply for the cantonment and the city of Ellichpur were undertaken, and a sum of Rs. 4,994 expended.

The important commercial town of Khamgaon has now an excellent water-supply satisfactory in all respects. The distribution in the city was completed in this year at an expenditure of Rs. 1,07,006, against an estimate of Rs. 1,09,158.

Budget Item No. 40.—Tanks and anicuts in the Melghat intended for storage of water for cattle grazing on the southern portions of the Melghat hills. The following is the progress of work during the year:—

Completed.	Estimate.	Total cost.
	Rs.	Rs.
Tank at Mardi	39,613 ...	37,217

Anicut at Abalkheid ...	2,896 ...	2,686 ...	Completed
Tank at Nukta Ganesh ...	7,796 ...	7,688 ...	Do.
Constructing an iron girder bridge across the nulla on road leading from the Tahsili to the school at Basim ...	9,096 ...	8,963 ..	Do.
Draining the ground between the town and civil station of Basim	8,177 ...	7,260 ...	Do.

VI.—TOOLS AND PLANT.

124. The total expenditure under this head was Rs. 14,838, excluding that from the one per cent. cess.

One per cent. Cess Proper.

125. The total grant from this fund amounted to Rs. 88,000, and the expenditure to Rs. 68,968.

The expenditure from this fund is entirely entrusted to the Civil Department.

The short outlay amounted to Rs. 19,032.

The following table gives the details of grant and expenditure under each district :—

District.	Original Works.		Repairs.		Establishment.		Tools and Plant.		Total.

VII.—ESTABLISHMENT.

126. The total outly on account of establishment was Rs. 2,35,667, or 28·20 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works under provincial services including that from the one per cent. cess.

The following changes in establishment occurred during the year:—

Mr. G. K. Watts, Executive Engineer, 3rd grade, returned from furlough in June 1886, and was posted to the West Berar Division, which charge he held till September 1886, when he was appointed Assistant to the Superintending Engineer and Assistant Secretary to Resident in Public Works Department, vice Mr. A. B. Gatherer, Executive Engineer, 1st grade, transferred to Assam.

Mr. J. Craig, Executive Engineer, 1st grade, who took privilege leave in June 1886, received back charge of the West Berar Division from Mr. Watts in September 1886. In October he was relieved by Mr. Lobb, Executive Engineer, 2nd grade (who rejoined this province from Madras), and was posted to the East Berar Division, vice Mr. A. Higgins, Executive Engineer, 2nd grade, who was placed on special duty in connection with the preparation of the water-supply schemes at Shegaon, Buldana, and Akola.

Mr. M. J. Scobie, Executive Engineer, 4th grade, returned from furlough in December 1886, and was posted to the South Berar Division.

Mr. J. H. Handley, Assistant Engineer, 1st grade, returned from furlough in November 1886, and was posted to the West Berar Division.

Mr. A. Leventhorpe, Assistant Engineer, 1st grade, was transferred in January 1887 from the West to the East Berar Division.

Captain E. A. Waller, R. E., Examiner, 4th class, 3rd grade, proceeded on furlough in November 1886, making over temporary charge of his office to Mr. J. H. Glass, Officating Superintending Engineer, and Captain H. Clarke, R. E., Examiner, 4th class, 3rd grade, transferred from the office of Examiner of Accounts, Military Works, took over charge of the Hyderabad office from Mr. Glass on the forenoon of the 26th November 1886.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

Total receipts and expenditure.

133. The following statement shows the total actual receipts and expenditure of the years 1885-86 and 1886-87. The assignment of 52 per cent. for expenditure on Civil Administration, Public Works, and Railways is calculated on the figures shown under the head "provincial revenues":—

(a) Provincial Revenue and Finance.

Land revenue.

135. The year under report shows an increase in the land revenue demand of Rs. 52,375 over that of 1885-86, Rs. 39,812 being under land revenue proper and Rs. 12,563 under miscellaneous land revenue. The increase under the former head is due chiefly to the increased area of land given out for cultivation, and under the latter, to sums bid for occupation of fields having risen from Rs. 1,898 in 1885-86 to Rs. 16,629 in the year under report. The actual realizations brought to account on this head were Rs. 66,66,730, being an increase on 1885-86 of Rs. 2,03,975 as shown below :—

	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	64,50,203	66,51,770
Sale proceeds of waste lands, &c. ...	708	185
Miscellaneous	11,844	14,775
	64,62,755	66,66,730
Net increase ...	2,03,975

Land revenue balances.

136. The progress made in the collection of arrears of land revenue is thus described in the last published Revenue Report :—

There was a balance outstanding on 31st March 1886 of Rs. 15,56,599-5-6 thus :

	Rs.	a.	p.
Balances due—
On account of 1882-83	343	5	2
Do. 1883-84	316	3	2
Do. 1884-85	2,006	1	0
Collections to be made—
On account of 1885-86	15,53,933	12	2
Total ...	15,56,599	5	6

Of the sum shown as collections to be made for the year 1885-86, Rs. 14,69,330 were not due till the 15th April following, so that the actual balance outstanding on account of that year on the 1st April 1886 was really only Rs. 84,603.

Of the total amount (Rs. 15,56,599-5-6) to be recovered on account of land revenue for the year 1885-86 and previous years, Rs. 15,52,439-4-0 were collected during the year, and Rs. 1,062-1-0 remitted, leaving a real balance outstanding on the 31st March 1887 of only Rs. 3,098-0-6 as follows:—

		Rs.	a.	p.
Do.	1883-84	240	11	11
Do.	1884-85	941	7	6
Do.	1885-86	1,655	7	11
	Total ...	3,698	0	6

Of this amount, Rs. 539 are in train of liquidation, Rs. 55 are nominal, and Rs. 2,504 irrecoverable.

Coercive processes.

137. Owing to heavier arrears of the kharif or autumnal instalments, the number of writs of demand issued during the year rose from 4,417 to 5,514. No defaulter was imprisoned this year. Orders of attachment were issued in 4,902 cases, but in only 42 per cent. of these cases was the attachment carried out, and in no case was a sale resorted to. It is satisfactory to find that resort to this extreme course is seldom needed for the realization of revenue in Berar. On this subject the Commissioner of the Province writes:—

The collections in Berar are very easily made, and the cultivating classes are well-to-do because most of the produce of their fields is readily saleable for cash, and does not require to be stored for lengthened periods, as is so much the case in Upper India. The ease with which collections are made varies a good deal according to the personal pressure brought to bear on the people by the different Tahsildars and Deputy Commissioners. A really good official would insist on punctuality being strictly enforced when he knows the season has been a good one, but when there has been a poor and rather late kharif crop, as there was in this year, he would give a little latitude in the date of payment. The large sums paid in advance voluntarily for the rabi harvest show that there is no real desire on the part of the people to withhold payments of their revenue, and under these circumstances I am not always prepared to think the district with the smallest arrears in a year like this is the best administered, but no undue pressure is, I can honestly affirm, used for collections in Berar anywhere.

Sources of Provincial Revenue other than Land Revenue.

Opium.

138. The quantity of opium imported into the province exceeded that of the previous year by 5,180 lbs., the figures for the two years being 34,230 and 39,410 lbs. respectively. The import duty on the quantity that came into Berar was Rs. 1,97,050 at Rs. 5 per lb. But the amount brought on the books of the Comptroller was Rs. 2,12,450, or Rs. 49,700 more than the amount realized in 1885-86. The Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts states that the increase has been in the payment of more import duty, while there has been a decrease in the prices for the monopoly of sales. Notwithstanding the increase in the amount realized by Government, the provincial average per seer (2 lbs.) has fallen from Rs. 28-3-0 to Rs. 26-12-0.

Excise revenue.

139. The gross receipts under the different excise heads for the past two years are compared below:—

	1885-86.	1886-87.
	Rs.	Rs.
Country spirits	10,39,500	10,36,475
Opium and drugs	2,94,800	3,09,635
Tari	33,097	47,633
Foreign spirits	1,300	1,300
Miscellaneous	3,914	2,694
Total ...	13,72,611	13,97,737

Of the total amount to be realized during the year, Rs. 7,433 remained uncollected at the close of the year, against Rs. 19,667 in 1885-86. The sum actually brought on the books of the Comptroller was Rs. 13,77,392.

Stamp revenue.

140. The stamp revenue of the year is the highest ever recorded. According to the figures supplied by the Comptroller, it rose from Rs. 6,58,536 to Rs. 6,74,132, while the Stamp Revenue Report gives the following statistics regarding the working of the department :—

	Receipts.		Charges.
	1885-86.	1886-87.	1885-86.	1886-87.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Court Fees Act, 1870, including copying sheets ...	3,90,286	4,03,882	24,175	21,499

The several descriptions of stamps coming under the Indian Stamp Act exhibit an increase as shown below :—

	Receipts.
	Rs.	Rs.
Receipt stamps	16,507	17,040
Hundi do.	12,670	14,911
Document stamps	2,35,691	2,36,578

Total ...	2,68,652	2,71,166

Provincial rates.

141. These, being calculated on the land revenue, naturally follow any variations of that item of receipt :—

	Rs.	Rs.	Increase Rs.
Jaglia and Local Cess ...	3,86,986	4,06,807	19,821
Education Cess ...	98,753	1,04,470	5,717
Total ...	4,85,739	5,11,277	25,538

They show an improvement of Rs. 25,538 on last year's actuals, and are better than the estimate by Rs. 9,277.

Registration.

142. The receipts were Rs. 56,034, being Rs. 3,909 short of those of 1885-86, but Rs. 4,034 more than the estimate.

Interest.

143. The actual receipts were Rs. 12,675, compared with Rs. 20,072 in 1885-86. The falling-off is due to the closing of the Resident's interest-bearing account with the Bank of Bombay in December last.

Law and justice.

144. The receipts under the several heads were as under :—

	1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property	7,966	8,649
Court fees realized in cash	473	953
General fees, fines and forfeitures ...	55,695	47,330
Jails	33,187	28,655
Pleadership examination fees ...	290	210
Miscellaneous fees and fines ...	438	483
Miscellaneous	132	218
Total ...	98,181	86,498

The above figures show a net decrease compared with 1885-86 of Rs. 11,683.

Police.

145. The receipts under this head last year were shown as Rs. 18,206; this included a contribution for Railway Police from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company of Rs. 10,437, leaving net departmental receipts of Rs. 7,769. The net receipts this year amount to Rs. 7,616.

Education.

146. The receipts of 1885-86 were abnormally high for reasons explained in the Administration Report for that year. In 1886-87 they amount to Rs. 36,789. The average of the three years prior to 1885-86 amounted to about Rs. 25,000, and the increase during 1886-87 occurs chiefly under "sale proceeds of books" and "school fees," and is due to the rise in the number of institutions and increased attendance.

Medical.

147. These receipts show an increase of Rs. 841, the actuals of 1885-86 being Rs. 543, and those of 1886-87 Rs. 1,384. The increase occurs under "contributions" from private persons.

Scientific, &c. receipts.

148. The receipts under these three following heads, being trifling, do not call for any remark:—

1. Scientific and other Minor Departments.
2. Receipts in aid of Superannuation.
3. Stationery and Printing.

Miscellaneous.

149. The actuals of 1885-86 were Rs. 1,59,927, those of 1886-87 are Rs. 1,28,739, being a decrease of Rs. 31,188. "Gain by exchange" shows a decrease of Rs. 26,089, and unclaimed deposits a decrease of Rs. 4,735. The former of these items is a very fluctuating one, and the gain during 1885-86 was unusually large.

Railway receipts.

150. There is an improvement under this head, the figures for 1886-87 being Rs. 1,54,564, compared with Rs. 1,22,167 for 1885-86.

Public Works.

151. The receipts of the Public Works Department during 1886-87 were Rs. 8,803 as compared with Rs. 11,235 for the previous year.

Military.

152. Receipts under "Military" during 1886-87 were Rs. 10,920, being about the same as for 1885-86.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

153. This represents the contribution from the balance of the "old Jaglia Cess" and amounted during 1886-87 to Rs. 15,759. There still remained a balance of this fund on the 31st March 1887 of Rs. 2,17,164.

Contributions from Provincial to Local.

154. These aggregated Rs. 77,702, of which Rs. 77,000 formed a grant for primary vernacular schools, and Rs. 702 for local public works.

Disbursements.

The charges for 1886-87 aggregate Rs. 85,18,863 as against Rs. 82,03,805 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 3,15,058 as shown in the following statement:—

Increases under what heads.

155. Under "Civil" the principal increases were under "Pensions," "Police," "Law and Justice," and "Land Revenue."

The following comparison gives the detail of the increases in the military expenditure during the year 1886-87 as compared with 1885-86:—

	Actuals, 1885-86. Rs.	Actuals, 1886-87. Rs.	Increase. Rs.	Decrease. Rs.

c. Regimental Pay and Allowances.—The decrease of Rs. 20,738 under "Regimental pay, allowances, &c.," is chiefly under Cavalry, and is due to the absence of officers on furlough and on duty elsewhere.

d. Commissariat Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 7,726 under "Commissariat Establishment" occurs chiefly under compensation for dearness of provisions for natives and for horses and ponies, and is due to the rise in the average prices of provisions.

e. Stud and Remount Establishment.—A less number of horses and bullocks having been purchased during the year under review, the expenditure under "Stud and Remount Establishment" is less by Rs. 5,946.

f. Clothing Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 4,257 under "Clothing Establishment" is due to the payment of compensation in lieu of serge frocks for 1886-87 at the rates fixed by the Examiner of Clothing Accounts, Madras, under the orders of the Government of India, these rates amounting to a higher charge than would have been incurred had the clothing itself been supplied.

i. Medical Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 2,600 under "Medical Establishment" is due to extra medical charge allowance having been paid to Medical Officers for being in charge of detachments, the result of regiments being on field service in Burma.

j. Ordnance Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 16,315 under "Ordnance Establishment" chiefly occurs under "Cost of Ordnance Stores obtained on indent," and is due to the higher rates having been charged for ammunition to the Hyderabad Contingent, ball ammunition in certain cases having been previously charged for at Rs. 29 per 1,000 rounds, whereas in the year under review the rate charged was Rs. 49. The lower rate appears to have been charged by a mistake of the Bombay Ordnance Department.

k. Miscellaneous Services.—The increase of Rs. 42,673 under "Miscellaneous Services" is partly under "Travelling Allowances" and partly under "Furlough pay of Military and Medical Officers." In regard to the former, it is due to second class fare having been charged on account of men proceeding on furlough, instead of third class, and as regards the latter, to a larger number of officers on furlough and the higher rates of furlough allowances payable under the Rules of 1886.

m. Retired Officers.—The excess of Rs. 87,634 under "Retired Officers" is due to the proportion of pension of certain officers retired previous to 1886-87 having been adjusted in arrears in the accounts under review.

REVENUE AND FINANCE OTHER THAN PROVINCIAL.

Excluded Local Funds.

Income, expenditure, surplus of Berar and payments to His Highness the Nizam.

160. The following statement exhibits the income, expenditure, and surplus of the Berars and payments to His Highness the Nizam from 1852-53 to 1886-87. It has been prepared and is embodied here in accordance with instructions received from the Government of India. The figures for 1852-53 have not been obtained. The balance which had accumulated by the end of 1860-61 was entirely exhausted, with the exception of Rs. 1,846, in adjusting certain arrear charges relating principally to the Hyderabad Contingent for which His Highness was liable:—

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

161. There has been no change in the registration machinery of the province during the year, the system referred to in paragraph 197 of the Administration Report for 1882-83 being still in force. For the registration of vital statistics there were 119 circles.

Births.

162. The number of births registered in the year under report was 98,229, being 14,552 less than in the previous year. The birth-rate to the population was in the ratio of 37·3 per mille, or 1 in 26, and is the lowest recorded for the past seven years. This low birth-rate is attributed by the Commissioner of the province to the amount of sickness with loss of life that took place in some districts, but from an examination of the statistics of the previous years it appears to be clear that this argument cannot be advanced as the principal reason of the decrease in births, for the years 1882 and 1885 are noticeable as showing increases both of deaths and births. In reviewing the Annual Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Resident, with reference to this point, remarked: "To some extent doubtless a high death-rate in any one year may affect the number of births in that and the succeeding period, whilst an excess of malarious fever in Ellichpur and Akola may have either induced sterility or killed off some child-bearing women, but the Resident is inclined to believe that in the present condition of our vital statistic registration establishment, the work of which is condemned by the Commissioner as being peculiarly defective even in towns, it is unsafe to form any decided conclusions or to attempt to build up theories when the foundations for our calculation are, according to the evidence of the senior officer in the province, probably doubtful and unsafe." Of the 98,229 births, 50,747 were males and 47,482 females, or in the proportion of 107 boys to every 100 girls. According to districts, Buldana had the highest birth-rate, viz., 44·2 per 1,000 of the population, and Wun the lowest, viz., 33·4. At Amraoti, Ellichpur, Akola, and Basim the figures were respectively 39·9, 36·4, 33·6, and 36. The ratio of births per mille in rural circles was 37·7, against 35·1 in towns. Of the total births, the greatest number was as a rule recorded in the third quarter corresponding to the cold weather, and the fewest in the second quarter of the year.

Still-births.

163. Against 4,539 in 1885 there were 4,103 still-births registered, 2,397 being males and 1,706 females, or 140 still male births to every 100 still female births. The greatest number of these still-births occurred in the Amraoti and Akola Districts.

Deaths.

164. The statistics of mortality show an increase of 6,988 over the previous year, the figures for 1885 and 1886 being 89,558 and 96,546 respectively. The death-rate in proportion to population was 36·7 per mille as compared with 34 in 1885. "The mortality rate," writes the Sanitary Commissioner, "was again above the average, as it was also last year, and it would appear that the unhealthy conditions prevalent in 1885 were continued into and throughout the first half of the year under report." Of the registered deaths, 50,712 were among males and 45,834 among females. The proportion of male deaths per 1,000 of the male population was 37·3 and of female deaths 36·1. Male deaths exceeded female deaths in every district, the proportion being 110 to 100. Taking the mortality according to districts, Ellichpur shows the highest ratio, viz., 39·6, and Wun the lowest, 33, while the figures for Amraoti, Akola, Buldana, and Basim were 36·6, 38·9, 37·9, and 33·5 respectively. The distribution of deaths according to months shows that the months which were most fatal to life were August and

September, while the fewest deaths were recorded in February. The average number of deaths registered on each day of the year was 264·5 as compared with 245·4 in 1885. An analysis of the figures of deaths by ages shows that the mortality of males is greater than that of females from birth up to the age of 10, and that from this age up to 40 the mortality of females exceeds that of males; above 40 the male mortality is higher. The following figures compare the deaths for the two past years according to classes:—

Mahomedans	6,235	6,185
Hindus	79,787	86,252
Others	3,518	4,093
	89,558	96,546

The mortality rate for towns was 35·5 as compared with 37 for rural circles. "This," writes the Sanitary Commissioner, "is not quite in accord with previous experience, as the mortality in towns is generally in excess of that of the country, and may be attributed to the fact that malarious fevers, which were the prevailing disease of the year, were felt more severely in the country than in the towns and more especially in those tracts lying at the foot of the hilly country."

The following figures show the causes of deaths as compared with 1885:—

	Number of deaths.
	1885.	1886.
1. Cholera	3,683	976
2. Small-pox	259	116
3. Fevers	37,339	45,643
4. Bowel-complaints	15,785	16,791
5. Other causes excluding injuries ...	31,432	32,052

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

165. There has been no noticeable movement of population either from or into the province, excepting the settlement during the year in the Wun District of some 1,225 persons on account of the low rate at which land was obtained there. 629 persons are said to have left the province probably for trade or other purposes.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

No. of hospitals and dispensaries.

166. There were, as in 1885, 42 dispensaries at work during the year, all of which, with one exception, were of the first class. One dispensary, which was sanctioned, was not opened owing to the difficulty in obtaining the services of a qualified Hospital Assistant for the charge.

Medical staff.

167. The strength of the medical staff consisted of 1 Surgeon-Major, 3 Surgeons, 3 Apothecaries, and 42 Hospital Assistants, of whom 17 belonged to the first, 10 to the second, and 15 to the third class. In the year under review there were seven vacancies in the subordinate branch, all of which were filled up. The Sanitary Commissioner of the province writes: "There was very great difficulty experienced in getting qualified Hospital Assistants to come to Berar, though the requirements of the department were widely advertised. The charge allowances lately sanctioned for independent charge have, however, made the service a little more attractive, and all existing vacancies have now been filled up."

Patients treated.

168. The total number of patients treated during the year was 234,595 as compared with 226,652, or an increase of 7,943, due to the year having been, as stated elsewhere, an unhealthy one. The total number of patients was composed of 115,221 males, 35,212 females, and 84,162 children. Of those treated, 232,250 were out-door and 2,345 in-door patients. The average daily number of the former was 1754·43, and of the latter 82·40 as compared with 1725·22 and 75·37 respectively in 1885. Of out-door patients, 81·6 per cent. attended personally, and 18·4 per cent. were represented by friends or relatives. Of the in-door patients, nearly 87 per cent. were cured, while the average death-rate was 3·9. The average number of days that each patient was under treatment was almost the same as in 1885, viz., 12·82 in the case of in-door, and 2·75 in that of out-door patients. According to class, 60·7 per cent. of the sick treated were Hindus, 33·7 Mahomedans, 4·6 other classes, ·7 Eurasians, and ·3 Europeans. "This," writes the Sanitary Commissioner, "is the usual order of class attendance, and corresponds with the numerical order of population according to class."

Diseases treated.

169. During the year under notice fever of a malarious nature was the commonest disease. 49,009 cases came under treatment, or over 20 per cent. of the total treated. Ophthalmia and skin diseases were also very prevalent.

Major operations.

170. At the commencement of the year there were 9 cases under treatment, and during the year 275 operations were performed, making a total of 284, against 320 in 1885. Of the former, 244 were cured, 17 relieved, 8 were discharged otherwise, 5 died, and 10 remained under treatment at the close of the year.

Income and expenditure.

171. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 63,104-12-8 and closed with a balance of Rs. 63,125-6-10. The total receipts fell from Rs. 88,489-5-8 in 1885 to Rs. 86,231-4-8, and the difference of Rs. 2,258-1-0 is chiefly due to savings in the pay of Civil Surgeons either on leave or pensioned, officers of lower grade having been appointed in their places, and to smaller subscriptions having been raised locally. The expenditure rose from Rs. 84,542-2-10 to Rs. 85,787-2-9. More than half the excess was incurred on establishment.

Inspection.

172. On this subject the Dispensary Report says, "the duty of inspection has on the whole received a fair amount of attention, and where inspections were fewer than required by the orders on the subject, there were reasons to account for it." With regard to the work done by dispensary committees, the report is not encouraging. With few exceptions, it is stated that the members have neglected their duties and exhibited but little interest in the working of the institutions with the management of which they are concerned.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

173. No sanitary works of any magnitude were undertaken or executed in municipalities during the year, but attention was paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy more or less in all municipalities. Out of a total income of Rs. 1,66,333, Rs. 86,521, or 52 per cent., was spent on sanitary works, and a little more than 21 per cent. on conservancy. In the districts the expenditure on sanitary improvements was Rs. 93,685, or Rs. 2,974 more than in 1885. Of the works undertaken by the Department of Public Works, the most important was the Kalapani tank, which is intended to supply water to the town of Amraoti. This work was commenced in November 1882 and completed in December 1886 at an outlay of Rs. 2,87,316. The Sanitary Commissioner gives a gloomy account of the state of rural Berar in regard to its sanitation. He says, "the usual state of things is a pervious cess-pool to every house, and where this is wanting the house sullage flows on the street. Manure heaps as a rule in the yard of every landowner, and the outskirts of the village the usual latrine." The same report remarks, "some years ago a code of rules was drawn up by the Sanitary Commissioner to be observed in villages. At first some attention was given to these rules, resulting in improved surface cleansing, but generally they are more honoured in the breach than in the observance, for though perhaps the surface cleanliness of public roads and thoroughfares may be better attended to, yet the domestic cleansing of private houses and their surroundings is almost as much neglected as ever." These remarks were commended to the notice of district officers, and in reviewing the last report of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Resident made the following observations on the subject: "Money required for sanitary improvements must be derived from local sources, but the mainspring of success in such matters lies in the energy and influence of the district officer. Sanitary primers are rarely studied by the people and, even if read, carry no weight; and it is important to distinguish between the "eye-wash" which sometimes precedes the visit of an official and more continuous efforts for the cleanliness of a place. The district officer, in dealing with a people who have no faith in sanitary measures and are apt to regard epidemics as the visitations of a malevolent power, has a very arduous and constant task, in which rapid progress is impossible. Improvement must commence at the top of the social scale, and if district officers can directly, or through tahsildars, bring a legitimate influence to bear and induce some influential and wealthy native gentlemen to accept the necessity for observing some elementary sanitary rules, the beneficial example may in course of time spread and permeate to the lower classes of society. All exertions made by patels (village officials) in this direction should be cordially acknowledged by the presentation of some description of "khillat" or other marks of favour. But it will not be easy, in the present state of opinion, to render the neglect of precautions, the need of which is only recognized by Englishmen, penal on the village officers."

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Strength and conduct of the staff.

174. No change took place in the strength of the vaccination staff, which remained the same as mentioned in paragraph 200 of the last Administration Report, and the conduct of the members was throughout the year satisfactory with one exception.

Work done.

175. The aggregate number of operations performed by all establishments was 95,504 as compared with 97,654 in 1885-86, being a decrease of 2,150. The total number of successful primary vaccinations was 91,470, against 93,027 in the previous year. The ratio of success was 95·8, against 95·4 in 1885-86. Of the 91,470 successful operations, 83,554 were performed by the special establishment, 6,672 at the several dispensaries, and the remainder in the Melghat tract by four vaccinators who were deputed to work there during the hot season at the request of the District Officer; these vaccinators were put under orders of the Forest Officer of the division, and it was almost entirely due to his influence that the vaccinators were able to operate upon 1,332 persons among the timid people inhabiting that part of the province. Of the sexes of those vaccinated by the special establishment, 44,133 were males and 42,801 females, and with regard to age, 63,148 were under one year, 19,458 between one and six years, and 948 above six years. Of the total vaccinated, 66·9 per cent. were verified by superintending officers, against 63·7 in the previous year.

Cost.

176. The total expenditure incurred amounted to Rs. 17,119-11-4, or Rs. 92-0-11 more than in 1885-86, while the average cost of each successful case rose from Annas 3-1 to Annas 3-3.

Attitude of the people.

177. It is gratifying to record that in the year under report there was no active opposition to vaccination.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

Education.

No. of schools and scholars.

178. The year under report shows considerable educational progress. The number of schools of all classes rose from 951 in 1885-86 to 988, and the scholars from 41,018 to 43,661; while the percentage of scholars to population of school-going age increased from 19·23 to 20·4 in the case of males, and from ·62 to ·73 in the case of females. The different classes of schools and scholars as they stood at the close of the last two years are exhibited in the following table:—

				No. of schools.		No. of scholars.

			Total ...	951	988	41,018	43,661

* Includes 20 pupil-teachers who are being trained for schoolmasterships in the different districts.

In the two high schools the attendance fell from 334 in 1885-86 to 328. This is due to the opening of a high school class in three of the middle schools. The attendance in the other Government, Municipal Board, and Aided schools exhibits a satisfactory advance.

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

179. Having regard to the number of schools and scholars according to districts, Akola maintains the first place. The Amraoti District comes next, and Wun is last in the list. Ellichpur, excluding the Melghat taluk, is first as regards density of schools and the percentage at school of the male population of school-going age. On an average there was one school to 18·6 square miles, and a percentage of 20·4 scholars to the population of school-going age, against 19·3 and 19·2 respectively in the preceding year.

University education.

180. As in 1885-86, there were in the year under notice seven students with scholarships from the Berar Educational Department pursuing their education in the Bombay Colleges. Of these seven, one passed the "Previous examination," and one took the "B.A." degree. With regard to the remaining five, enquiry was instituted, in accordance with the rules relating to the tenure of Berar Scholarships, as to whether they ought to forfeit their scholarships, but the reply being favourable, they were allowed to retain them. In addition to the two successful scholars above mentioned, two of the students from the high schools of the province who did not hold Berar Scholarships passed the final B.A. examination during the year, one passed the "First B.A." test, and one the "Previous examination."

Matriculation.

181. The results of the last matriculation examination of the Bombay University, while not so good as in the previous year, were nevertheless not unsatisfactory. In the opinion of the Director of Public Instruction the percentage passed, viz., 48, compares favourably with the percentage of 21 on a total of 2,452 present at the examination from all parts of the Bombay Presidency and adjoining districts, especially as the test applied during the year was considered to be unusually severe. Of the 11 successful candidates, 3 obtained Berar Scholarships and 4 joined the Bombay Colleges without scholarships.

Secondary schools.

182. The following table gives statistics relating to the 2 high and 24 middle or Anglo-vernacular schools:—

Schools.		No. of institutions.	No. studying the Matriculation and Middle course.	No. examined.	No. passed.	Expenditure from			Annual cost of educating each pupil.

The increase in expenditure in the high and middle schools is due to an increase in the teaching staff. At the same time the percentage of total expenditure borne by fees rose in most of the secondary schools.

Primary schools.

183. The year was not marked by the opening of any large number of departmental primary schools. Nineteen new schools were opened, but as seven were closed and one transferred to municipal management, the actual increase was only eleven. Particulars regarding the Government and Municipal primary schools in the six districts of the province are exhibited in the two following tables in which the fee receipts and expenditure are also contrasted :—

There was thus an advance under the three heads in the first table. The figures in the second show that, while the fee receipts and the expenditure from all the local funds increased, the cost to provincial revenues fell from Rs. 2-12-1 to Rs. 2-9-11. The results of the examinations of the primary schools by inspecting officers are almost the same as in the previous year, for out of a total of 17,973 pupils 10,928, or 60·8, passed in the several standards, against 17,885 and 10,849, or 60·7 per cent., in 1885-86.

Aided schools.

184. Schools receiving fixed monthly grants from Government remained the same as in 1885-86, but the attendance rose from 165 to 195. All these are reported to be doing well.

Indigenous schools.

185. The number of indigenous schools was 338, or 23 more than in the previous year, but the scholars fell from 3,758 to 3,667. As happens every year, many schools were closed, and a number of fresh starts made. So long as indigenous efforts continue to be so intermittent, there cannot be steady general progress. Out of a total of 3,667 pupils in these indigenous schools, 1,694 earned grants-in-aid, against 1,638 in 1885-86, but the total value of grants of all kinds fell from Rs. 6,341-12-3 to Rs. 6,189-1-6. It is satisfactory to learn that the number of indigenous schoolmasters who have been taught in Government schools is rapidly increasing. Of the 338 schools, 278 were inspected and examined during the year by the officers of the department.

Training college

186. Against 102 students undergoing training as schoolmasters on the 31st March 1886, there were 96 on the corresponding date of 1887, but the average number on the roll during the year remained the same. Of the 96 students, 72 were attached to the college and 20 to selected schools as pupil-teachers. Of the students attached to the college, 38 went up for the first year's course and 30 passed; 32 went up for the certificate examination and 22 passed; and finally 27 succeeded in obtaining employment. As regards pupil-teachers, the results are not so satisfactory: 23 went up for examination in the first year's course, and only 5 passed: however 7 of them succeeded in getting employment.

Examination for entrance into the Training College.

187. As against 149 candidates who appeared at the examination for admission into the Training College in 1885-86, there were only 100 in the year under report. Of the latter, 45 passed and 40 joined the college, 31 being on the Marathi and 9 on the Hindustani side.

Drawing.

188. Drawing is taught, not only in the Training College, but also in the two high schools; 54 pupils presented themselves at the examination held by the Principal of the Bombay School of Art with the result that 7 passed and obtained certificates and 15 won prizes. "These results," writes the Director, "are perhaps poor, but as this is quite a new field for our pupils, daily practice and growing experience may be expected to show better work year by year."

Female education, primary.

189. On the 31st of March 1887 there were 34 Government and Municipal schools and 1,134 pupils, against 31 and 953 at the close of the previous year. Five new schools were opened, and two were closed. While the number on the roll thus increased by 19 per cent., the amount of the fees collected also rose from Rs. 154-4-6 to Rs. 170-14-0, but the number of passes in the several standards fell from 284 to 261. Taking Government, Municipal, Aided, and Private schools, there were 38 in all with an attendance of 1,423 pupils, against 34 and 1,202 respectively in the previous year. Of the 1,423, 282 are reported to have passed in the several standards. Female education is still in its infancy, but from the exertions made by one or two of the Municipal Committees, there are good hopes of its taking a firm root in at least one or two of the centres of the province. "The Amraoti Municipal Committee," writes the Educational Inspector of the province, "have taken a lead by appointing a trained mistress to their girls' school, and I am glad to find that the mistress has succeeded in overcoming the prejudices of the townsmen and in raising the standard of instruction in her school." This statement is confirmed by the Director, who reports that considerable improvement is observable in the quality of instruction imparted.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

190. During the year under report a school was opened at Yeotmal for European and Eurasian children. It is attended by 12 pupils, of whom 6 are girls. A grant-in-aid of Rs. 65 was sanctioned on the understanding that an equivalent sum is contributed by the parents or guardians of the children. The time has not yet arrived to pronounce an opinion on this school.

Mahomedan education.

191. The total number of Mahomedans in all classes of schools under public management advanced from 5,292 in the previous to 5,708 in the year under report, while in the schools under private management it rose from 588 to 625. The total number examined under the several standards rose from 1,737 to 1,814, but the number who passed fell from 1,160 to 1,069. This is not attributed to any deterioration in the condition of the Hindustani schools, but to a change in the examining officer. That the education of Mahomedan children is receiving a fair amount of attention is clear from the fact that the percentage of Mahomedan pupils to the Mahomedan population of school-going age is 41·3 in the case of males and 2·4 in the case of females, as compared with 19·2 and ·6 in the case of Hindus.

Education of aborigines.

192. There are only two schools for the education of the children of the aborigines, both in the Melghat Taluk, with an attendance of 56 pupils, against 43 in the previous year. There were 10 passes by the first three standards at the annual examinations.

Education of low castes.

193. The number of low-caste pupils in the Government and Municipal schools of the province is gradually increasing. In 1883 it was 646; and in the year under report it was almost double that number, viz., 1,344. One boy is in the Akola High School, 88 are in middle class schools, and the rest in the primary schools, and their progress is reported to be fair.

Private schools.

194. There were 26 private schools with an attendance of 340 pupils; but they are of little public utility, for the boys, as stated in previous reports, are merely taught to repeat the Koran, the Vedas, or the multiplication tables, without understanding anything.

Physical education.

195. Physical education is beginning to be appreciated both by the people and by the pupils themselves. In the year under notice the number of gymnasia rose from 219 to 372, and the Director reports that the attractions of the playground and the gymnasium for Berar boys are growing year by year.

Castes of puplis.

196. A classification of the pupils by race or creed gives the following results for the past two years:—

		1885-86.	1886-87.
Hindus.	Brahmins	14·4	14·6
	Kunbis	24·3	24·2
	Low Castes	3·4	3·6
	Other Hindus	42·5	41·9
Parsees		·06	·03
Others		·008	·05

Popular contributions.

197. Popular contributions during the year amounted to Rs. 7,992-0-6, against Rs. 2,751-13-8 in 1885-86, but of the former sum Rs. 2,872 represent the estimated value of house accommodation given by the people for new schools, whereas the similar contributions in the previous year were not included. The greater part of the contributions was devoted to school-houses, Rs. 1,405 being assigned for the pay of teachers.

Fee receipts.

198. Income from fees in all classes of schools has been steadily advancing owing to the increase of schools and scholars. The amounts realized are compared below for the past two years:—

	1885-86. Rs.	a.	p.	1886-87. Rs.	a.	p.
High schools ...	3,397	8	0	3,905	8	0
Middle do. ...	9,228	7	3	10,055	1	3
Primary do. ...	26,087	0	11	27,209	0	3
Total ...	38,713	0	2	41,169	9	6

Expenditure.

199. The total expenditure on education rose from Rs. 3,89,392 to Rs. 4,02,782. The largest increases were in the case of Government primary schools and in grants-in-aid to public schools under private management. Of the total expenditure, Rs. 2,42,295 were met from provincial funds, Rs. 1,06,089 from educational cess, Rs. 39,324 from fees, and the balance from other local funds.

SECTION II.

Literature and the Press.

Text Book Committee.

200. A considerable amount of work is reported to have been done by the Text Book Committee during the year. It received 21 books and reported on 12.

Book Depôt.

201. The number of book depôts remained the same as in the previous year, viz., 1 central and 28 branch depôts. The stock account of these depôts is thus given for the year under report:—

Receipts.

	Copies.	Amount. Rs.	a.	p.
Balance on 31st March 1886	134,290	20,790	14	9
Books and maps purchased during the year ...	72,398	13,516	1	2
Total ...	206,688	34,306	15	11

Disbursements.

	Copies.	Amount. Rs.	a.	p.
Books and maps sold during the year ...	89,989	15,083	10	4
Balance on 31st March 1887	116,699	19,223	5	7
Total ...	206,688	34,306	15	11

Literature.

202. Thirteen books were registered under Act XXV of 1867: one was a hand-book in English on the Civil Account Code, while the remaining 12 were monthly numbers of the Berar School Paper. Three works were in circulation among the Members of the Committee for encouraging Vernacular Literature. A reward of Rs. 75 was granted for a work named "Madan Manjari," and in the case of two other works recommendations have been made for granting honoraria. Other works are still in circulation.

Press.

203. To the four newspapers in circulation in the province during 1885-86 there were three additions in the year under report. The following are the newspapers and periodicals now conducted :—

Newspapers.

1. Varhad Samachar	...	Weekly papers.
2. Vaidarbha ...	...
3. Shuddha Varhadi	...
4. Sagan Sudhapana	...
5. Varhad Darpana	...
6. Pramoda Sindhu	...
7. Suryakanta ...	...

Periodicals.

8. Berar School Paper	...	Monthly.
9. Shetkari ...	...

The last-named paper is printed at Poona, but continues to be published at the head-quarters of the province.

Public libraries.

204. The number of public libraries or reading rooms open was 28 in the year under report, against 18 in the preceding year. This improvement is matter for congratulation as showing that, with the general advance of education, a taste for some kind of reading is being created in the province.

SECTION III.

Arts and Sciences.

205. Under this head there is nothing to be noted.

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel.

MR. CORDERY held the office of Resident from the commencement of the year until 13th March 1888. He obtained 30 days' privilege leave in November 1887; during his absence Major Robertson held charge of the Residency. Mr. Howell, having been appointed Officiating Resident, assumed charge of his duties on March 14, 1888, and continued in charge of the Administration until the end of the year. Lieutenant Cornish, the Second Assistant, officiated as First Assistant from the commencement of the year until July 11, 1887, when he was relieved by Major Robertson. The latter was relieved on the 16th December by Mr. Forbes, who remained in charge until the year closed. During the period of Lieutenant Cornish's deputation the duties of Second Assistant and Assistant Secretary were carried on by Lieutenant Melvill, in addition to his own duties as Assistant Superintendent, Thagi and Dakaiti Department. Lieutenant Cornish resumed charge on July 11, 1887, and continued to hold the office until the end of the year. In the Berar Commission the duties of Commissioner were performed throughout the year by Mr. Leslie Saunders.

Survey.

2. Satisfactory progress was made by the forest survey party in the Melghat. The particulars furnished in the administration report of the previous year included work done up to the 30th April 1887. At the close of the working season of that year the total area surveyed amounted to 453 square miles comprising 245 square miles on the 4″ scale and 208 square miles on the 2″ scale. The party resumed work at the end of November 1887 and was still in the field when the year under report closed. The outturn of work up to the end of May 1888 was as follows:—

Area plane-tabled on 2″ scale	...	412·30 square miles.
Do. on 4″ do.	...	138·90 do.
Total	...	551·20 do.

The computations of the triangulation and traversing completed in the previous year were also got out of hand. The operations of the revenue survey were somewhat more satisfactory than in 1886-87, although, owing to certain inevitable difficulties, the outturn of area was not so much as was expected. The following figures contrast the results for the two years:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.
No. of fields measured ...	1,058, or 28,276 acres.	2,063, or 60,778 acres 19 guntas.
Do. classed ...	805, or 20,302 do.	2,008, or 52,714 do. 23 do.

The total cost of the operations was Rs. 18,971 as compared with Rs. 17,867 in the previous year.

Waste lands.

3. The number of leased villages during the year under report fell from 513 to 505, and the aggregate area from 9,20,861 to 9,09,369 acres. But the rental rose from Rs. 79,763 to Rs. 83,258.

Acts introduced and repealed.

4. Only one Act of the Legislative Council of India was applied to the province during the year under report; this was Act IV of 1884 (The Indian Explosives Act).

Police.

5. The total strength of the police force employed in the Province was 2,822. The usual difficulty was experienced in obtaining recruits. The health of the force was indifferent; as many as 58 deaths took place, the death-rate being the highest hitherto recorded since 1878. Cholera and fever were the chief causes of the unusually high mortality. A decided improvement was noticed in the conduct and discipline of the force.

Crime.

6. The number of cognizable cases reported to the police in the year was 7,803, showing no wide divergence from the average. In particular offences, considerable fluctuations however took place as compared with the preceding year. This was specially the case in murders and dakaitis, which were greatly in excess of the number reported in the previous year, when however the figures were unusually low. The Basim District suffered considerably from dakaitis. The notorious dakait and outlaw, Waghia Naikra, was killed by a village watchman in this district during the year. In the Amraoti District a large number of thefts was reported, but in the province generally this offence showed no remarkable increase. The value of property reported as stolen in the province was Rs. 1,77,005, the value recovered being Rs. 49,965. Of the cognizable cases, 4,717 ended in conviction. The number of non-cognizable offences reported was 5,252. In connection with these cases process was issued against 10,702 persons, of whom 3,245 were convicted.

Criminal Justice.

7. There were no special features in the administration of criminal justice during the year. The number of District Magistrates remained unchanged. There were altogether 44 Stipendiary and 16 Honorary Magistrates. The number of offences reported during the year was 15,699 comprising 11,737 under the Penal Code and 3,962 under special and local laws. The number of cases returned as true was 12,580, or 80·1 per cent. The proportion of persons tried for offences to the total population was 1 in 146. During the year 9,794 persons were punished. Of these, 5 were sentenced to be hanged, 8 to transportation for life, 1,684 to rigorous and 175 to simple imprisonment; 7,439 were fined, and 242 were sentenced to be whipped. Offences affecting the human body showed a considerable decrease. Offences against property numbered 4,273, against 4,201 in the previous year. Thefts showed an augmentation. Serious offences against the person increased from 89 to 101. The fines imposed amounted to Rs. 65,335 as against Rs. 61,939 in 1886, and the percentage of realizations was also less. There were 22,406 witnesses examined, of whom 83·9 per cent. were only detained for one day, 13·3 per cent. for two days, 1·9 per cent. for three days, and ·9 per cent. for more than three days. There were 6 European British subjects brought to trial, of whom four were convicted. There were 66 persons tried by the Sessions Court in its original jurisdiction, and 25 convicted. The total number of appeals for disposal before the High Court of the Resident was 36. Of this number, 34 were received during the year. As a Court of revision the Resident dealt with 56 cases. The subordinate appellate courts disposed of 496 appeals.

Prisons.

8. The jail population in the year was unusually low, its average daily strength falling to 890 from 1,047 in the preceding year. The release of a large number of prisoners on the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee and a decrease in the number of prisoners admitted were the chief causes of the reduction. Sentences of imprisonment passed in the year were also of less than average duration. The total number of persons who suffered incarceration in the year was 2,968. The number of previously-convicted prisoners admitted showed a slight decrease. The gross cost of the maintenance of the prison establishment was Rs. 84,505. Dearness of provisions and failure of the supply in the vegetable garden at Akola were the chief causes of the rise in expenditure that took place. Discipline among the prisoners continued good. Corporal punishments were inflicted in 20 cases only. The prison schools in the central jails at Akola and Amraoti produced satisfactory results. The mark system continued to work well. The cash income derived from the employment of prisoners showed a creditable increase. The jails suffered in common with outside localities from the general unhealthiness of the year under report; the number of deaths among the jail population was 25, of which 8 were caused by an outbreak of cholera in the Amraoti jail.

Civil Justice

9. The number of civil courts open was three less than in 1886. The total number of suits for disposal was 30,627, showing a decrease of ·8 per cent. as compared with 1886, and the number disposed of was 26,018, or 84·9 per cent.

Of suits instituted, 85·4 per cent. were for money due as compared with 86·2 per cent. in 1886. Suits on written obligations decreased from 14,749 to 13,917, and suits for money due otherwise than on bonds from 7,647 to 7,016. The aggregate value of suits capable of money valuation was Rs. 30,05,346-14-10, or an increase of Rs. 2,25,786-13-0 on the amount of the previous year. The average value accordingly increased from Rs. 108-1-2 to Rs. 118-0-10. The number of applications for execution of decrees during the year exceeded by 839 that presented in the previous year. The Courts disposed of 82 per cent. of the total number of 29,436 applications for disposal. The total value of the decrees in execution during the year was Rs. 2,36,979-12-7, against Rs. 2,57,058-6-1 in the preceding year. Of this, Rs. 13,179-7-11 were paid voluntarily, and Rs. 2,23,800-4-8 were realized by coercive process. The proportion realized voluntarily is for the province 5·5 per cent. of the whole. Including appeals pending from last year there were 971 appeals for disposal by the subordinate appellate courts, of which 632 were disposed of. Including 16 appeals which were filed during the year, the total number of second appeals for disposal in the Resident's Court was 33.

Registration.

10. The number of compulsory registrations effected in the year (18,089) was the highest hitherto recorded; and the increase took place in respect of all classes of documents. Optional registrations showed a slight recovery from the falling-off noticed in the previous year. The aggregate value of property transferred under registered documents rose from 57½ lakhs in the previous year to 62¾ lakhs in the year under report. The income of the department increased accordingly. The number and class of offices opened for registration business remained practically unaltered.

Municipalities.

11. The number of municipalities remained unchanged, nor was there any alteration in the constitution of the committees. No fresh taxation was imposed in the year. The gross income, excluding previous balances, amounted to Rs. 1,54,925, while expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,42,266. Several useful works were carried out at Akola, Amraoti, and Khamgaon; and there was a general increase in the sums expended on public health, convenience, and public instruction.

Agriculture.

12. By the detection and rectification of errors in some of the village papers there was an apparent addition of 179 acres to the area of the Province. The area under crops fell off by 18,651 acres, a result due partly to the unseasonable and excessive rain, and partly to the insufficiency of grazing land which necessitated an encroachment on cultivation. The decrease was only in the area under kharif crops, which fell off by 94,090 acres. The area under rabi showed an increase of 74,364 acres. The percentage of acreage under wheat rose from 14·4 to 16·4 per cent., while that under cotton fell from 32 to 29·8 per cent. The total area under irrigation exhibited a slight increase (51 acres) over the previous year. That under rice fell off by 2,242 acres, but this decrease was made good by an increase of 2,293 acres in the area under other irrigated crops. The experimental farm at Akola was discontinued, but that at Amraoti was worked throughout the year. Successful experiments were made in the cultivation of oats, wheat, and "bunee" or the long stapled cotton.

Rainfall.

13. The average rainfall for the whole province amounted to 52 inches as compared with 41·3 in the previous year. The principal characteristics of the rainfall were an extraordinarily heavy fall in the month of July and a somewhat unusual fall in the month of October, followed by a steady fall in the subsequent months.

Food-grains.

14. There were no remarkable variations in the average prices of wheat, rice, and gram; but owing to the unfavourable nature of the kharif harvest, the price of jowari, the staple food of the people, rose from 29 to 20 seers.

Veterinary.

15. The six Berar students studying at the Bombay veterinary college were well reported on at the close of the year. The year was remarkable for its comparative freedom from contagious diseases among cattle. The total number of deaths from rinderpest during the year was 1,016. Epizootic aphtha (foot-and-mouth disease) was also much less common than in the previous year. "Surra" or relapsing fever prevailed among the ponies belonging to the provincial postal dâk contractor and caused a large number of deaths, but the disease did not spread farther. Steady progress was made in horse-breeding operations during the year. One hundred and twenty-seven mares were served by the 11 Government stallions maintained. Mule-breeding failed owing to the caste prejudices of the people. Only five mares were served by the two donkey stallions lent by the department of horse-breeding operations. An attempt was made to establish a horse and cattle show for the province, and a meeting was held at Akola at the end of October, but owing, it is surmised, to the unsuitableness of the month, the attempt met with but partial success.

Agricultural stock.

16. The statistics of agricultural stock show an increase under all heads except "cows and bullocks," the decrease under which is ascribed to the prevalence of "foot-and-mouth" disease and also in some measure to false registration on the part of the owners to evade payment of the grazing fees.

Takavi.

17. Advances under the Land Improvement Act fell from Rs. 9,425 in 1886-87 to Rs. 4,450 in the year under report. The decrease is ascribed to the existing indebtedness of the cultivating class to money-lenders, the delay in granting the advance which the system entails, and to ignorance of the provisions of the Act.

Forests.

18. With the exception of a decrease of 25 square miles in district unreserved forests, the area of forest lands in the province remained the same as in the previous year. Breaches of forest rules fell from 406 in 1886-87 to 387 in the year under report. Protection from fire was not so successful as in the previous year. The successfully protected area fell off by 14,149 acres, and a corresponding increase occurred in the area over which protection failed. The expenditure under this head decreased from Rs. 5-11-5 per square mile in 1886-87 to Rs. 5-9-3. The financial results of the year were on the whole more satisfactory than in the previous year; an increase of Rs. 11,650 in the expenditure being more than counterbalanced by an increase of Rs. 79,800 in the revenue. The net surplus was Rs. 2,23,087 as compared with Rs. 1,54,937 in 1886-87, and is the highest on record.

Trade.

19. There was no change in the system of registering the rail-borne traffic which is the only trade now registered in Berar. The statistics were as usual furnished by the railway audit office at Bombay, which receives an annual subsidy for compiling them. The noticeable feature in the year's trade is the large decrease in the export of raw cotton, food-grains, and oil-seeds. The total value of the imports increased by Rs. 1,19,878, but that of the exports fell off by Rs. 1,35,42,786. Except from Bengal, the port of Bombay, Madras, and Hyderabad, imports increased in value. The bulk of the export traffic of the province is absorbed by the port of Bombay. The exports to this port as well as to the Bombay Presidency fell off considerably both in weight and value. On the other hand the value of exports to all other provinces showed a steady increase. The trade in the several fairs held in the province during the year was reported to be very satisfactory.

Public Works.

20. The disbursements from all sources on public works aggregated Rs. 19,10,919, being Rs. 3,23,115 in excess of the outlay of the previous year Under imperial works, grants of Rs. 2,53,500 and 29,900 were made for military and civil works respectively, and Rs. 2,41,786 and Rs. 28,154 of these amounts were expended. There was thus a lapse of Rs. 11,714 and Rs. 1,746 respectively under these heads. From the Berar provincial public works budget there was a grant of Rs. 12,85,000, of which Rs. 12,26,950 were utilized, showing a lapse of Rs. 58,050, or 4·52 of the budget grant. The grants from the 1 per cent. road cess and from incorporated and excluded local funds amounted to Rs. 95,700, Rs. 1,50,845, and Rs. 2,56,089 respectively. Of the first sum, Rs. 80,982 were expended mostly on repairs to roads; of the second, Rs. 49,143 were spent chiefly on educational works; and of the last, Rs. 1,95,112 were utilized, of which more than half represents outlay on original works. The principal work in progress from imperial funds consisted of auxiliary buildings and officers' quarters for the British cavalry and of improvements to the entrenchment at Trimulgherry; also of other works of a miscellaneous character shown under the head of civil buildings. The most important works carried out from provincial funds were in connection with the accommodation of the Hyderabad Contingent troops in the cantonments of Aurungabad, Hingoli, Raichur, Ellichpur, and Mominabad. The progress made as regards kacheries and other revenue and judicial buildings in Berar, as well as jail, police, and educational structures, was satisfactory. Upwards of four lakhs of rupees were spent on the construction and improvement of roads intended for the benefit and development of trade. The head of miscellaneous public improvements includes the project for supplying the civil station of Amraoti with water, which was nearly completed.

Railways.

21. The progress of the Berar State railways was as follows:—The working expenses on the Khamgaon line were Rs. 36,489 against gross receipts of Rs. 53,479, showing a net profit of Rs. 16,990 equivalent to 3·47 per cent. on the capital outlay. On the Amraoti line the gross receipts amounted to Rs. 88,157, and the working expenses to Rs. 52,303, thus yielding a net profit of Rs. 35,854, equivalent to 8·07 on the capital outlay. The following table shows the financial results of the working of these two lines from period of construction up to date:—

	Capital outlay.	Simple interest on capital account.	Net revenue realized.	Loss or gain.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Amraoti Railway	4,44,207	3,08,780	4,30,932	+1,22,152
Khamgaon Railway	4,89,106	3,58,184	2,01,140	—1,57,044

The Amraoti railway has thus been a financial success, whereas the Khamgaon line has so far not paid well.

Revenue and Finance.

22. Turning to the financial condition of the province, the gross revenue amounted to Rs. 1,14,51,079, and the total disbursements to Rs. 96,62,722. Omitting from calculation the receipts and disbursements under incorporated and excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 17,36,503. The amount actually paid to His Highness' Government was Rs. 19,73,383; this represents the entire surplus of the year 1886-87 and the balance of 1885-86 unpaid in 1886-87 owing to the working cash balance in that year not permitting of the payment of the entire surplus. The accrued surplus in favour of His Highness the Nizam on the 31st March 1888 was Rs. 43,89,608. Of the gross income, Rs. 98,71,201 formed provincial, Rs. 6,03,676 incorporated, and Rs. 9,76,202 excluded local funds. There were Rs. 81,34,698 of the provincial, Rs. 9,24,348 of the excluded local funds, and the whole of the incorporated local funds revenue utilized. In the year under report the new provincial contract resulted in a deficit of Rs. 1,27,402, which was met from the balance at credit of the Resident at the close of the previous year, leaving at his credit Rs. 18,87,090; this balance lapses, and a new special account was ordered to be opened for the year 1888-89 with a balance of five lakhs. The principal sources of income other than land revenue exhibiting an increase, were stamps, forest, registration, law and justice, courts of law, police, education, receipts in aid of superannuation, stationery and printing, miscellaneous, civil works, army—Hyderabad Contingent,—and contribution from local to provincial. On the other hand the statistics under the heads of opium, excise, provincial rates, interest, law and justice, jails, State railways, and contribution from provincial to local show reduced receipts. The total disbursements show a net increase of Rs. 2,19,511, being chiefly under military and civil works, while the total receipts show a net increase of Rs. 1,01,814 principally under land revenue and forest.

Vital Statistics.

23. The year was particularly unhealthy, and the death-rate high. Cholera appeared in an epidemic form in April and caused great mortality. To this and to an unusually heavy rainfall the high death-rate is attributed. The total number of recorded deaths was 118,797, exceeding by 22,251 the number registered in the previous year, and by 12,650 the total number of births recorded in the year under report. Infants below one year of age appear to have enjoyed comparative immunity from the insanitary influences of the year. Of the different districts, Amraoti, which suffered severely from cholera, had the highest and Wun the lowest death-rate. The death-rate for the year was 44·5 per mille as compared with 36·7 per mille in the previous year. The number of births registered was 106,147, as compared with 98,229 in the previous year. Urban as compared with rural registration remained defective, though showing some improvement; the registering establishments on the whole improved. Of the births registered, 54,711 were of males and 51,436 of females. In the different districts the highest rate was recorded in Buldana, and the lowest in Wun. The birth-rate for the year was 40·5 per mille.

Medical Relief.

24. The number of institutions for medical relief was increased by the opening of a new dispensary. The number of patients treated rose from 234,595 in the previous year to 248,510, of whom 246,150 were out-door and 2,360 in-door patients. This increase was partly the natural outcome of the unhealthiness of the year, partly due to the opening of the new dispensary mentioned, and in some measure to the increasing popularity of the institutions. Fever of a malarious type was, as usual, the disease for which there were the most admissions. The number of major operations performed was 325. The total receipts of the dispensaries amounted to Rs 1,04,210, against Rs. 86,531 in the previous year. With a view of rendering the dispensaries more self-supporting, the question of introducing a moderate scale of fees leviable from well-to-do patients was revived at the close of the year. The steady growth year by year of the attendance at these institutions is a conclusive sign of their growing popularity and usefulness.

Sanitation.

25. Neither in the municipalities nor in the districts were any sanitary works on a large scale undertaken, but the ordinary minor conservancy and sanitary works were prosecuted with fair success. The expenditure (Rs. 84,155 municipal and Rs. 1,03,390 non-municipal) was above the average. The most important work completed was the drainage of the town of Khamgaon. For the civil station of Amraoti, where a good drainage system is much needed, a similar scheme, estimated to cost Rs. 48,431, was taken in hand. A scheme for the water-supply of Akola was under consideration. Owing to the vigorous action of the authorities in enforcing regulations, the sanitary condition of the towns and villages in the Basim District was much improved.

Vaccination.

26. The total number of vaccine operations performed by all establishments was 97,158. The figure reached would doubtless have been larger had it not been necessary to employ the majority of the vaccinators on special cholera duty during four months of the year. An appreciable increase took place in re-vaccinations. The total expenditure incurred fell from Rs. 17,119 in the previous year to Rs. 16,770, and the average cost of each successful operation was reduced from 3-3 as. to 3-1 as. Steady progress under unfavourable circumstances was the feature of the administration of the vaccination establishment in the year.

Education.

27. Owing to the unhealthiness of the seasons the year was not favourable for the general progress of education. Although the number of schools increased by 45, the number of scholars was almost the same as in the previous year. On the other hand education gained by the conversion of a number of private schools, in which the instruction imparted was of a relatively low type, into "aided schools" teaching up to the Government standard, and subject to the control of the educational department. In the two high schools at Akola and Amraoti the results of the matriculation examination were creditable to the head masters, but the middle or anglo-vernacular schools did not show improved results. There was no change in the number of primary schools for boys under the control of the department and of municipalities; the total number of scholars fell off by 1,345. Female education showed a slight advance. The number of Government and municipal primary schools for girls increased by 2, and the total number of scholars by 79. A slight advance was also made in the education of Muhammadans. Physical education maintained its popularity as in the previous year. There were 397 gymnasia as against 372 in the previous year. The training college for schoolmasters did satisfactory work and turned out a fair proportion of qualified teachers. The total expenditure of the year rose from Rs. 4,02,782 to Rs. 4,24,984. Of the total outlay, Rs. 2,51,139 was provided from provincial revenues, Rs. 1,17,021 from the educational cess, Rs. 41,361 from fees, and the balance from local funds and subscriptions.

" III.—Form of Administration.
" IV.—Character of Land Tenures.
" V.—Civil Divisions.
" VI.—Details of last Census.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

2. Mr. J. G. Cordery, C.S.I., continued to hold charge of the Administration till the 13th March 1888, when he was compelled by ill health to proceed on leave to Europe. During his absence for a month on privilege leave in November 1887, the charge of the Hyderabad Residency devolved on Major Robertson, the First Assistant. Mr. A. P. Howell, B.C.S., having been appointed to officiate as Resident, assumed charge of his duties on the 14th March 1888 and continued in charge of the Administration until the end of the year.

Lieutenant W. H. Cornish received charge of the office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar from Mr. A. H. T. Martindale, M.C.S., on the afternoon of the 28th March 1887, on the transfer of the latter officer to Quetta, and continued to hold charge of the office until relieved by Major D. Robertson on the forenoon of the 11th July 1887. Major Robertson was relieved on the forenoon of the 16th December 1887 by Mr. G. S. Forbes, M.C.S., who was in office at the close of the year.

During the period of Lieutenant Cornish's deputation, the office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar was held by Lieutenant P. J. Melvill in addition to his own duties as Assistant General Superintendent of Operations for the Suppression of Thagi and Dakaiti. Lieutenant Cornish resumed charge on the 11th July 1887 and continued to hold the office until the close of the year.

In the Berar Commission the duties of the Commissioner continued to be performed throughout the year by Mr. Leslie Saunders, B.C.S. The office of Judicial Commissioner was held by Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski in consequence of the departure of Colonel J. G. Bell on furlough.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Forest Survey.

4. Considerable progress was made by the forest survey party employed in the Melghat. In paragraph 4 of the Administration Report for the previous year details of the areas surveyed were furnished up to the 30th April 1887. The survey party remained in the field till the 25th June, and at the close of the working season of that year the total area surveyed amounted to 453 square miles comprising 245 square miles on the 4″ scale and 208 square miles on the 2″ scale. The party resumed work at the end of November 1887, and two detachments were sent into the western and north-western parts of the Melghat. In the middle of January 1888 a third detachment was sent to work along the southern boundary of the Melghat, and towards the end of the same month a fourth detachment was sent to complete the survey of the Bairagarh Reserve, which it finished early in May 1888. The party was still in the field when the year under report closed; hence separate figures for the year in question have not been furnished. The following extract from the report of the Superintendent of the forest survey branch shows the work done by the party from the time it resumed operations till the end of May 1888:—

"An effort was to be made to complete the survey of the Melghat Taluk, but the area remaining to be surveyed was a large one, and it was soon evident that, unless the two detachments in the south and west were materially strengthened, this would be impossible. Accordingly the detachment in the Bairagarh Reserve, which formed the nucleus of a larger one destined for work in Bashahr, was detained and sent to the Western Melghat, and another small one of three surveyors was ordered down from Jabalpur.

"The party is still in the field, and it is not possible therefore to give accurate areas to date, but the out-turn to the end of May was as follows:—

"Area plane-tabled on 2″ scale	...	...	412·30 square miles.
Do. do. 4″ do.	...	...	138·90 do.
	Total	...	551·20 do.

" and the approximate area surveyed up to date, 650 square miles, the largest out-turn yet accomplished since the beginning of the Melghat Survey. * *"

"The village demarcation is, of course, completed, but a question has arisen in connection with the boundary line between the Melghat and the Nimar District of the Central Provinces. Proposals have been submitted for its settlement, but up to date no decision has been arrived at. Temporary marks (in addition to the existing ones) have, however, been set up on what is considered to be the correct boundary line, and it is anticipated that a re-survey of the line will not be necessary.

"The computations of the triangulation and traversing completed last year have been got out of hand.

"The following maps have been published:—

"On the 4″ scale, No. 26 N.W. and 20 S.E., comprising the villages of Borala, Gondwagholi, and Nandadari, and on the 2″ scale Nos. 20 S.E., 20 S.W., 27 N.W., and 27 S.W.

"The following sheets have been drawn and are ready for examination before being sent to the press, viz.:—

"Nos. $19\frac{NE}{1}$, $19\frac{NE}{2}$, $19\frac{NW}{1}$, $19\frac{NW}{2}$, $26\frac{NW}{3}$, $26\frac{SW}{1}$, $26\frac{SW}{3}$, $26\frac{SW}{4}$, all on the 4″ scale, and Nos. 20 N.E. and 20-A N.E. on the 2″ scale.

"And the drawing of the following sheets is well advanced:—

"Nos. $19\frac{NE}{4}$, $19\frac{SW}{4}$, $20\frac{NW}{1}$, and $20\frac{NW}{2}$ on the 4″ scale, and No. 20 N. W. on the 2″ scale."

Revenue Survey.

5. The result of the operations of the Survey and Settlement Department during the year under report was somewhat more satisfactory than in the previous year, although owing partly to some of the measurers having been told off at the beginning of the year to examine boundary-marks and calculate the trees in izara villages, and partly to difficulties arising out of the peculiarities of the land to be measured, the out turn of area was not so much as was expected. The following figures compare the total out-turn for the year under report with that of the previous year:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.
Numbers of fields measured ...	1,508 or 28,276 acres	... 2,063 or 60,778 acres 19 guntas
Do. classed ...	805 or 20,302 „	... 2,008 or 52,714 „ 23 „

The Survey and Settlement Officer furnishes the following details of the work done:—

"Of the measured area, 194 numbers with 5,111 acres 17 guntas were tested, equal to 9·4 of numbers and 8·4 of area. The test of 170 numbers were classed with an area of 4,391 acres, equal to 8·4 and 8·3 respectively of the whole classification, the results being on the whole satisfactory, though, owing to the uneven country and thick undergrowth in which the measurers were generally employed, the percentage between test and original measurement was higher than would appear in more open country.

"The average number of measuring working days was 30·71 and of classification 10·29 The average of each measurer's daily work was 60 acres 4 guntas, and of each classer 155 acres 24 guntas. 163¼ days were devoted to boundary-mark inspection at the average rate of 11½ numbers inspected per diem; 97½ will be found entered under this head for izara villages.

"The total expenditure was Rs. 18,971-6-0, of which Rs. 17,812-13-2 were on account of salaries. The total expenditure under the head of boundary-marks for mounds and stones erected in culturable and unculturable land was Rs. 2,828-14-6, Wun District, and Rs. 312-11-0, Basim District."

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

6. The number of villages leased under the Waste Land Rules fell from 513 to 505. The decrease was due to six izara villages whose leases had expired having been made "khalsa" villages and to two integral waste villages having come under cultivation and been included in the number of khalsa villages. The area of all these villages decreased from 920,861 to 909,369 acres. But the rental rose from Rs. 79,763 to Rs. 83,258.

SECTIONS III AND IV.

7. There are no Wards' or Government Estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Course of Legislation.

8. Only one Act of the Legislative Council of the Governor-General of India was made applicable to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year nnder report: this was Act IV of 1884 (The Indian Explosives Act).

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

9. The full strength of the Police in the year under report was 2,822 as compared with 2,762 in 1886. Measures to reduce the number of camel sowars and to strengthen the reserves were taken in the course of the year. The usual difficulty was experienced in obtaining recruits. The total strength of the force gave one policeman to an area of 6·2 square miles, and one to every 946 persons of the population of the Province.

Composition and health of the force.

10. The health of the force was not good. The death-rate, 20·5 per thousand, was the highest recorded, except that of 1878. The total number of deaths in the force was 58, against 22 in 1886. Cholera and fever both contributed to the heavy death-rate. Omitting vacancies, of which there were 57 at the close of the year, the details of the force according to race and caste or religion were as follows :—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	17	9
Mahomedans	181	940
Brahmins	180	389
Rajputs	41	167
Sikhs	11	11
Hindus of all other denominations	105	713
	535	2,229

Conduct and discipline.

11. There was a perceptible improvement in the conduct and discipline of the force. The number of punishments, both departmental and judicial, fell from 332 and 50 respectively in 1886 to 279 and 39 in the year under report. The number of men rewarded by promotion was 59 and by grants of money 28, as against 30 and 55 respectively in 1886.

Resignations and entertainments.

12. The total number of men who left the force from all causes was 326 as compared with 295 in the previous year. Of these, 54 retired on pension or gratuity, 134 resigned, 54 were dismissed, 24 discharged, and 2 deserted, while 58 died. As regards service, in addition to the 341 men newly entertained, there were 1,348 with service ranging from one to ten years, and 1,067 with service of ten years and upwards.

Equipment.

13. There was no change in the equipment of the force. Excluding gazetted officers, the number of men supplied with fire-arms was 1,387; with swords only or with swords and batons, 460; and with batons only, 966.

State of crime.

14. The total number of cases of cognizable crime reported during the year was 7,803. Of these, 7,705 were investigated, while 98 were rejected as false. This number and the distribution per district did not materially differ from that reached in the previous year: however in particular offences more marked fluctuations took place. Of the cases classed as cognizable, 3,010 were cases of petty nuisance. As the average price of food-grains was somewhat higher than that ruling in the four preceding years, the total result may be taken to show that there was no falling-off in the efficiency of the force. Subjoined is a comparative statement classifying the offences of the year under report and that preceding it :—

	1886.	1887.
Class I—Offences against the State and public tranquillity ...	98	96
„ II—Serious offences against the person	249	228
„ III—Serious offences against person and property or property only	1,055	1,134
„ IV—Minor offences against the person	178	175
„ V— Do. against property	2,849	2,860
	7,641	7,705

Heinous crime.

15. The total number of murders rose from 23 to 38; in 1886 the number of murders committed however was exceptionally small. There were no convictions for murder of illegitimate children.

Dakaitis rose from 6 to 13, but again the figure for 1886 was unusually low as compared with those for the two previous years. Of the dakaitis, 9 occurred in the Basim District, which is, by reason of its situation on the boundary, specially liable to this class of crime. As regards the province generally, the returns of this crime were not unsatisfactory. The career of a notorious outlaw, Waghia Naikra, was brought to a close during the year. He was killed while attempting, in conjunction with four other persons, to commit a dakaiti on the village of Vidal in the Basim District. One dakaiti in the Melghat of the Ellichpur District was surmised to have been committed under the leadership of one of Tantia Bhil's gang, but there is no reason to believe that Tantia himself was present. The total number of robberies rose from 24 to 26. The number was still below the average of the past four years. House-breakings increased from 909 to 981, and thefts from 2,301 to 2,367; however the figures were below those for 1885. In house-breakings the total value of property stolen and recovered was as under :—

	1886. Rs. a. p.	1887. Rs. a. p.
Stolen	77,342 10 2	1,06,085 7 10
Recovered	16,993 11 2	21,709 0 7
Percentage recovered ...	21·9	20·4

Thefts.

16. Classified according to the value of property stolen, the figures under the head of theft exhibit no material variations in the two years. The figures are compared below :—

	1886.	1887.
Under Rs. 10	1,599	1,673
From Rs. 10 to Rs. 100	586	571
From Rs. 100 to Rs. 1,000	113	121
Over Rs. 1,000	3	2
	2,301	2,367

The largest number of thefts occurred in the Amraoti District.

Police action.

17. As regards the working of the Police, the figures below present the results of police action for the past two years:—

Cases.

	1886.	1887.
(a) Cases occurred inclusive of old cases investigated during the year and pending from the previous year ...	7,770	7,848
(b) Investigated by the Police suo motu, as well as by order of the Magistrate, &c.	6,090	6,299
(c) Ending in conviction, all cases as (a) above ...	4,749	4,717
(d) Cases investigated by the Police and ending in conviction	4,236	4,311
(e) Percentage of all cases ending in conviction to occurred, (c) to (a) as above	61·1	60·1

Persons.

	1886.	1887.
(f) Total number of persons arrested and summoned pending from last year, received by transfer, arrested by the Police and appearing under the orders of the Magistrate.	8,309	8,188
(g) Arrested by the Police	5,815	6,097
(h) Placed before a Magistrate by his order	8,105	7,928
(i) Convicted	5,784	5,806
(j) Of those arrested by the Police, convicted by Magistrate, by Sessions or High Court	4,941	5,141
(k) Property stolen	Rs. 1,41,369	1,77,005
(l) Property recovered	„ 43,011	49,965
(m) Percentage of recoveries	30·4	28·2

Non-cognizable crime.

18. The statistics of non-cognizable crime in the year under report and that preceding it are as follows:—

		1886.		1887.
Cases instituted by complaint	5,897		4,730
Taken up by Magistrate of his own motion ...	36		522
		5,933		5,252
No. of cases in which the Police were employed to make enquiry.		76		63
No. of cases in which process issued		5,651		5,186
No. of persons against whom process issued		12,062		10,702
Do. acquitted		6,138		6,677
Do. convicted		4,338		3,245

Photographing of old offenders.

19. A system of photographing habitual offenders was introduced in the year. This, it is hoped, will prove of especial value in tracing criminals belonging to nomadic tribes.

Railway Police.

20. The working of this branch of the force is exhibited in the table below. The force was not on the whole so successful as in the previous year.

Cases ...	Occurred	46	43
	Detected	23	15
Persons ...	Arrested	43	28
	Convicted	27	19
Value of property.	Stolen ...	Rs. 942	3,841
	Recovered ...	„ 551	339

Relations between the Police and the Magistracy.

21. Steps are being taken to define more clearly than is the case at present the relations between the Police and the Magistracy.

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

Tribunals.

22. The number of criminal courts open at the close of the year was one in excess of the number shown last year, viz.:—

1 Resident's Court (High Court).
1 Judicial Commissioner's Court (Sessions Court).
6 Deputy Commissioners exercising powers under Section 30 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.
18 First Class Magistrates.
20 Second Class Magistrates.
6 Third Class Magistrates.
14 Special Magistrates.
2 Benches of Magistrates.

68 Total.

Amount of crime.

23. The annexed table exhibits the number of offences reported and struck off the register of offences as well as the cases brought to trial before the criminal courts in each of the last two years:—

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under Section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
		No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent
1886 ...	16,017	2,104	13·2	742	4·6	13,171	82·2	11,413	71·2
1887 ...	15,699	2,507	15·97	612	3·9	12,580	80·1	10,809	68·8

It will be seen from the above that there was an increase in the number of complaints summarily dismissed, a result primâ facie indicative of greater care in the examination of complainants.

There was a decrease in the number of offences struck off the register.

The following is an abstract comparing the offences in each class with the number for the preceding year:—

	1887.	1886.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the State	...	...	...	...
Do. relating to the Army and Navy ...	...	...	...	...
Do. against the public tranquillity... ...	119	117	2	...
Do. by or relating to public servants ...	4	16	...	12
Contempts of the lawful authority of servants ...	288	428	...	140
False evidence and offences against public justice ...	52	68	...	16
Offences relating to coin and Government stamps ...	14	12	2	...
Do. relating to weights and measures ...	64	73	...	9
Do. affecting the public health, safety, convenience, decency and morals	442	324	118	...
Do. relating to religion	7	9	...	2

Serious offences against the person increased by 12; the increase occurring chiefly under the head of murder and grievous hurt. The increase in murder cases was mainly confined to the Ellichpur District.

Serious offences against the person and property, or against property only, showed an increase, and of the more important descriptions of offences coming under this class, dakaiti was more largely represented than in 1886, the increase being from 8 to 18. Out of these 18 cases, 1 was accompanied with murder, and in 8 there was an attempt to cause death or grievous hurt. On the other hand robberies were fewer by 3.

The number of persons (including those awaiting trial at the close of 1886) dealt with by Magistrates was 18,610, and they were thus dealt with:—

	No.	Per cent.
Died, &c.	288	1·6
Discharged or acquitted	9,002	48·7
Convicted	9,041	48·9
Committed and referred	146	0·8

The proportion of persons convicted is one per cent. less, and of persons discharged or acquitted after trial, one per cent. greater than in 1886.

Distribution of work.

24. The following table gives the number of cases disposed of by the various courts during the last three years:—

Courts.	Cases disposed of.			Percentage.
	1887.	1886.	1885.	1887.	1886.	1885.

Special Magistrates ...	2,371	3,306	4,777	21·8	28·5	35·9

The number of cases disposed of by the Deputy and Assistant Commissioners was less than during the previous year, while the Tahsildars have as usual done most of the work.

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

25. Of 69 cases involving 117 persons disposed of by Deputy Commissioners in exercise of their enhanced powers, 52 persons or 44·4 were convicted, and 65 or 5·56 were acquitted or discharged. Of those convicted, 94·6 per cent. were sentenced to imprisonment for terms varying from six months to seven years.

The average duration of cases tried by Magistrates, including cases under Section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code, was 5·6 as against 5·5 in 1886.

Summary trials.

26. During the year under report 476 cases involving 718 persons were tried summarily, thus showing a small increase. Of the persons tried summarily 119 were acquitted and 519 convicted, against 69 and 586 respectively in the previous year.

Jurisdiction over European British subjects.

27. Six European British subjects were brought to trial during the year against seven in the previous year. Of these, four were convicted and two acquitted or discharged.

The following table gives the details of the sentences passed by all Courts :—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total number of persons punished.	Persons sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

Fines.

28. The total amount of fines imposed, realized, and paid as compensation was as follows :—

Year.	Fines imposed.	Realized.	Compensation paid.
1886 ...	61,939 ...	53,328 ...	4,873
1887 ...	65,335 ...	50,547 ...	5,610

Witnesses.

29. The total number of witnesses examined—22,406—by all Courts was slightly less than in 1886.

The details of the periods during which witnesses were detained in the District Courts are as follows :—

	Percentage: 1886.	1887.
Discharged on the first day ...	78·9 ...	83·9
Do. second day ...	14·9 ...	13·3
Do. third day ...	4·2 ...	1·9
Detained more than three days ...	2·0 ...	·9

The total number of witnesses detained for more than three days was 320 (as against 697 in 1886) ; and of these, 179 were discharged on the fourth day and the rest from the fifth to the twelfth day. These figures indicate a considerable improvement over the previous year's report.

Proportion of offenders and witnesses to population.

30. The proportion of persons tried for offences to the total population of the province was 1 in 146, as against 1 in 132 in the preceding year. The proportion of witnesses was 1 in 81, against 1 in 76 in 1886.

Sessions Court.

31. The amount of work disposed of by the Sessions Court in 1887 and the preceding year will be seen from the following abstract :—

Year.	Persons disposed of during the year.	Convicted and sentenced to death.	Convicted and sentenced to transportation.	Convicted and sentenced otherwise.	Acquitted, &c.
1887 ...	66	5	8	12	41
1886 ...	31	4	9	7	11

The percentage of convictions to disposals was 87·8, against 64·5 in the previous year.

Five persons were sentenced to be hanged. Of these five, the sentence of one was commuted by the Resident as High Court to transportation for life.

Of the 28 sessions trials, 24 were held with the assistance of assessors. In 12 of the cases the Sessions Judge agreed with all the assessors.

The average duration of trials in the Courts of Session was higher (65 days) than in 1886 (38·9).

Appeals.

32. The number of criminal appeals disposed of by Deputy Commissioners was 300 against 302 in 1886, and by the Judicial Commissioner 196 against 155.

The annexed statement shows the number of appeals decided by the Deputy Commissioners and the Judicial Commissioner and the manner in which they were disposed of:—

	Appeals rejected.	Sentences confirmed.	Sentences reduced.	Sentences reversed.	Proceedings quashed.	Total.
By Deputy Commissioners ...	128	61	41	69	1	300
By Judicial Commissioner ...	138	13	8	37	...	196

The average duration of appeals in the Deputy Commissioners' and Judicial Commissioner's Courts was 16·9 and 24·4 days respectively, as compared with 11·1 and 18·9 days in the preceding year.

There were 34 criminal appeals presented to the Resident, which with 2 pending from 1886 made a total file of 36. Of these, 24 appeals were summarily rejected, in 3 the sentence was reduced, and in 8 the decision of the lower court was confirmed, leaving 1 case pending at the close of the year.

The number of cases which came before the Resident as a Court of Revision was 51, and 5 were pending from the previous year. The total file was 56, of which 48 were disposed of, leaving 8 pending at the end of the year. In 23 interference was declined, in 4 the decision of the lower court was confirmed, and in 3 reversed. The sentence was enhanced in 2 and reduced in 5 cases. In 11 cases the proceedings were quashed and new trial ordered.

SECTION IV.

Prisons.

Jail population.

33. The total jail population at the opening of the year was 1,144 as compared with 1,118 in 1886. The total number of prisoners admitted was 2,873 against 3,015 in 1886, while the direct admissions amounted to 1,690 as compared with 1,751 in the previous year. A decrease to the extent of 13·9 per cent. in the daily average strength of all prisoners took place. This marked variation was due to the release of a large number of prisoners on the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee and to the fact that on the whole the sentences of imprisonment inflicted were of less than average duration. The decreased number of admissions already noticed further contributed to this result.

No. of convicts and their disposal.

34. The same causes contributed to the reduction of the daily average strength of the convict population, which fell from 1047·9 to 890·7. Omitting under-trial and civil prisoners, the following figures show the number of convicts in the jails and the manner in which they were disposed during the year:—

Remaining at the end of 1886	...	1,098

Classification of convicts.

35. Of the 1,690 convicts admitted into jail, 1,563 were males and 127 females. They included 2 Christians (Native), 266 Muhammadans, 1,420 Hindus and Sikhs, and 2 Buddhists and Jains. There were 28 convicts under 16 years of age, 1,472 between the ages of 16 and 40, 180 between the ages of 40 and 60, and 10 above the age of 60. Of the females, 97 were married, 5 unmarried, 23 were widows, and 2 prostitutes.

Previous occupation of convicts.

36. The figures relating to the occupation followed by the convicts before their admission are as follows:—

	1886.	1887.
Persons employed under Government or Municipal or other local authorities	68	63
Professional persons	20	24
Persons in service or performing personal offices ...	78	58
Persons engaged in agriculture, &c.	342	277
Persons engaged in commerce and trade ...	71	59
Persons employed in mechanical arts, manufactures and engineering operations, &c.	11	13
Miscellaneous persons not classed otherwise ...	1,037	1,069

The number of "professional persons" and those engaged in engineering operations as well as these indicated as "miscellaneous persons not classed otherwise" slightly exceeded the corresponding figures for the previous year, but there was a decrease under all other heads.

Nature, and length of sentence.

37. The statistics relating to the sentences awarded to the convicts show that 129 underwent simple imprisonment, 1,338 were sentenced to rigorous imprisonment, 162 to rigorous imprisonment with solitary confinement, and 61 to rigorous imprisonment with whipping. The terms of imprisonment to which the convicts were sentenced in the year under report are exhibited in the table below, together with similar figures for the year preceding:—

	1886.	1887.
Not exceeding one year	1,515	1,506
Above 1 year and not exceeding 5 years ...	210	146
Above 5 years and not exceeding 10 years ...	12	25
Exceeding 10 years	1	...
Sentenced to transportation	9	9
Do. to death	4	4
Total ...	1,751	1,690

Previous convictions.

38. The number of convicts admitted into jail who had been previously convicted fell from 290 in 1886 to 283; of these, 176 had been once previously in jail, 53 twice, and 54 more than twice. Of 28 prisoners under 16 years of age admitted in the year, 4 had been previously convicted.

Escapes and recaptures.

39. One prisoner who eluded his watchers while working outside the jail precincts was recaptured by the police on the same night on which he escaped.

Offences and punishments.

40. Offences against jail discipline rose from 438 to 567, but more than half of the punishments noted were merely cautions. Of the jail offences, 3 were dealt with by the Magistracy against 5 in 1886. Corporal punishments fell from 21 to 20.

Jail schools.

41. A regular system of education exists in the two central jails at Akola and Amraoti, by means of which instruction is imparted to convicts who are sentenced to terms of imprisonment exceeding two years. Of this class, 120 prisoners who had been under instruction in the jail were released in the course of the year. On release 46 could read and write well, 48 a little, while 26 had not profited by the instruction received. On admission 101 had been unable to read and write at all, 16 could read and write a little, and 3 well.

Convict officers.

42. Of the 126 prisoners employed as convict officers, 120 were males and 6 females, against 94 and 4 respectively in 1886. Of the male officers, 21 were reduced or otherwised punished.

Releases and remissions on account of Her Majesty's Jubilee.

43. The total number of remissions and releases granted on the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee was as follows :—

Convicts released	260
Convicts credited with partial remissions ...	557
Civil debtors	1

These figures, which have been revised, differ slightly from those shown in last year's report.

Mark system.

44. The mark system continued to work well. No convict eligible under the system failed to profit by its provisions.

Occupation of convicts.

45. The average number of convicts kept to labour on working days and details as to their employment, &c., are shown in the table below :—

	1886.	1887.
Average number under sentence of labour on working days	893·88	765·59
On unremunerative labour	3·80	2·03
„ prison duties	405·64	328·24
„ jail buildings	54·14	37·98
„ manufactures	397·23	367·97
„ public works	0·63	...
Hired out to municipalities	0·36	..
Sick	12·13	13·35
Convalescent and infirm	19·95	15·52

Manufactures.

46. The net cash income derived from the employment of prisoners on manufactures was Rs. 12,340 as compared with Rs. 11,395 in 1886. This result was obtained by a convict population 15 per cent. less than that in the previous year. The average earnings per head of all convicts sentenced to labour rose from Rs. 11-1-0 to Rs. 14-2-0, and the earnings of each convict actually employed on manufactures from Rs. 28-11-0 to Rs. 33-8-0. The best results were obtained in the Yeotmal and Buldana jails, in which the earnings per head were nearly Rs. 63. There was a rise in the earnings in the Amraoti jail, but the averages in the Akola and Basim jails fell off.

Health.

47. Temporary overcrowding in the district jails was met by transfers to the central jails. The year was unusually unhealthy. Cholera of a virulent type broke out in the Amraoti jail, causing 8 deaths. The total number of deaths that occurred in the year was 25 against 12 in 1886.

The following is an abstract of the health figures for the past three years:—

	1885.	1886.	1887.
Ratio per mille of average strength of admissions into hospital ...	551·9	494·1	719·9
Ratio per mille of daily average number sick	14·0	11·1	15·1
Rate per mille of deaths in and out of hospital	19·1	11·0	26·7

Of the total number of 1,963 prisoners discharged in the course of the year, 278 quitted prison in the same physical condition in which they entered it, 1,351 gained, while 331 had lost weight.

48. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners was Rs. 84,505 as compared with Rs. 65,143 in 1886. The gross average cost per head was Rs. 68-14-2 as against Rs. 59-15-1. The increase was caused by dearness of provisions and failure of the vegetable supply in the Akola jail gardens. The comparatively small number of the convict population further affected adversely the average incidence per head of the expenditure on fixed charges. Expenditure.

SECTION V.

Civil Justice.

49. The total number of civil courts open at the close of the year was 35, or 3 less than the number shown last year. The following table shows the difference:— Tribunals.

	1887.	1886.
The High Court of the Resident	1	1
The Court of the Judicial Commissioner	1	1
Courts of the Civil Judges of the 6th grade	6	7
Do. do. 5th „	11	10

Do. do. 2nd „	...	2
Do. do. 1st „	5	5
Courts of Small Causes	3	3
Total ...	35	38

50. The number of suits instituted in 1887 was 24,491, against 25,970 in 1886. The following statement shows the number of suits instituted in the various grades of courts during the last two years:— No. of suits instituted.

	1887.	1886.
Chief Courts of Districts	27	40
District Courts	7,260	4,529
Sub-divisional Courts	10,298	12,870
Small Cause Courts	6,906	8,531
Total ...	24,491	25,970

There was thus a falling off in the number of institutions of 1,479 over the figures of 1886, or of 6 per cent.

51. The following table exhibits the nature of the suits instituted during the past two years:— Classification of suits.

	1887.	1886.
Contracts in writing...	13,917	14,749
Do. not in writing	2,767	2,680
On account stated	3,670	4,197
Money had and received	114	160
Goods sold	465	610
Wages, work and material	213	192
Rent not falling under rent law	273	433
Moveable property or its value	483	447
Damages	181	215
Other suits for money or moveables not already mentioned	192	217
Suits relating to marriage	70	53
Immoveable property	1,219	1,137
Other suits	927	880
Total ...	24,491	25,970

Of the total institutions 20,933 cases, or 85·4 per cent., were for money due as compared with 86·2 per cent. in the previous year. Of these, 13,917 were suits on written obligations, or 832 below the number in 1886..

Value and cost of suits.

52. The following statement shows the suits decided by civil courts classified according to value:—

	No.
Not exceeding Rs. 10	1,603
Do. „ 50	11,420
Do. „ 100	5,804
Do. „ 500	5,789
Do. „ 1,000	611
Do. „ 5,000	211
Do. „ 10,000	13
Exceeding „ 10,000	6
Total ...	25,457

The aggregate value of suits capable of money valuation amounted to Rs. 30,05,346-14-10, giving an average of Rs. 118 for each suit as compared with Rs. 108 in 1886.

Disposal of suits.

53. The total number of cases for disposal in 1887 amounted to 30,627, of which 2,834 were cases pending from the previous year. Of these, 26,018, or 84·9 per cent., were disposed of during the year, and 1,919 were pending at the close of the year. The general results of their trial were as follows:—

	No. of suits.	Proportion per cent.	Corresponding proportion in 1886.
Contested—
Judgment given for plaintiff in whole or in part	5,583	21·5	20·0
Defendant in whole	1,470	5·6	4·8
Total ...	7,053	27·1	24·8
Without contest—
Decreed on confession	7,952	30·6	34·6
Compromised	3,295	12·7	13·9
Decreed ex parte	5,010	19·2	17·1
Dismissed ex parte	264	1·0	0·7
Total ...	16,521	63·5	66·3
Without trial—
Dismissed for default	1,836	7·1	7·2
Withdrawn	449	1·7	1·3

By arbitration	76	0·3	0·2
Grand Total ...	26,018	100	100

The above results, when compared with those of the preceding year, show an increase in the proportion of cases disposed of without trial. The proportion of contested cases also increased, while that of uncontested cases decreased. Decrees ex parte increased from 17·1 in 1886 to 19·2 in 1887.

54. The annexed table shows the manner in which the original civil suits decided were distributed between the various grades of civil courts, excluding suits disposed of by the Small Cause Courts and cases transferred:— Work done by each class of court.

No. of officers.		Grade of officers.	Cases decided.
			Number.		Percentage.
1887.	1886.		1887.	1886.	1887.	1886.
6	6	Deputy Commissioners	29	47	0·1	0·2
2	...	Special Assistant Commissioners ...	26	...	0·1	...
9	8	Assistant Commissioners ...	4,515	1,196	17·4	6·3
19	16	Extra Assistant Commissioners ...	18,230	13,753	70·1	72·0
10	9	Tahsildars	2,020	2,680	7·7	14·0
48	42	Total ...	26,018	19,100	100	100

The result on the whole was satisfactory, as Tahsildars were relieved of civil judicial work to a greater extent than in the previous year. Extra Assistant Commissioners disposed of 70·1 per cent., or more than two-thirds of the whole litigation in the province.

55. The average duration of uncontested cases remained much the same, being 36·5 days in the year under report, against 36·7 in the previous year; that of contested cases fell from 78·2 days in 1886 to 74·6 in 1887. Average duration.

56. The number of witnesses who attended the courts was 44,371, or 1,178 in excess of that in the previous year, of whom 40,720 were detained for one day, 2,622 for two days, and 1,029 for three days and upwards. The number of witnesses examined was 21,289. Witnesses.

57. The total number of applications for execution of decrees was 29,436 in 1887 and 27,702 in 1886. The number of cases disposed of was 24,166, or 82 per cent. of the whole number for disposal, as compared with 21,929 or 79·1 per cent. in 1886; and the pending file rose from 5,270 to 5,773. The proportions of the various methods of disposal for the last two years are as follows:— Execution of decrees.

Partially do	16·2	17·9
Struck off without execution	62·5	57·1
Transferred	3·4	4·9

The total realizations amounted to Rs. 2,36,979-12-7, against Rs. 2,57,058-6-1 in the previous year. Of this Rs. 13,179-7-11 were paid voluntarily, and Rs. 2,23,800-4-8 after issue of process. Immoveable property was sold in 1,078 cases, and temporary alienations were effected under Section 326 of the Civil Procedure Code in 161 cases.

58. There were 217 civil debtors in prison during the year, including 16 remaining from last year. Of these, 192 were released during the year, and 25 were remaining at its close. Civil debtors.

59. There were during the year 52 applications to be declared insolvent, against 47 in 1886. Of these, 14 applications were granted as against 8 in the previous year. The number of estates in the hands of receivers during the year Insolvency applications.

was 12, and claims to the value of Rs. 19,542 were admitted, and Rs. 212 were paid away in satisfaction of claims.

Processes.

60. There were 216,769 processes issued during the year, against 220,232 in 1886, and the total income decreased from Rs. 84,561-13-0 to Rs. 77,700-8-0. The expenditure increased from Rs. 57,922-14-7 to Rs. 58,576-8-11. Altogether the net profit from the service of processes was in the year under report Rs. 19,123-15-1 as compared with Rs. 27,364-14-11 in 1886.

Appellate business.

61. Including those pending at the close of 1886, there were 578 regular appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners as compared with 435 in the previous year. The number disposed of was 469 as against 398 in 1886. They were disposed of as follows :—

Rejected under Section 551, C. P. C. ...	169
Dismissed for default	23
Confirmed ex parte	4
Do. after contest	106
Modified	27
Reversed	86
Remanded	54

In addition to these there were 51 miscellaneous applications for disposal before the courts, of which 41, or 80 per cent., were disposed of.

The average duration of appeals in the Deputy Commissioners' courts was exactly the same as in the previous year, namely, 55·5 days.

Appeals to the Judicial Commissioner.

62. In the Judicial Commissioner's court there were 393 appeals for disposal including those pending from the last year, 315 of which were appeals from original decrees and 78 from orders passed in appeal by Deputy Commissioners. Of the whole number for disposal 163, or 41·4 per cent., were decided, and 230 were left pending at the close of the year.

The manner of disposal was as follows :—

Rejected	54
Dismissed for default	5
Confirmed	44
Modified	11
Reversed	41
Remanded	8

The average duration in this court was 199·6 days as against 76·8 in 1886.

Appeals to the Resident.

63. In the Resident's court 16 second appeals against the decision of the Judicial Commissioner were preferred during the year, and 17 appeals were pending from the preceding year, making in all 33 second appeals for disposal during the year. Of these, 1 was rejected summarily, and in 13 the decision of the lower court was confirmed, in 3 modified and in 4 reversed; 3 appeals were remanded to the lower court, and 1 was dismissed for default.

Including one pending from 1886 there were 9 applications under Section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Of this number 4 were rejected summarily, the decision was confirmed in one and one, was remanded under Section 562.

SECTION VI.

Registration.

No. of offices.

64. With the exception of the appointment of a salaried Sub-Registrar in place of one paid by commission, no change occurred in the number and class of offices opened for registration business, which remained at 62 including the offices of the Inspector-General and Inspector. The proportion of the registration offices to the area and population of the province was the same as in the preceding year, viz., one Sub-Registrar's office to every 295 square miles, and to every 44,545 of the population.

Registration work.

65. The falling off in the number of registrations which was remarked in the preceding year was not continued, and the ground lost was partially recovered. The following table shows the registrations effected in the year under report and in the two preceding years:—

Year.	Compulsory.	Optional.		Wills, &c.	Total.
		Immoveable.	Moveable.
1885-86 ...	... 17,717	6,698	2,156	61	26,632
1886-87 ...	... 17,017	6,008	1,995	68	25,088
1887-88 ...	... 18,089	6,152	1,962	87	26,290

The number of compulsory registrations was the highest hitherto recorded, and the increase was in all kinds of documents coming under the compulsory category, viz., instruments of gift, of sale, and of mortgage. Optional registrations, though showing a slight recovery from the previous year, did not reach the figure of 1885-86.

The aggregate value of property thus transferred under registered documents rose from Rs. 57,59,199 to Rs. 62,74,587. In this connection the general results for the year under report and the previous year were as follows:—

	1886-87.		1887-88.
	No.	Value. Rs.	No.	Value. Rs.
Documents affecting immoveable property ...	23,025	54,58,239	24,241	58,19,369
Documents affecting moveable property ...	1,995	3,00,960	1,962	4,55,218
Total ...	25,020	57,59,199	26,203	62,74,587

Refusals to register rose from Rs. 211 to 238.

Financial results.

66. The total income of the year rose from Rs. 55,952-7-0 to Rs. 59,184-9-0, and the expenditure from Rs. 36,318-8-7 to Rs. 37,222-1-5, resulting in a net surplus of Rs. 21,962-7-7 as compared with Rs. 19,633-14-5 in the previous year. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 2,25,502.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

Number and constitution.

67. The number of municipalities remained unchanged, nor was there any alteration in the constitution of the committees, which were as before composed of ex-officio, nominated, and elected members. Pending the preparation of subsidiary rules, the Berar Municipal Law of 1886 was not brought into operation, and the municipalities continued to be worked under Act IV of 1873. The total number of members in the seven committees was 103, of whom 24 were ex-officio, 71 nominated, and 8 elected members. They included 40 official and 63 non-official members, while 31 were Europeans and 72 Natives of India. Khamgaon was the only municipality which had any elected members serving on its committee.

Income and expenditure.

68. No fresh taxation was imposed during the year. The gross income from all sources, exclusive of previous balances, was Rs. 1,54,925 as compared with Rs. 1,48,128 in 1886-87, and the total expenditure Rs. 1,42,266 as against

Rs. 1,36,609. The following statement shows the income, expenditure, and balances of the different municipalities in the year:—

Municipality.	Balance from previous year.		Income during the year.		General establishment.		Public safety.		Public health.		Public instruction.		Public convenience		Contribution to local or provincial funds.		Debt.		Miscellaneous.		Total expenditure.		Total balance at the close of the year.

The total expenditure on measures affecting the public health differed little in the year under report from that in the previous year. Expenditure in connection with establishments, the public safety and convenience, and public instruction increased. The balance in hand at the close of the year was larger by Rs. 12,688 than that in hand at the corresponding period in 1886-87. Several useful works were carried out, particularly at Akola, Amraoti, and Khamgaon.

SECTION VIII.

Military.

69. The strength of the military force, furnished by the Hyderabad Contingent, stationed in the province was 129 Artillery, 76 Cavalry, and 952 Infantry, and it was distributed as follows:—

	Artillery.	Cavalry.	Infantry.
Ellichpur	129	75	733
Akola	...	...	112
Amraoti	...	...	107

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

70. In consequence of the rectification of certain inaccuracies which were discovered in the papers of some of the villages in the Wun and Basim Districts, there was an addition of 179 acres to the area of the province, which now stands at 10,281,339 acres and includes 6,677 villages. Figures showing the distribution of this area for the past two years are compared below :—

1.	Area not included in any survey numbers, such as village sites, tanks, rivers, &c. ...	200,589	200,876	+ 287
2.	Area demarcated as State forests ...	279,513	279,519	+ 6
3.	Do. babul buns	15,670	15,671	+ 1
4.	Do. rumnahs	37,152	36,361	— 791
5.	Do. other district reserved forests	194,421	193,858	— 563
6.	Fields assigned for free grazing	717,549	715,980	— 1,569
7.	Do. for village purposes ...	59,029	59,289	+ 260
8.	Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing	819,702	800,278	— 19,424
9.	Balance assessed and available for occupation	7,957,535	7,979,507	+ 21,972
10.	Occupied	7,542,803	7,594,572	+ 51,769
11.	Not occupied	414,732	384,935	— 29,797

There were no territorial changes during the year. The number of villages remained the same, and the figures of classification differed but slightly from those of the previous year.

Cultivated area.

71. The total area assessed and available for occupation was 79,79,507 acres as compared with 79,57,535 in the previous year, and the total area actually occupied was 7,594,572 as against 7,542,803 in 1886-87. The area under crops was 6,436,628 acres, showing a decrease of 18,651 acres. This falling-off is attributed partly to the unseasonable and excessive rain, which allowed no time or opportunity for sowing in all the land prepared for cultivation, and partly to the insufficiency of grazing land in consequence of which cultivators allowed parts of their fields to remain waste to admit of a supply of grass for their cattle. The area under kharif crops fell from 4,668,407 to 4,574,317, or by 94,090 acres, but this decrease was to some extent made up for by an increase of 74,364 acres in the area under rabi.

Crops cultivated.

72. The following table compares the acreage under each of the principal kinds of crops for the past two years :—

	1886-87.		1887-88.
	Acres.	Proportion.	Acres.	Proportion.
Jowari (great millet or Holcus sorghum) ...	1,952,506	30·2	2,064,077	31·8
Wheat	933,924	14·4	1,052,920	16·4
Gram	255,404	3·9	280,336	4·4
Rice or paddy	24,676	·3	22,434	·3
Bajri (spiked millet)	81,161	1·2	79,501	1·2
Tur (cadjan pea or Cajanus Indicus) ...	182,581	2·8	174,683	2·7
Til (Sesame)	192,701	2·9	133,620	1·8
Linseed	386,374	5·9	317,018	4·9
Urad	17,955	·2	14,014	·2
Hemp	8,056	·1	9,931	·2
Total ...	6,103,383	...	6,068,428	...

The largest decrease was in the area under cotton, which fell off by 148,151 acres. The decrease was due partly to the excessive rain-fall and partly to the rotation of crops. The area under jowari, wheat, and gram, the principal food grains of the province, however increased. The increase under wheat is ascribed to export trade and, in some measure, to the fact that a great portion of the area under cotton, which was destroyed by the heavy rain-fall, was resown with wheat.

Irrigated area.

73. The area under irrigation rose from 67,115 to 67,166 in the year under report. The area under rice fell from 24,676 to 22,434, or by 2,242 acres, but this decrease was made good by an increase of 2,293 acres in the area under other irrigated crops.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rain-fall.

74. The principal characteristics of the rain-fall during the year were an exceptionally heavy fall in the month of July, which did considerable injury to the kharif crops, and a somewhat unusual fall in some districts in the month of October followed by a steady fall in the subsequent months, which, while it was unfavourable to kharif cultivation, proved very beneficial to the rabi crop. The general average for the province amounted to 52 inches, and was 11 and 16 inches in excess of the average of the two previous years. The average for the districts ranged from 44·16 in the Buldana to 68·96 in the Ellichpur District, while the fall in Amraoti, Akola, Basim, and Wun was 52·78, 47·26, 49·04, and 51·07 respectively.

Effect of rain-fall on the crops.

75. The cotton and jowari crops were much injured by the rain-fall in July, and the former was also to some extent damaged by the October fall, which however benefited the wheat crop.

Prices of produce and labour.

76. The unfavourable nature of the kharif harvest naturally had its effect on the price of jowari, the staple food of the people, which rose from 31 and 29 seers respectively in 1885-86 and 1886-87 to 20 seers per rupee at the close of the year under report. The difference in the rates of wheat, gram, and rice, the other food-grains, was small and calls for no remark. Except in one district, the prices of labour were much the same as in the previous year.

Experimental farms.

77. The experimental farm at Akola was discontinued, but that at Amraoti was worked throughout the year. Successful experiments were made in the cultivation of oats, wheat, and "bunee," or the long-stapled cotton. The last mentioned produced a good crop as regards quality, but the quantity was much below the average.

Agricultural stock.

78. The following statistics show the agricultural stock of the province for the past two years:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.
Cows and bullocks	1,667,730	1,610,224
Buffaloes	298,694	314,903
Sheep and goats	443,092	481,267
Carts	113,133	136,030
Ploughs	122,405	128,886

The decrease under cows and bullocks is ascribed to the prevalence of foot-and-mouth disease, and in some measure to false registration in order to evade payment of the grazing fees. The increase under the other kinds of cattle is believed to be the result of natural reproduction coupled with the absence of disease. The increase under carts was caused by the increase of building operations and improvement of road communications in the Wun District.

Veterinary.

79. Of the six Berar students studying at the Bombay Veterinary College, one was expelled on account of misconduct and two absconded. Their places were filled by three other youths from Berar. All six were reported doing well at the close of the year. The year is remarkable for the comparative immunity from contagious disease enjoyed by the cattle since the rainy season of 1887 in striking contrast to their condition during the previous year, when rinderpest committed havoc among the village herds. The total number of deaths ascertained from this cause during the year under report was 1,016. Epizootic aphtha (foot-and-mouth disease), although rarely absent, was much less common than in the preceding year. "Surra" or relapsing fever prevailed among the ponies belonging to the postal dâk contractor and caused a large number of deaths. The disease, however, did not spread farther.

Horse-breeding.

80. Horse-breeding operations made steady progress during the year. One hundred and twenty-seven mares were served by the eleven Government stallions maintained in the province. Mule-breeding proved unsuccessful on account of the caste prejudices of the people, only five mares having been served by the two donkey stallions lent by the department of horse-breeding operations.

Horse and cattle show.

81. An attempt was made to establish a horse and cattle show for the province, and a meeting was held at Akola at the end of October. Owing probably to the unsuitableness of the month, the attempt met with but partial success.

Land Improvement Act.

82. Advances under this Act were made only in three districts during the year under report. The figures below show a steady fall in the advances made since 1884-85 :—

1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.
Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
38,810 ...	29,650 ...	9,425 ...	4,450

The continued decrease in the applications for loans is believed to be due to the existing indebtedness of the cultivating class to money-lendrs; the delay which the system entails in granting the advance; and ignorance regarding the provisions of the Act.

SECTION III.

Horticulture.

83. The public gardens at the head-quarters of districts and tahsil stations continued to be maintained from the local funds and to be supervised by the Deputy Commissioners.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

84. The sanctioned strength of the superior staff during the year was—

1 Conservator.
3 Deputy or Assistant Conservators.
4 Sub-Assistant Conservators including one employed as a Tahsildar in the Melghat in addition to his Forest duties.

Owing to the transfer of an Assistant Conservator to His Highness the Nizam's service and of a Deputy Conservator to the Burmah Circle, and to the appointment of a fourth Sub-Assistant Conservator sanctioned during the year not having been filled up till after the year had closed, the actual strength at the end of the year was—

1 Conservator.
2 Deputy and Assistant Conservators including an officer lent temporarily by the Central Provinces Administration and whose services were retained.
3 Sub-Assistant Conservators.

A ranger had temporaily to be appointed to the charge of a division to supply a vacancy.

Forest area.

85. With the exception of a trifling decrease of 25 square miles in district unreserved forest, the area of forest lands in Berar remained the same as in the previous year. This area was distributed as follows:—

	Square miles.
Demarcated State forests	1,107
District reserved do.	435
District unreserved do.	2,574
Total ...	4,116

Boundaries.

86. Due attention was paid to the maintenance of existing boundaries in all districts. The defects noticed in 1886-87 in the Amraoti District were rectified at a cost of Rs. 1,873. This was the largest item in the demarcation work. A question regarding the boundary line between the Melghat and the Nimar District of the Central Provinces is under consideration.

Prosecutions.

87. Prosecutions for breaches of forest rules continued to decrease; the number fell from 406 in 1886-87 to 387 in the year under report. Including 5 cases which remained over from the previous year, the total number of cases tried was 392, of which 318 resulted in convictions, leaving 5 cases pending at the close of the year. The percentage of convictions to prosecutions was 82·17. As usual a large number of the prosecutions were for unauthorized felling or appropriation of wood and minor produce.

Fire conservancy.

88. Fire protection was not so successful as in the previous year. While the total area over which protection was attempted remained the same, the area successfully protected fell from 653,602 to 639,453 acres, and the area over which protection failed rose from 14,769 to 28,918 acres. The average expenditure for the year on account of the successfully protected area decreased from Rs. 5-11-5 in 1886-87 to Rs. 5-9-3 per square mile in the year under report.

Forest Law.

89. The draft rules under the Berar Forest Law, 1886, were sanctioned during the year, but were not brought into force pending a reference to the Government of India in connection with certain further modifications suggested by the local officers.

Working plans.

90. The Raipur-Makla working plan, which was completed in 1886-87, was put into operation in the year under report. The area selected was $3\frac{1}{2}$ square miles. The working plan prescribed the annual felling of 1,000 first-class teak trees, but only 580 trees of this class were found on the area in question. The Conservator considers it too early to say whether the estimate of 1,000 trees per $3\frac{1}{2}$ square miles is too high or not. Most of the trees felled were below the average height of 56′ 2″ fixed by the plan and as a rule possessed no real timber and were hardly worth felling.

Grazing.

91. The system of farming grazing lands was discontinued throughout the province, grazing with passes being introduced instead. The measure was acceptable to the people and proved a financial success. Light grazing was, as in the previous year, permitted under certain conditions in the demarcated State reserves of South Berar.

Natural reproduction.

92. The account given of natural reproduction is disappointing, and the Conservator surmises that what used to be reported as plentiful natural reproduction was only the growth of seedlings and coppice shoots, which always appears in the rainy season, but which invariably dies down in the hot weather unless certain conditions of protection and moisture be present.

Artificial reproduction.

93. Artificial reproduction was confined to operations commenced in 1886-87 on 50 acres in the Pathrot reserve. No fresh area was taken up. The total cost of the operations was Rs. 1,277-13-10, against Rs. 883-5-0 in the previous year.

Cultural operations.

94. During the year 2,383 areas were added to the area under cultural operations and acres 244 excluded. The total area was 10,632 acres, against 8,493 acres in the previous year. Broadcast sowing was continued in all the districts, but with indifferent success. Very little of the seed which germinated during the rains survived the hot weather.

Communications.

95. The expenditure of the year, Rs. 19,184, was the highest on record. Of this sum, Rs. 18,817 was spent in the Melghat, where 23 miles of road were added. The total mileage of forest roads in the province at the close of the year was 132.

Yield and working.

96. Departmental operations were undertaken in the Bairagarh reserve only. The number of trees felled or girdled by Government agency during the year was 4,065 as compared with 3,472 in the previous year. The larger number was due to increased demand.

The following figures compare the revenue realized under each class of forest produce for the past two years:—

	1886-87. Rs.	1887-88. Rs.
Timber	76,897	1,00,070
Firewood and charcoal	23,738	43,591
Bamboos	31,359	34,589
Grazing and fodder grass	1,72,249	2,08,667
Other minor produce	18,785	15,582
Confiscated produce and waif wood ...	2,134	2,474
All other sources	1,285	1,274

Financial results.

97. The financial results of the year were on the whole more satisfactory than in the previous year. The figures for the two years are compared below:—

Class of Forest.	Revenue.		Expenditure.		Surplus.		Deficit.
	1886-87.	1887-88.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1886-87.	1887-88.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Demarcated State Forests ...	57,223	66,140	64,694	76,320	...	...	7,471	10,180
District Reserved Forests ...	1,68,962	2,27,151	51,182	54,259	1,17,780	1,72,892	...	...
District Unreserved Forests ...	1,00,262	1,12,956	55,634	52,581	44,628	60,375	...	...
			Deduct deficit ...		7,471	10,180
			Net surplus ...		1,54,937	2,23,087

The increase in expenditure was due chiefly to the payment of arrears to village officers for the collection of forest dues, to increased outlay on roads and buildings, and to the extensive demarcation work executed. The net surplus (Rs. 2,23,087) was the highest on record.

SECTION V.

Mines and Quarries.

98. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

99. The most important foreign industries are the steam and cotton presses, of which 26 were at work in the province as compared with 24 in the previous year. The total outturn was 226,498 bales of cotton pressed, against 297,905 in the previous year. The decrease was due chiefly to the partial failure of the cotton crop. The oil press at Amraoti did well during the year, having turned out 300 tons of oil and 658 tons of oil-cake; but owing to the small demand for raw oil in Akola, the outturn of oil by the press at that station was only 45 tons. The wheat flour mill at Amraoti did not work so successfully as in the previous year: the outturn was 183 candies of flour, being only one-fifth of the total of 1886-87. There was a decrease of 2,364 lbs. in the quantity of twist and yarn manufactured by the spinning mill at Badnera. The number of employés in this mill was the same as in the previous year.

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Fairs.

103. The total value of the articles exhibited for sale at the fairs held in the province was estimated at Rs. 44,66,316, of which articles worth Rs. 21,61,757, or nearly 50 per cent., were sold. As in the previous year, the half-yearly fairs held at Nagardas in the Basim District were the most important, and goods to the value of Rs. 9,00,000 were sold at them. The next in importance was the fair held at Wun ; at this fair articles worth Rs. 5,71,343 were exhibited, and articles worth Rs. 1,68,930 were sold. Several fairs of less importance were held at Warud, Deulgaon Raja, Pathur, Sonati, and Bhiltek. The chief commodities disposed of were silk cloth, Bombay and country-made cloth, piece-goods (European), copper and brass utensils, and miscellaneous goods. At the Wun fair Rs. 1,01,188 was realized by the sale of bullocks, as compared with Rs. 1,14,764 in the previous year, and at Warud Rs. 1,50,150, or Rs. 30,000 less than in 1886-87, was realized by the sale of tobacco. Timber to the value of Rs. 25,215 was sold at the Bhiltek fair.

107. The improvements to flanking defences of the Trimulgherry entrenchment by means of galleries in the escarps were completed and handed over during the year. The total cost of carrying out the work amounted to Rs. 42,178, against an estimate of Rs. 40,889.

The additional buildings required for the increased strength of the British Cavalry regiment at North Trimulgherry were under construction. The saddle and store-rooms and privies for two troops were nearly completed at a cost of Rs. 13,876. The stables for two troops were fast approaching completion; No. 1 or West Block was completed, and the roofing of No. 2 or East Block was in hand; an expenditure of Rs. 22,839 was incurred on an estimate of Rs. 30,156. Quarters for two captains and a range of subalterns' quarters were in progress during the year. Materials to the extent of Rs. 18,523 were collected for the construction of four half-troop barracks, but this project is under revision.

Repairs.

108. The military buildings in the cantonments of Trimulgherry and Secunderabad were maintained in an efficient state of repair, as also the defences of the entrenched post at Trimulgherry.

During the year additional rooms for the civil offices at the Hyderabad Residency were completed at a cost of Rs. 5,756; other minor works in connection with the Residency buildings were carried out at a cost of Rs. 5,349, while petty works under Rs. 500 each were completed at an aggregate cost of Rs. 1,060.

PROVINCIAL PUBLIC WORKS.

I.—General.

110. Circumstances necessitated the reduction of the provincial budget grant from 15 to 12 lakhs of rupees. Budget grants and expenditure.

The final budget grants, compared with the expenditure, are shown below:—

Heads.	Grant.		Expenditure.
	Original works.	Repairs.	Original works.	Repairs.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Military	81,697	9,459	78,069	9,856
Civil buildings	1,16,309	23,998	1,20,782	24,596
Communications	4,00,800	2,42,940	4,08,094	2,45,471
Miscellaneous public improvements ...	1,22,989	3,436	53,906	2,150
Total ...	7,21,795	2,79,833	6,60,851	2,82,073

Tools and plant	32,372		33,116
Profit and loss	...		...
Suspense	...		—2,747
Grand Total ...	12,85,000		12,26,950

The grant of Rs. 12,85,000 was made up as follows :—

	Rs.
A.—From provincial revenues	12,00,000
B.—From the jaglia cess	85,000
Total ...	12,85,000

The grand total of expenditure was Rs. 12,26,950, being Rs. 58,050 short of the grant including the unexpended portion of the funds provided from the accumulated balance of the jaglia cess; but excluding it there was a slight excess over the grant for provincial works to the extent of Rs. 9,842 or 0·81 per cent. against a lapse of 1·54 per cent. in 1886-87. The excess in question is due to charges by the Civil Department comprising English payments and compensation for land which were communicated late in the year.

There was a short expenditure of Rs. 67,892 from the jaglia cess due to the projects for the water-supply of Buldana and Ellichpur not being sanctioned. Funds for these projects have to be provided partly from the above cess and partly from provincial revenues, and the financial arrangements are under consideration.

Works estimated to cost Rs. 30,460 were in progress.

Jail buildings.

113. The actual expenditure on jail buildings completed and in progress during the year amounted to Rs. 36,060. The principal work carried out was the under-trial wards in the Akola Jail, which cost Rs. 12,384.

Police buildings.

114. The estimates sanctioned for the complete system of police buildings for the province amount to Rs. 8,45,440, of which a sum of Rs. 7,07,651 was spent up to the 31st March 1888, thus leaving a balance of Rs. 1,37,789 to complete the scheme. Works under the scheme were carried out at Mehkar, Sindkhed, Ghat Bori, Buldana, Pusad, and Jowlah. Measures for the better security of lock-ups in all the police stations in the East, West, and South Berar Divisions were undertaken and completed during the year. Light verandahs were provided to the police stations at Sirkhed and Takulkheira at a cost of Rs. 1,279. At other police outposts and stations works on which an aggregate sum of Rs. 14,371 was expended were in progress.

Educational buildings.

115. The expenditure under this head reached Rs. 44,146 out of a total estimated cost of Rs. 62,202. The principal works completed included an Anglo-Vernacular school at Yeotmal and additions to the high school at Amraoti.

Medical buildings.

116. Improvements to the civil hospital buildings at Buldana were carried out at a cost of Rs. 1,155, against an estimate for Rs. 1,355. The erection of anemometer and windwave stands at Amraoti and Chikalda was completed at a cost of Rs. 665.

117. Improvements to the cemeteries at Badnera, Ellichpur, Akola, and Basim were carried out at a cost of Rs. 4,829. The enlargement of the church at Amraoti, estimated at Rs. 4,343, was in progress, and an expenditure of Rs. 1,792 incurred thereon from contributions. The construction of a cemetery in the new cantonment of Raichore was in progress, and an expenditure of Rs. 1,499 incurred against a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 2,007.

Miscellaneous.

118. A sum of Rs. 353, against an estimate of Rs. 500, was expended in repairing the Maikal gate of the Fort at Nurnulla. The preservation of certain temples at Wun and Yeotmal estimated to cost Rs. 1,510 was in progress, and an expenditure of Rs. 727 incurred. A sum of Rs. 200 was also expended on preserving the mosque at Rohinkaid. No expenditure was incurred on the following budgetted works, as the allotments were withdrawn owing to the reduction of grant:—Additions and alterations to the Deputy Commissioners' cutcherries at Amraoti and Ellichpur, the tahsil cutcherry at Khamgaon, Anglo-Vernacular schools at Akola and Mehkar, and an office for the Forest Officer at Buldana.

Communications.

119. Under this head the principal works completed and in progress were—

The road from Morsi to Burroor, a length of 21 miles, commenced in January 1882, was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 1,96,096.

The road from Burroor to Wurdha river in continuation of the Morsi-Burroor line to the Central Provinces boundary. This road, which is 14½ miles long, was in progress. The amount expended on it up to the close of the year was Rs. 11,819 out of an estimate of Rs. 1,26,511.

The metalling of the first five miles of the Amraoti-Morsi road was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 11,724.

The metalling of the first seven miles of the Amraoti-Ellichpur road was in progress, and Rs. 3,441 out of an estimate of Rs. 17,733 were expended thereon up to the close of the year.

Of the three additional bridges on the Ellichpur-Pili road, the work on two—at Jawarkhoond and the Golababa nullah—was continued, and an expenditure of Rs. 12,564 was incurred.

The additions to the combined inspection and dâk bungalow on the Ghatang-Chikalda road were in progress. The amount expended on this work was Rs. 2,852 out of an estimate of Rs. 3,912.

The Gugamal Forest Road, which is estimated to cost Rs. 4,38,125, was still in progress. The expenditure since the work was taken in hand was Rs. 1,94,082. The amount expended during the year was Rs. 78,196.

The bridge at Belkund on this road was completed at a cost of Rs. 11,758, against an estimate of Rs. 11,741.

The work on the bridge of 7 spans (lattice girders) of 80 feet each on masonry piers and abutments across the Purna river at Asegaon on the Amraoti-Ellichpur road progressed satisfactorily. A sum of Rs. 1,60,787, on an estimate of Rs. 2,74,685, was spent on this work up to the close of the year.

On the road from Nandura to Motala a length of 20½ miles was in progress, and Rs. 28,575 were expended during the year. The expenditure since the work was first commenced was Rs. 77,777 out of an estimate of Rs. 1,13,681.

The metalling of certain portions of the Akola-Medsi road was continued. The expenditure since the work was first taken in hand reached Rs. 25,283 out of an estimate of Rs. 40,446.

Other works in progress were causeways on the 65th and 66th miles of the Malkapur-Mehkar road, the extension of the Malkapur road to Mehkar, and the improvement of the crossing of the Paingunga river.

126. The receipts during the year on the Amraoti State Railway were Rs. 88,157 with an expenditure, including working expenses and maintenance, of Rs. 52,303, giving a net profit of Rs. 35,854, equivalent to 8·07 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,44,207. Amraoti State Railway.

127. There were no works of this class undertaken during the year under review. Irrigation.

CHAPTER V.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

Total receipts and expenditure.

128. The following statement shows the total actual receipts and expenditure of the years 1886-87 and 1887-88, and it is upon the figures shown under the head "Provincial" that the assignment of 50 per cent. for expenditure on Civil Administration, Public Works and Railways, is calculated:—

Receipts.	Actuals, 1886-87.			Actuals, 1887-88.

20. Surplus ...	18,61,072	...	18,61,072	17,88,357	...	17,88,357

Omitting Excluded Local Funds, items 8 and 18, the surplus on the 31st March 1888 was Rs. 17,36,503, as compared with Rs. 18,54,200 on the 31st March 1887.

The year under review is the ninth in which the system of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for the civil, public works, and railway expenditure; the proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent., and thereafter up to 1886-87 was 52 per cent,; this has been reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of five years commencing from the year 1887-88 (vide Government of India Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887). The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1888 was Rs. 18,87,090 as shown below:—

15. Balance at credit of the Resident on the 31st March 1888	...		...	18,87,090

Under the orders conveyed in Government of India Resolution quoted above, this balance of Rs. 18,87,090 lapses, and a "new special account" was ordered to be opened for the year 1888-89 with a balance of five lakhs. To this account is to be credited annually any savings which may be made out of the 50 per cent. which savings may be utilised for ordinary expenditure in any subsequent year, provided always that the five lakhs are not trenched upon except in case of some extraordinary emergency. It must be borne in mind that the balance of this account does not exist anywhere separately, but only represents the limit up to which the Resident is at liberty, on the conditions stated, to exceed the fixed percentage of any particular year, any surplus payable to the Nizam being, of course proportionately reduced.

Land revenue.

129. The actual realizations brought to account under this head were Rs. 67,26,978, being an increase on 1886-87 of Rs. 60,248 thus:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	66,51,770	67,12,556	60,795	...

Miscellaneous	14,775	14,413	...	362
Total ...	66,66,730	67,26,978	60,795	547

Opium.

130. This item represents duty levied by the Malwa Opium Agent on Opium imported into Berar. The receipts of 1887-88 brought to account under this head were Rs. 1,84,450, showing the large decrease of Rs. 28,000 as compared with the actuals of 1886-87, and as compared with the estimate the decrease was Rs. 550.

Stamps.

131. The receipts of 1887-88 brought to account under this head show an increase of Rs. 16,516 over those of the previous year, and of Rs. 38,648 over the estimate. They are compared with the figures of 1886-87 as follows :—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale of general stamps	2,85,820	2,81,402	...	4,418
Sale of court fee stamps	3,85,686	4,05,277	19,591	...
Duty on impressing documents ...	359	381	22	...
Fines and penalties	2,254	2,855	601	...
Miscellaneous	13	733	720	...

Excise.

132. The revenue under this head brought to account in 1887-88 shows a decrease of Rs. 37,078 as compared with the actuals of 1886-87 and of Rs. 12,686 as compared with the estimate. The actuals of the two years were as follow :—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
License and distillery fees	13,76,582	13,39,842	...	36,740
Fines, confiscations, and miscellaneous ...	810	472	...	338
Total ...	13,77,392	13,40,314	...	37,078

From the reports of the Deputy Commissioners concerned, received through the Commissioner, Hyderabad Assigned Districts, the falling off appears to be due partly to combination between purchasers owing to the farm having caused a loss to them in 1886-87 and partly to high prices of grain preventing people from indulging in opium and sendi.

Provincial rate.

133. The receipts of 1887-88 were Rs. 5,00,992 and show a decrease of Rs. 10,285 as compared with the actuals of 1886-87 as shown below, and of Rs. 3,008 as compared with the estimate :—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jaglia and Local Cess	4,06,807	3,97,819	...	8,988
Education Cess	1,04,470	1,03,173	...	1,297

The excess in 1886-87 is partly due to the realizations of the Akola District in that year having included a large amount of revenue of the previous year, and partly due to the fact that the second instalment of revenue of 1885-86 credited in Buldana and Wun District accounts for 1886-87 was in excess of that of 1886-87 credited in 1887-88.

Forest revenue.

134. Shows an improvement of Rs. 80,186 on 1886-87, and is better than estimate by Rs. 68,447. The actuals of the two years were as follows:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Timber and other produce removed from the forests by consumers, &c. ...	3,23,043	4,02,500	79,457	...
Confiscated drift and waif wood ...	2,134	2,474	340	...
Miscellaneous	1,084	1,473	389	...
Total ...	3,26,261	4,06447	80,186	...

Registration.

135. The receipts of 1887-88 were Rs. 59,230 and show an increase of Rs. 3,195 on 1886-87 and of Rs. 11,230 by the estimate.

Interest.

136. Interest receipts during the year were Rs. 3,886; they fell short by Rs. 8,789 as compared with the actuals of 1886-87 and by Rs. 114 as compared with the estimate. The falling-off is due to the closing of the Resident's interest-bearing account with the Bank of Bombay in December 1886.

Law and Justice—A. Courts of Law.

137. The receipts under this head were Rs. 62,383 and are better than actuals of 1886-87 by Rs. 4,540 as compared as follows:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Inc rease.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property	8,649	9,911	1,262	...
Court fees realized in cash	953	2,573	1,620	...
General fees, fines, and forfeitures ...	47,330	46,577	...	753
Pleadership examination fees ...	210	230	20	...
Miscellaneous fees and fines ...	483	554	71	...
Miscellaneous	218	2,538	2,320	...
Total ...	17,843	62,383	5,293	753

In the first list of corrections to the Civil Account Code, Volume II, fourth edition, the head "Jails" was separated from Law and Justice from the year 1887-88; consequently the jail receipts credited under Law and Justice in the account for 1886-87 have been excluded in contrasting as above the actuals of the two years, but are shown distinctly below.

Law and Justice—B, Jails.

138. The receipts of this head have hitherto been shown under Law and Justice, but from 1887-88 they have been shown separately for the reasons stated above. For the purpose of comparing the actuals of 1887-88 with those of 1886-87 the figures of the latter year were omitted from Law and Justice and were taken to this head. The actuals of the year under review were Rs. 20,853, and fell below the actuals of the previous year by Rs. 7,802, and by Rs. 14,447 as compared with the estimate. The falling-off is nominal, as the jail press receipts are now credited to Stationery and Printing with reference to note 43 on page 635 of the Civil Account Code, Volume II; the charges in connection with the lithography being debited to the corresponding charge head instead of to the head Jail, Manufactures under Law and Justice as in former years.

Police.

139. The receipts under this head were Rs. 9,468 and show an increase of Rs. 1,852 over the actuals of 1886-87, falling below the estimate by Rs. 9,468; this is due to the non-recovery of contribution from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company on account of the cost of Berar Police employed on the Company's line in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, the subject being under reference.

Education.

140. The receipts under this head were Rs. 38,568 and better than the estimate by Rs. 4,568, and the actuals of 1886-87 by Rs. 1,779.

The following is a comparison of the actuals of 1887-88 with those of 1886-87:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Medical.

141. These receipts show an increase of Rs. 17, the actuals of 1886-87 being Rs. 1,384 and those of 1887-88 Rs. 1,401.

Scientific and other minor departments.

142. The actuals of 1887-88 were Rs. 708, while those of 1886-87 were Rs. 830. Decrease under produce of Lonar Lake due to the demand for the salts growing less.

Receipts in aid of superannuation.

143. The amount credited to this head during 1887-88 was Rs. 7,904, being Rs. 3,169 over that credited in 1886-87 owing to a larger number of officers being employed in foreign service.

Stationery and printing.

144. The receipts under this head were Rs. 11,523 and show an increase over the estimate of the year under review, and the actuals of 1886-87 by Rs. 10,523 and Rs. 9,752 respectively, chiefly due to the jail press receipts being now credited to this head instead of to Jails as in former years.

Miscellaneous.

145. The actuals of 1887-88 were Rs. 1,32,514, and those of 1886-87 Rs. 1,28,739; the principal increase is under gain by exchange.

State Railways.

146. The revenue credited in the accounts of 1887-88 was Rs. 1,41,637 against Rs. 1,54,564 credited in 1886-87; the decrease is due to decreased goods traffic during the year under review.

Civil works.

147. The receipts of civil works during 1887-88 were Rs. 11,098, as compared with Rs. 8,803 for previous year.

Military, Hyderabad Contingent.

148. The receipts under Military during 1887-88 were Rs. 29,485, against Rs. 10,920 in the previous year, and show a net increase of Rs. 18,565, the principal increase being value of ordnance stores returned to arsenals of the Madras and Bombay Presidencies.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

149. This represents the contribution from the balance of the old jaglia cess, and amounted during 1887-88 to Rs. 17,108. There still remained a balance of this fund on the 31st March 1888 of Rs. 2,11,818.

150. These aggregated Rs. 77,142, of which Rs. 77,000 forms a grant for primary vernacular schools, and Rs. 142 for local public works. Contributions from Provincial to Local.

Disbursements.

The charges for 1887-88 aggregate Rs. 87,38,374, as against Rs. 85,18,863 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 2,19,511 as shown in the following statement:—

1, Army and Garrison Staff.—The increase of Rs. 5,538 under "Army and Garrison Staff" is chiefly due to an officer of higher rank having held the appointment of Assistant Adjutant General, Hyderabad Contingent, during 1887-88.

3, Regimental Pay and Allowances.—The increase of Rs. 71,120 under "Regimental pay and allowances" is partly due to the furlough pay of regimental officers having been debited to this head during 1887-88, whereas previously it was debited to miscellaneous, and partly to the reliefs of Infantry regiments during that year.

4, Commissariat Establishment.—Increase of Rs. 12,278 under Commissariat Establishment occurs chiefly under compensation for dearness of provisions for natives and for horses and ponies, and is due to the rise in the average prices of provisions.

5, Stud and Remount Establishment.—A less number of horses and bullocks having been purchased during the year under review, the expenditure under Stud and Remount Establishment is less by Rs. 11,623.

6, Clothing Establishment.—The saving of Rs. 41,015 under Clothing Establishment is due to the cost of clothing supplied to Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, during 1887-88 not having been charged in the accounts of that year.

9, Medical Establishment.—The decrease of Rs. 3,601 under "Medical Establishment" is due to the extra medical charge allowance having been paid during 1886-87 to Medical Officers for additional charges and to the extra medicines obtained during that year, the result of regiments being on field service in Burma.

10, Ordnance Establishment.—The decrease of Rs. 7,819 under Ordnance Establishment chiefly occurs under purchase of camp equipage and line gear, the cost being less during 1887-88 than during 1886-87.

14, Miscellaneous Services.—The decrease of Rs. 51,072 under Miscellaneous Services is partly under Travelling allowance to officers and men and partly under Furlough pay of military and medical officers. In regard to the former it is due to second-class fare having been charged on account of men proceeding on furlough instead of third class during 1886-87, and as regards the latter to the furlough pay of military and medical officers having been adjusted under 3, Regimental Pay and Allowances during 1887-88 under orders of the Comptroller General. The latter charge was adjusted under head Miscellaneous Services during 1886-87.

16, Reward for Military Services.—Increase of Rs. 992 under 16, Rewards for Military Services is due to certain men having been admitted to the Order of Merit during 1887-88 for service in Burma.

17, Retired Officers.—The increase of Rs. 28,243 under Retired Officers is due to the portion of pension of certain officers retired previous to 1887-88 having been adjusted in arrears in the accounts under review.

Revenue and Finance other than Provincial.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

156. No change occurred in the system or method of registration. Urban when compared with rural registration was still defective, but some progress was made in the course of the year.

Births.

157. The number of births registered in the year was 106,147 as compared with 98,229 in the previous year. The proportion of registered births to population was 40·5 per mille, the rate reached being greater by 3·2 than that of 1886. Of the births registered, 54,711 were males and 51,436 females. In the districts the birth-rate varied from 45·6 per mille in Buldana to 38·4 in Basim and Akola and 34·4 in Wun. In towns the mean birth-rate was 39·2 per mille, against 35·1 in 1886 and 37·4, the average mean of the previous five years. The largest number of births was recorded in the third quarter of the year or monsoon season. The greatest number of registrations was observed in the months of August, September, and October, and the smallest in January and February.

Still-births.

158. The number of still-births registered was 4,559 as compared with 4,103 in 1886. Of these, 2,585 were males and 1,974 females. The proportion of still births to total live-births per cent. was as follows:—

Male.		Female.		Total.
4·7	...	3·8	...	4·2

Deaths.

159. The number of recorded deaths from all causes was 118,797, exceeding by 22,251 the number registered in 1886, and by 12,650 the total number of births recorded during the year. The ratio of deaths per thousand of population was 44·5 as compared with 36·7 in the previous year and 35·3, the mean of the previous five years. Calculated, however, on corrected population figures, the death-rate may be taken at 44·5 per thousand. The increase in mortality is ascribed by the Sanitary Commissioner to the outbreak of cholera in an epidemic form and to a rainfall much above the average. Of the total number of deaths recorded, 62,067 occurred amongst males and 56,730 amongst females. The proportion of male deaths per thousand of the male population was 45·8, and the similar proportion of female deaths was 44·8. In the different districts the death-rate ranged from 54·3 in Amraoti to 37·3 in the Basim District, while the rates for Ellichpur, Wun, Akola, and Buldana were 45·4, 39·6, 44·9, and 45·6 respectively. The month of August with an average of 712 deaths per diem, or an annual death-rate of 100·8 per mille, was as usual the most unhealthy month in the year. The fewest deaths occurred in March, May, and June, when the rates were 25·2, 26·4, and 26·4 per mille respectvely. The average number of deaths registered on each day of the year was 325 as compared with 264 in 1886. The number of deaths among infants under one year old was 22,753, or 21 per cent. of the registered number of births. The death-rate at this period of life was 268·9 per mille as compared with 274·5 in 1886 and 278·1 in 1885. The insanitary and epidemic influences of the year would not appear to have affected infants of this age owing perhaps to the sanitary measures which are being slowly introduced into towns and villages. The annual death-rate per 1,000 living at different ages for the year under report and that preceding it is shown in the table below:—

Ages.	1887.			1886.

The following figures compare the deaths for the two past years according to classes :—

	1886.	1887.
Christians	16	23
Muhammadans	6,185	7,479
Hindus	86,252	106,195
Other classes	4,093	5,100
Total ...	96,546	118,797

The death-rate in towns was 44·4 as compared with 44·7 in rural circles. The rural death-rate was unusually heavy, the villages having suffered comparatively to a greater extent than the towns from the cholera epidemic.

The statement below contrasts the registered causes of deaths during the year with those for 1886 :—

Causes of death.	1886.
	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.
Cholera	976	·4	14,396	5·5
Small-pox	116	·04	311	·1
Fevers	45,643	17·3	48,114	18·3
Bowel-complaints	16,791	6·4	21,530	8·2
Injuries	988	·4	1,029	·4
Other causes	32,032	12·2	33,417	12·8

Cholera appeared in April and assumed an epidemic form. The disease reached its height in August and did not entirely disappear till December. The Amraoti and Buldana Districts were those most affected. Small-pox was particularly virulent in the town of Khamgaon.

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

160. No remarkable movement of population either from or into the province occurred during the year. The only migrations reported were of 1,678 persons who went to reside in the Wun District and of 997 who left it. A large number of the immigrants are believed to have been labourers from the Central Provinces, who make their way annually to the Wun District at the beginning of the cold season and leave it at the commencement of the rains.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

No. of hospitals.

161. The number of dispensaries was increased by 1, making a total of 43 in all. With one exception, all were of the first class.

Medical staff.

162. The medical staff employed during the year was as follows :—

Surgeon-Majors ...	... ...	2
Surgeons ...	... ...	3
Apothecary class	... ...	2
Hospital Assistants ...	1st class	19
	2nd class	8
	3rd class	16

Five vacancies for hospital assistants were filled by men entertained locally.

Patients treated.

163. The total number of patients treated in the year rose from 234,595 in 1886 to 248,510. The increase was due to the unhealthiness of the year and to the opening of the new dispensary, which in itself had a total attendance of 4,142. The growing popularity of the institutions also contributed to the rise in the number of patients. Of the total number treated, 2,360 were in-door and 246,150 out-door patients. The average daily number of in-door patients under treatment was 75·08, and of out-door patients 1847·07, as compared with 82·40 and 1754·43 respectively in the previous year. Of the out-patients, 196,727 received medical aid in person, and 49,423 through friends who represented them. Of the in-patients, 2,008 were cured, 88 relieved, 43 discharged, and 137 died. The average death-rate among in-door patients was 5·8 per cent. as compared with 3·9 in the preceding year. Of the total number of patients of both classes, 121,733 were men, 39,196 women, and 87,581 children. The average daily attendance of both classes was 958 men, 308 women, and 656 children. Divided according to classes, 896 of the patients were Europeans, 2,037 Eurasians, 152,197 Hindus, and 82,283 Muhammadans.

Diseases treated.

164. As usual fever of a malarious type was the most prevalent disease. Under this heading 37,232 cases occurred, as compared with 49,009 in the previous year, but the falling-off was more nominal than real, being largely due to a revision of the nomenclature under which fevers other than malarial are shown under the head "all other general diseases." The extent to which other special diseases were treated is shown in the following table :—

Diseases of the skin	28,334
Do. eye	23,187
Ulcers	18,257
Worms	13,708
Diarrhœa	10,016
Dyspepsia	8,225
Diseases ofthe ear	6,851
Dysentery	6,289
Rheumatic affections	5,201
Diseases of the connective tissue	5,053
Do. nervous system	4,646

Operations.

165. The number of major operations performed in the year was 325, as compared with 275 in the previous year. Of the number, 275 were successful. The number of these patients relieved was 16, 8 were discharged, and 20 died, while 16 remained under treatment at the close of the year.

Income and expenditure.

166. The cash balance in hand at the opening of the year was Rs. 51,617-3-7 as compared with Rs. 41,077-8-1 at the corresponding period in 1886. The total receipts in the year from all sources amounted to Rs. 1,04,210-6-5 as against Rs. 86,531-8-4 in 1886. The cash balance remaining at the close of the year was Rs. 54,328-9-1 as compared with Rs. 40,192-12-11 remaining at the close of 1886. With a view to rendering the dispensaries more self-supporting, the question of introducing a moderate scale of fees leviable from well-to-do patients was revived at the close of the year.

Inspection.

167. The dispensaries and hospitals received the ordinary share of inspection from the Civil Surgeons of districts. The Inspector-General inspected 6 civil hospitals, 6 jail hospitals, and 22 charitable dispensaries.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

168. No new sanitary works on a large scale were undertaken in the municipalities during 1887. Out of an estimated income of Rs. 1,78,315, Rs. 84,155, or 47·1 per cent. of total income, were expended in the seven municipalities for sanitary purposes; on conservancy alone 21·1 per cent. of the total income was expended. Proposals were made in the course of the year by the Akola Municipality for carrying out the scheme for supplying the town with water. The drainage of the town of Khamgaon was completed, and that of its suburbs taken in hand. As regards district expenditure, the only work of importance undertaken was a project to supply the civil station of Amraoti with water. The work is estimated to cost Rs. 48,431. The total district (non-municipal) expenditure on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,03,390 as compared with Rs. 93,685 in the previous year. Of this sum, 29 per cent. was spent on conservancy, 22 per cent. on drainage, 18 per cent. on water-supply, and 30 per cent. on other sanitary works. The sanitary inspection of towns and villages was steadily carried on and detailed reports were submitted as usual by the Sanitary Commissioner. An improvement in the sanitary condition of the towns and villages in the Basim District was specially noticed.

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Strength and conduct of the staff.

169. The strength of the establishment was the same as in the previous year. The conduct of the staff, with one exception, was satisfactory.

Work done.

170. The total number of operations performed by all establishments was 97,158 as compared with 95,504 in 1886-87. Of these, 90,311 were performed by the special establishment and 6,847 at dispensaries, as against 88,266 and 7,238 respectively in the previous year. Although the number of operations performed at dispensaries fell off by 391, those performed by the special establishment increased by 2,045. These results would have been still more satisfactory had it not been necessary to employ the majority of the vaccinators on special cholera duty for nearly four months of the year. Of the total number of persons operated upon by the special establishment, 46,075 were males and 44,236 females. The average number of persons vaccinated by each vaccinator was 2,150 as compared with 2,070 in the previous year. Out of a total of 93,118 successful primary operations, 86,824 were performed by the special establishment and 6,294 by the establishment at dispensaries, as compared with 83,554 and 6,672 respectively in the previous year. The percentages of successful cases were 96·5 and 93·3 respectively, as against 96·2 and 92·3 in 1886-87. As regards re-vaccination, the figures below show an appreciable increase over the results of the previous year:—

	1886.	1887.
Total number of operations by all establishments ...	48	433
Total successful	14	234
Percentage of success	29·1	54·0

171. The total expenditure incurred fell from Rs. 17,119-11-4 in 1886-87 to Rs. 16,770-3-2 in the year under report, and the average cost of each successful operation from 3-3 as. to 3-1 as.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

Education.

No. of schools and scholars.

172. In consequence of the prevalence of cholera, fevers and bowel-complaints, which affected the attendance in schools, the year under report was unfavourable to the progress of education. The enhanced fees which were imposed during the year probably also tended to decrease the attendance. The number of schools and scholars on the 31st of March is given below for the past two years :—

Description of schools.				No of schools.		No. of scholars.

* This includes 19 pupil-teachers under training for schoolmasterships in the different districts.

While the number of secondary schools was the same as in the previous year, Government primary institutions show an increase of 1 among the boys' schools and 2 among those for girls. There was a decrease of 21 among the unaided primary schools under private management, which was however amply compensated for by an increase of 78 among the aided schools of this class. Among wholly private institutions, the number of advanced (Arabic or Persian and Sanskrit) schools decreased by 3, and elementary by 12. As regards attendance, while the Government, Municipal, and unaided private schools for boys show a falling-off in the number of pupils, Government schools for girls and aided private institutions for boys and girls had a substantial increase to their attendance.

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

173. With regard to the number of schools and scholars, the relative positions of the districts were the same as in the previous year. Akola was still in the foremost place, while Wun held the last, and Ellichpur, excluding the Melghat, the first as regards the average number of square miles to every school and the percentage of scholars to school-going age.

University education.

174. The total number of students holding Berar scholarships pursuing their education in the Bombay colleges fell from 7 to 6. Of three students in the Previous examination class, one was prevented by illness from appearing for examination, while of the two that presented themselves, one succeeded in passing the examination. One student who appeared for the first B.A. examination failed to pass owing to his being ill at the time of examination. However, two ex-students of the Berar High Schools passed higher University Examinations during the year—one the second B.A. and the other the M.A. examination.

Matriculation.

175. Gratifying as the results of the Matriculation examination were to Berar during the preceding three years, the success obtained during the year under report was the most satisfactory on record. Out of a total of 27 candidates from the high schools of the province who appeared for the examination, 17 were successful, the percentage of success obtained by Berar being 63 as compared with 27·3 per cent. for the Bombay Presidency and adjoining districts. In addition to this four ex-students of the Berar High Schools were successful at the examination. Of the three Berar scholarships, two were won by students from the Akola High School and one by a student from the Amraoti High School. The "Cama Barristers' Victoria Jubilee Scholarship" and the "Sinclair Prize" were awarded to two students of the latter institution.

Secondary schools.

176. As regards secondary schools, the statement below compares the results for the past two years :—

* Omitted as the information on this point has not been furnished in the Report of the Director of Public Instruction.

The increased cost of educating each pupil in the middle and high schools was due to enhanced expenditure on those institutions on account of salaries and repairs and to the entertainment of additional masters. In middle schools the decrease in the average cost to provincial revenues was caused by a larger portion of the expenditure being borne by fees than in the previous year.

Primary schools.

177. There was no material change in the number of primary schools for boys under the management of the department and of municipalities, but the total number of scholars fell off by 1,345. The following two tables furnish information regarding the state and cost of education in these schools for the past two years :—

The receipts from fees thus increased by over Rs. 4,000, and the total expenditure by nearly Rs. 2,000, but the average cost of educating each pupil, both as a total cost and the cost to provincial revenues, and the proportion of the total expenditure on Government primary schools chargeable to provincial revenues fell below the figures of the previous year.

Aided schools.

178. The number of schools under private management receiving fixed monthly grants from Government was 4, as compared with 3 in the previous year. The increase was caused by the conversion of the Amraoti Mission Female School from a Government institution into a grant-in-aid school. The total number of pupils rose from 195 to 225. The number of pupils who passed in the primary standards was 82. The aggregate monthly allowance granted to these schools was Rs. 92.

Indigenous schools.

179. Good progress was made during the year as regards indigenous schools. The total number of schools rose from 338 to 390, the number inspected from 278 to 360, the number of pupils examined from 3,667 to 4,635, and the number of schools which earned proficiency and capitation grants including prizes from 201 to 267, while the number which earned other grants besides prizes and those which earned prizes only rose from 31 and 34 to 40 and 35 respectively. The total value of the grants rose from Rs. 6,189-1-6 to Rs. 8,179-12-2.

Training College.

180. The total number of students undergoing training as schoolmasters was 99 as compared with 96 in the previous year. Nineteen of the students were attached to selected schools as pupil-teachers. Of the total number of students, 46 were examined in the first year's course, of whom 29 passed; and 29 in the certificate examination, of whom 16 passed. Twenty-five students obtained employment.

Examination for entrance into the Training College.

181. The number of candidates who appeared at the examination for entrance into the Training College was 116 as compared with 100 in the previous year. Fifty-seven candidates succeeded in passing the examination, of whom 49 joined the college, 39 being on the Marathi and 10 on the Hindustani side.

Drawing.

182. Drawing continued to be taught in the high schools and the training college. The number of students who presented themselves for the First Grade examination held at the Bombay School of Art was somewhat larger than in the previous year, viz., 69, against 54. Thirty-one students obtained certificates, and one was awarded a prize.

Female education, primary.

183. Female education advanced, although the rate of progress was slow. The number of Government and municipal schools for females rose from 34 to 36, and the number of scholars from 1,134 to 1,213, while the amount of fees collected also showed an increase, viz., from Rs. 170-14-0 to Rs. 196-2-3. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 6,800-2-6 in 1886-87 to Rs. 8,325-0-10 in the year under report, and the annual cost of educating each pupil from Rs. 6-5-2 to Rs. 7-4-11. In addition to these institutions, there were seven aided private schools for girls with 148 scholars, making a total of 43 female schools in the province with 1,572 scholars, including those girls who attended schools other than those reserved exclusively for females, as compared with 38 and 1,423 respectively in 1886-87. The number of passes in the several standards was 414, including the girls who passed in boys' schools, as against 282 in the preceding year.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

184. Two additional schools for European and Eurasian children were opened during the year, making a total of three in all, with a total of 57 pupils. All are reported to have done well.

Muhammadan education.

185. The following statistics of the Hindustani schools under public management for the past two years show an improvement in the education of Muhammadan children:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.
Number of schools ...	76	78
„ of scholars on the 31st March ...	3,977	4,015
„ of pupils examined under the several standards ...	1,814	1,778
„ of pupils passed ...	1,069	1,283

There was also a slight increase in the number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management.

Education of aborigines.

186. The number of pupils who attended the two schools for the children of aborigines rose from 56 to 60, but the number of passes in the first three standards was the same as in the previous year. It was found necessary to close one of these schools as the people do not want or appreciate schools.

Education of low castes.

187. Education among the low castes showed a slight advance over the previous year. The number of pupils was 1,392, as compared with 1,344 in 1886-87. The number of pupils examined rose from 349 to 448, the number passed from 218 to 294, and the percentage of passes from 62·4 to 65·6.

Private schools.

188. The number of private schools at the close of the year was 11 as compared with 26 in the previous year, and the number of pupils 173 as against 340. The reduction was the natural outcome of the additional grant-in-aid rules which were introduced in 1887, by means of which those of the so-called "private schools" that took advantage of the provisions of the new rules were returned as "public schools under private management."

Physical education

189. Physical education continued satisfactory in all districts but Buldana. The number of gymnasia rose from 372 to 397. The number visited by the instructor was 381.

Castes of pupils.

190. The following figures show the pupils according to race or creed during the past two years in the Government and Municipal schools of the province:—

	1886-87.		1887-88.
	Pupils.	Percentage.	Pupils.	Percentage.

Popular contributions.

191. Popular contributions fell from Rs. 7,992-0-6 in 1886-87 to Rs. 5,938-6-8 in the year under report. The decrease is ascribed to the unhealthiness of the year and in some measure to bad harvests. The amount contributed was, however, more than double that received in 1885-86.

Fee receipts.

192. In consequence of the introduction from the 1st December 1887 of an enhanced scale of fees, the income from this source was augmented largely. The figures for the past three years are compared below:—

	1885-86.			1886-87.			1887-88.
	Rs.	a.	p.	Rs.	a.	p.	Rs.	a.	p.

Total ...	38,713	0	2	41,169	9	6	46,656	1	6

Expenditure

193. The total expenditure of the year was Rs. 4,24,984 as compared with Rs. 4,02,782 in 1886-87. The increase was due to larger sums having been spent on account of grants-in-aid to private schools and on direction, inspection, high schools, &c. Also to larger disbursements on primary school-houses. Of the total expenditure, Rs. 2,51,139 was met from provincial revenues, Rs. 1,17,021 from the educational cess, Rs. 41,361 from fees, and the balance from local funds and subscriptions.

SECTION II.

Literature and the Press.

Text Book Committee.

194. The Text Book Committee received during the year, including 8 books which remained on hand at the close of the previous year, 14 books, and 6 were reported on. Three, which were departmental text-books, were found suitable.

Book depôts.

195. The number of book depôts was the same as in the previous year. The stock account was as follows:—

Receipts.

	Copies.	Amount. Rs.	a.	p.
Balance on 31st March 1887	116,699	19,223	5	7

Literature.

196. Twelve books were registered under Act XXV of 1867, seven of which were monthly numbers of the Berar School Paper; of the remaining five, two were educational works, one a biography, one on agriculture, and one a collection of works.

An honorarium of Rs. 50 was granted for a work named "Putalabai," and two were recommended for rewards.

Presses.

197. With the exception of a weekly newspaper (The Varhad Darpan) which was started in 1886-87 and printed at the Guna Sindhu Press and came to an end in the year under report, there was no change either in the number of presses or in the newspapers and periodicals published in the province.

Public libraries.

198. There were 27 public libraries and reading rooms, as compared with 28 in the previous year. The condition of most of the libraries was much the same as in 1886-87.

SECTION III.

Arts and Sciences.

199. There is nothing to record under this head.

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel.

MR. A. P. HOWELL, B.C.S., held the office of Resident at Hyderabad, and Mr. G. S. Forbes that of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar, throughout the year. The office of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held by Mr. Leslie Saunders, B.C.S., from the 1st April until his death on the 22nd May 1888, by Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, B.S.C., from the 22nd May to the 20th November, and by Mr. T. J. C. Plowden, B.C.S., from the 21st November 1888 to the close of the year. The appointment of Judicial Commissioner was held by Colonel Szczepanski from the 1st April to the 25th May 1888, by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, M.S.C., from the 26th May to the 13th August, by Lieutenant-Colonel R. Bullock, M.S.C., from the 14th August to the 21st November, by Colonel Szczepanski again from the 22nd to the 25th November, and by Colonel Mackenzie from the 26th November 1888 to the close of the year.

Survey.

2. The particulars furnished in the last administration report included only work done up to the end of May 1888, as the forest survey party was still in the field when the year 1887-88 closed. The whole of the party returned to recess quarters by the 15th July 1888. The area topographically surveyed was 760 square miles, 207 square miles being on the 4″ and 553 square miles on the 2″ scale. The average number of plane table stations per square mile was 102, and 21 additional stations per square mile were added when the work was tested and checked. The cost of the season's work, estimated on the area plane-tabled, was Rs. 64 per square mile on the 4″ and Rs. 42 per square mile on the 2″ scale, against Rs. 67 and Rs. 46 respectively in the previous year. Up to the close of the survey year ending on the 1st October 1888 the operations in Berar had extended over an area of 2,799 square miles; 2,505 had been triangulated, over 2,443 traversed, and a detailed topographical survey of 2,150 completed, of which 931 square miles had been surveyed on the 4″ and 1,219 on the 2″ scale. As the survey of the south Berar reserves has been postponed until the new forest law for Berar comes into operation, the final cost rate of the whole of the completed areas is now shown. The total expenditure incurred by the Berar administration on survey and other work since the Forest Survey Department entered the province in 1883 up to the 1st October 1888 was Rs. 1,95,968, and the amount expended under survey heads, and from which the final cost rates are deduced, was Rs. 16,989. The cost per square mile completely surveyed was Rs. 79 and Rs. 57 for the 4″ and 2″ scales respectively. The operations of the Revenue Survey show improved results. The following figures contrast the out-turn of work for the past two years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.
No. of fields measured...	2,063 or 60,778 acres.	2,488½ or 81,770 acres.
No. of fields classed ...	2,008 or 52,714 acres.	2,057 or 51,420 acres.

Seven per cent. of the total area measured and 9 per cent. of the land classed were tested. The total expenditure was Rs. 19,495, of which Rs. 18,203 were on account of salaries. The expenditure was, however, reduced by recoveries on account of fines to Rs. 19,134. The cost per square mile fell from Rs. 201, or 5 annas an acre, in 1887-88, to Rs. 151, or 3 annas an acre, in the year under report.

Waste lands.

3. The number of leased villages rose from 505 to 507, the total area from 909,369 acres to 914,545, and the rental from Rs. 83,258 to Rs. 88,122.

Acts introduced.

4. Six Acts of the Imperial Legislature and one of the Bombay Legislature were made applicable, by order of the Governor-General-in-Council, to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year.

Police.

5. The total strength of the police force employed in the province was 2,787 men, against 2,822 in the previous year. This decrease in strength is due to the fact that a larger number of men left the force in the year under report, and that there were fewer entertained. A further reduction of camel sowars was made during the year, and the foot police was strengthened to the extent of 4 head constables and 14 constables. The health of the force was somewhat better than in the previous year, the death-rate being 1·5 against 2 per cent. in 1887, and the total number of deaths 44 against 58.

Crime.

6. The total number of cognizable cases reported during the year was 8,601 as compared with 7,803 in 1887. The increase is attributed to a rise in the prices of food-grains and consequent pressure on the poorer classes. As regards serious crime, murders fell from 38 to 33, while dakaitis rose from 13 to 19; but none of the latter were of a serious nature. The suppression of four gangs of dakaits in Basim at the close of the year is expected to have a good effect in the south-eastern part of that district, which has for some years been troubled by such criminals. Nothing was heard of Tantia Bhil or his gang in Berar during the year. Robberies rose from 26 to 36, house-breakings from 981 to 1,194, and thefts from 2,367 to 2,819. The value of property reported as stolen was Rs. 2,10,638, compared with Rs. 1,77,005 in 1887, and the value recovered was Rs. 64,847 against Rs. 49,965. Of the cases of cognizable crime 4,843 ended in conviction, against 4,717 in 1887. The number of non-cognizable offences reported was 7,598, against 5,252 in the previous year. The number of persons against whom process was issued rose from 10,702 to 14,226, and the number of individuals convicted from 3,245 to 4,629.

Criminal justice.

7. Including cases pending at the beginning of the year, there were altogether 13,884 criminal cases for disposal, affecting 22,965 persons. Of these, 13,797 cases were disposed of, and 87 were left pending at the close of the year. The percentage of convictions was 46·7. The offences were for the most part of a petty nature. As regards grave crime, there was a slight increase in cases of dakaiti and rape, while murders were less numerous than in the previous year. The average duration of trials before the magistracy was 5·1 days. There were in all 38 cases for disposal by the Sessions Court, of which 33 were disposed of. The average duration of these trials was 55·2 days, or 9·8 less than in 1887. Including cases pending at the beginning of the year, there were altogether 443 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners. Of these, 440 were heard, the average duration being 9·8 days. The Judicial Commissioner, as Sessions Judge, had 317 appeals to deal with, of which 298 were disposed of. In the High Court of the Resident 34 appeals were preferred and 30 decided.

Prisons.

8. The total jail population of the year was 3,375, against 2,968 in 1887, and the number of admissions 2,071, against 1,690. As already noticed, there was a large increase of crime in the province owing to the pressure of high prices on the poorer classes. The number of previously-convicted prisoners decreased from 283 to 262. Of three prisoners who escaped during the year, two were recaptured. There was altogether a considerable improvement in the conduct of prisoners in jail during the year, as is shown by the fact that offences against prison discipline fell from 567 to 315. The mark system continued to work well. The chief forms of labour in the jails were, as usual, stone-breaking, lithographing, printing for public departments, and weaving material for police clothing. The total cash earnings of convicts sentenced to labour rose from Rs. 12,340-6-0 to Rs. 14,721-10-0; the average earnings per head sentenced to labour from Rs. 14-2-0 to Rs. 15-15-0; and the average earnings per head employed on manufactures from Rs. 33-8-0 to Rs. 34-4-0. There was rather more sickness, but less mortality, than in the previous year. The death-rate fell from 26·7 to 12·7. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners rose from Rs. 64,505 to Rs. 65,514, but the total average cost per head fell from Rs. 68-14-5 to Rs. 64-6-8.

Civil justice.

9. The number of Civil Courts open at the close of the year was 35, an increase of one on the previous year, and the number of original civil suits instituted was 26,974 against 24,491. The aggregate number of cases disposed of during the year under report was 27,767; leaving a balance at the close of the year of 1,626. Of the 27,767 cases disposed of during the year, 6,889, or 24·8 per cent., were contested, against 7,053, or 27·1 per cent., in 1887. The average duration in contested cases was 59·2 per cent., and in uncontested cases 31·7. The aggregate value of the claims involved in the suits amounted to Rupees 29,82,648-6-9. There were 31,429 applications for execution of decrees against 29,436 in the previous year. During the year, 83·1 per cent. of the applications were disposed of. The total value of the money decrees in execution during the year was Rs. 2,98,879-14-10, against Rs. 2,36,979-12-7 in the previous year. Of the above amount, Rs. 16,980-1-9 were paid in voluntarily, and Rs. 2,81,899-13-1 as realized by coercive process. Including appeals pending from last year, there were 266 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners, and of these 249 were disposed of. In the Judicial Commissioner's court there were 734 appeals for disposal, of which 151 were disposed of. The total number of second appeals for disposal in the Resident's court as high court was 21.

Registration.

10. In respect of registration the year's operations were very satisfactory as compared with previous years. The aggregate number of registrations rose to 28,151, an increase of 1,861 on the year 1887-88 and the highest figure yet recorded. Compulsory and optional registrations increased by Rs. 1,590 and 285 respectively, and the aggregate value of property transferred by Rs. 3,31,714. The income of the department rose from Rs. 59,185 to Rs. 61,853, and the expenditure from Rs. 37,222 to Rs. 38,628. The net surplus was Rs. 23,224, or Rs. 1,262 more than that of 1887-88. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,48,727. No sub-registrar's office worked at a loss.

Municipalities.

11. Pending the introduction of the Berar Municipal Law of 1886, the several municipalities continued to work under Act IV of 1873. There was therefore no alteration in the constitution of the committees, and the number of municipalities also remained unchanged. As in the previous year, Khamgaon was the only municipality which had any elected members serving on its committee. The gross income from all sources, excluding previous balances of former years, amounted to Rs. 1,55,905, against Rs. 1,54,925 in the previous year, and the total expenditure Rs. 1,59,991, against Rs. 1,42,266.

Agriculture.

12. In consequence of a further rectification of errors, the total area of the province shows a net increase of 1,056 acres for the year under report. The area under crops rose by 32,876 acres, but this increase took place in three districts only. The areas under rabi and miscellaneous crops fell off by 141,436 and 2,554 acres respectively, owing to large areas intended for kharif in the previous year having, in consequence of excessive rain, to be re-sown with rabi. This decrease was more than compensated for by an increase of 176,866 acres in the area under kharif. The percentage of acreage under jowari and cotton rose, the former from 31·8 to 33·9 per cent., and the latter from 29·8 to 30·9. On the other hand the acreage under wheat, a valuable staple of the province, diminished by nearly 2 per cent., and the area under irrigation is steadily decreasing. In the year under report it fell off by 4,456. The experimental farm at Amraoti was closed during the year, as no qualified officer was available to superintend it; and a proposal to utilize some of the land of the farm for experiments in cotton cultivation had to be abandoned for want of funds.

Rainfall.

13. The average rainfall of the year was 30 inches—22 inches less than that of the previous year, and considerably below the average of the previous eight years. It was, however, on the whole favourable to agricultural operations, and particularly so to the kharif crops, as the rain in July, when they are sown, was not excessive, and a light fall in October improved the autumn harvest.

Food-grains.

14. The variations in the prices of wheat, gram, and rice were slight; but the price of jowari rose from 20 to 19 seers per rupee. Except in one district wages of labour were the same as in the preceding year.

Veterinary.

15. There was no cattle disease, and consequently no special mortality. The six Berar students studying at the Bombay Veterinary College are reported to have done well. One passed his final examination and will soon be available for employment in the province. Satisfactory progress was made in horse-breeding operations during the year, the Government stallions having served 178 mares—an increase of 51 on the previous year. Mule-breeding, however, failed utterly, and the two donkey stallions lent for the purpose were returned to the Department of horse-breeding operations. A horse and cattle show was held at Amraoti, and was fairly successful.

Agricultural stock.

16. The statistics of agricultural stock show increases under the heads of "cows and bullocks" and "buffaloes" only. The figures under "sheep and goats," "carts" and "ploughs" are all less, but are only approximate.

Takavi.

17. Advances under the Land Improvement Act rose from Rs. 4,450 to Rs. 8,300. They were only made in four districts.

Forests.

18. With the exception of a net decrease of 35 square miles, the area of forest lands in Berar remained the same as in the previous year. Offences against forest rules rose from 387 to 496. Protection from fire was more satisfactory than in the previous year. The area over which protection was attempted and the area successfully protected increased by 11,900 and 28,514 acres respectively, while the area over which protection failed declined by 16,614 acres. The expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 5-5-0 to Rs. 6-8-0 per square mile. The financial results of the year were on the whole more favourable than in the previous year. The revenue increased by Rs. 1,945, while the expenditure showed a reduction of Rs. 13,865, leaving a net surplus of Rs. 2,38,897, against Rs. 2,23,087 in the previous year.

Trade.

19. The methods employed for the registration of the statistics of rail-borne trade were the same as before. A comparison of the figures of the year under report and the preceding year shows a decline in the import trade and an increase in the export trade of the province. The total values of the imports and exports for the two years are contrasted below :—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Increase or decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Imports ...	1,97,01,502	1,57,69,832	39,31,670
Exports ...	2,58,94,359	4,06,70,097	1,47,75,738

Except from Madras, Hyderabad and Mysore, imports from all parts decreased both in weight and value. The export traffic of the province, especially towards the port of Bombay, was considerable. Owing to the prevalence of cholera and scarcity of water, three fairs had to be stopped during the year. The internal traffic consequently suffered to a certain extent, although the attendance at some of the fairs was larger and the trade brisker than in the preceding year.

Public works.

20. The disbursements from all sources on public works amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 18,72,536. As regards imperial works, grants of Rs. 2,77,000 and Rs. 13,700 were made for military and civil works respectively, and Rs. 2,77,838 and Rs. 13,282 were expended. From the Berar Provincial Public Works Budget there was a grant of Rs. 11,02,000, of which Rs. 10,83,177 were expended, showing a lapse of Rs. 18,823, or 1·71 of the budget grant. The grants from the one per cent. road cess and from incorporated and excluded local funds amounted to Rs. 85,500, Rs. 1,01,275, and Rs. 2,04,052 respectively. Of the first sum, Rs. 71,056 were expended mostly on repairs to roads; of the second, Rs. 50,800 were spent chiefly on educational works; and of the last, Rs. 1,80,803 were utilized, of which more than half represents outlay on original works. Military works were carried out from provincial funds in connection with accommodation for the Hyderabad Contingent troops located at Bolarum, Ellichpur, Raichur, Hingoli, Mominabad, and Aurangabad, the expenditure thereon during the year amounting to Rs. 54,508. Satisfactory progress at an outlay of Rs. 77,990 was made in connection with administrative, jail, police, educational, ecclesiastical, and other miscellaneous buildings in Berar. Upwards of two-and-a-half lakhs of rupees were expended on constructing and improving roads, and the important bridge across the Purna river at Assegaon on the Amraoti-Ellichpur road was completed at a total cost of Rs. 2,60,982. During the year several works relating to water-supply of towns were completed and others were in progress, the total outlay on original works, miscellaneous public improvements, being Rs. 1,06,640.

Railways.

21. The following statistics relate to the Berar State Railways. The working expenses of the Khamgaon line were Rs. 36,839, against gross receipts of Rs. 52,635, yielding a net profit of Rs. 15,796, equivalent to 3·23 per cent. on the capital outlay. The Amraoti line gross receipts were Rs. 81,710, and the working expenses were Rs. 50,824, showing a net revenue of Rs. 30,886, equivalent to 6·94 on the capital outlay. Subjoined is a table showing results of working these lines up to date from period of construction :—

	Capital outlay.	Simple interest on capital account.	Net revenue realized.	Loss or gain.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Amraoti Railway	4,44,836	3,26,561	4,61,818	+1,35,257
Khamgaon do.	4,88,692	3,77,740	2,16,936	—1,60,804

Revenue and Finance.

22. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 1,15,37,612, and the total disbursements to Rs 1,01,05,373. Omitting from calculation the receipts and disbursements of the incorporated and excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 14,24,940 compared with a surplus of Rs. 17,36,502 for the year 1887-88. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam was Rs. 17,36,502, being the surplus of the year 1887-88 just mentioned. The surplus which had accrued to the credit of the Hyderabad State on the 31st March 1889 was Rs. 40,78,046. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,00,67,479 were derived from provincial revenues, Rs. 6,13,358 from incorporated, and Rs. 8,56,775 from excluded local funds. Rs. 86,42,539 of the provincial revenues, Rs. 8,49,476 of the excluded local funds, and the whole of the incorporated local funds revenue were utilized. The provincial contract shows a saving of Rs. 1,66,425. The accrued balance in favour of the Resident at the close of 1887-88 lapsed, and a new account for the year 1888-89 was opened, with a balance of five lakhs, in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution, No. 5,957, dated 5th November 1887. The balance at the close of the year was accordingly Rs. 6,66,425. The principal sources of income, other than land revenue, which exhibited an increase were opium, stamps, excise, police, education and contributions from local to provincial. On the other hand, the figures under the heads interest, stationery and printing, and miscellaneous show reduced receipts. The total receipts show a net increase of Rs. 2,05,960 chiefly under civil and adjusting heads, while the total disbursements show a net increase of Rs. 5,17,523, chiefly under the heads "civil" and "army—Hyderabad Contingent."

Vital statisti

23. The year was a healthy one and free from epidemic disease. The number of deaths registered from all causes was 64,865, or 53,932 less than in the previous year. The death-rate in proportion to population fell from 45·3 to 24·7 per 1,000. The number of births registered was 108,390, or 2,243 more than in the previous year. The rate to population was 41·3 per mille. Of the births registered, 55,813 were males and 52,577 females. In districts the highest rate was, as in the previous year, recorded in Buldana, and the lowest in Wun.

Medical relief.

24. The number of civil hospitals and dispensaries open in the province was the same as in the previous year; but the total number of patients treated was 256,799, exceeding by 8,289 the figure for the previous year. This increase may be attributed to the increasing popularity of the institutions. Malarious fever was, as usual, the disease for which there were the most admissions. The number of major surgical operations fell from 335 to 213; but the decrease was due to a stricter classification of surgical work. The gross receipts rose from Rs. 1,04,210 to Rs. 1,06,684, and the expenditure from Rs. 1,01,499 to Rs. 1,09,197.

Sanitation.

25. Although no sanitary works of any great importance were undertaken during the year, attention was paid in all municipalities to the improvement of drainage, water-supply and conservancy. Out of a total municipal income of Rs. 1,55,627, a proportion of Rs. 89,193, or 57·3 per cent., was expended for sanitary purposes and 22·8 per cent. on conservancy alone. In districts, exclusive of municipalities, the total outlay on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,05,476 out of an allotment of Rs. 1,06,246, compared with Rs. 1,03,389 in the previous year.

Vaccination.

26. As to vaccination, the year shows an increase of 8,444 in the number of persons operated upon, but the ratio of success was nearly the same as in the previous year. The average number of persons vaccinated by each operator showed an increase of 93 per head over the previous year. Out of a total of 97,512 successful operations, 89,173 were performed by the special establishment and 8,339 at dispensaries. The total expenditure incurred, exclusive of the Melghat, rose from Rs. 16,770-3-2 to Rs. 16,811-15-6; but the average cost of each successful operation fell from Ans. 3-1 to Ans. 2-11.

Education.

27. The working of the Educational Department was, on the whole, more successful than in the previous year. The decrease of 21 in the number of unaided schools noticed in 1887-88 was all but made good in the year under report, which is also remarkable for an increase of 98 in the number of schools of all kinds, and of 2,038 in the number of scholars. The proportion of male pupils to male population of school-going age rose from 20·4 to 21·3 per cent. The results of the matriculation examination were again very satisfactory. Although the number of students who appeared for examination was only 23, or 4 less than in the previous year, the number of passes was the same, viz., 17. The number of primary schools increased by 5 and the number of scholars by 413. The training college continued to do good work. Female education is slowly but steadily progressing. Notwithstanding that the total number of primary schools for girls decreased by 1, the number of pupils rose by 45. A perceptible advance was also made in the education of Muhammadans. Physical education continues to gain in popularity. There was an increase of 34 in the number of gymnasia in the province and of 14 in the number visited by the instructor. The income from popular contributions and fees levied in all classes of schools shows a satisfactory increase; but as a set-off the total expenditure on education rose by Rs. 11,604. This increase in expenditure was chiefly on primary schools.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

2. Mr. A. P. Howell, B.C.S., held the office of Resident at Hyderabad, and Mr. G. S. Forbes that of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar, throughout the year. The office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar was held by Lieutenant W. H. Cornish, B.S.C., from the 1st to the 7th April 1888, by Captain E. R. Penrose, B.S.C., temporarily from the 8th to the 23rd April, by Mr. A. L. P. Tucker, Bo.C.S., from the 24th April to the 10th November, by Lieutenant M. A. Tighe, M.S.C., from the 11th November 1888 to the 21st January 1889, and by Major A. M. Muir, B.S.C., from the 22nd January 1889 to the close of the year. The office of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held by Mr. Leslie Saunders, B.C.S., from the 1st April until his death on the 22nd May 1888, by Colonel H.C.A. Szczepanski, B.S.C., from the 22nd May to the 20th November, and by Mr. T. J. C. Plowden, B.C.S., from the 21st November 1888 to the close of the year. The appointment of Judicial Commissioner was held by Colonel Szczepanski from the 1st April to the 25th May 1888, by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, M.S.C., from the 26th May to the 13th August, by Lieutenant-Colonel R. Bullock, M.S.C., from the 14th August to the 21st November, by Colonel Szczepanski again from the 22nd to the 25th November, and by Colonel Mackenzie from the 26th November 1888 to the close of the year.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and settlement.

Forest survey.

The area topographically surveyed was 760 square miles, of which 207 were surveyed on the 4″ scale and 553 on the 2″ scale. The average number of plane table stations per square mile was 102, and 21 additional stations per square mile were added when the work was tested and checked. The cost of the season's work, estimated on the area plane-tabled, was Rs. 64 per square mile for the 4″ survey, and Rs. 42 for the 2″ work, against Rs. 67 and Rs. 46 respectively in the previous year. Up to the end of the survey year ending 1st October 1888 the operations in Berar had extended over an area of 2,799 square miles: 2,505 had been triangulated; over 2,443 traversed; and a detailed topographical survey of 2,150 completed, of which 931 square miles had been surveyed on the 4″ and 1,219 on the 2″ scale. The detailed survey comprised the entire Melghat taluk, the Bingara jagir, the hilly portion of the Akola district adjoining the Melghat, as well as the State forests of Gerumatergaon in the Buldana district. A considerable area has thus been prepared in advance in South Berar for detail survey; but as under the new Forest Law for Berar shortly about to come into force, additions may possibly be made to the old demarcated reserves, which alone it was originally intended to survey, it has been considered advisable to postpone the survey of the south Berar reserves, in order to avoid going over the ground a second time. Under these circumstances, and as the entire Melghat taluk and other areas have been completed, the final cost rate of the completed areas is now given.

The total expenditure incurred by the forest survey department on account of surveys and other work done for the Berar administration since that department entered the province in 1883 up to the 1st October 1888 was Rs. 1,95,968; the amount expended under survey heads, and from which the final cost rates are deduced, was Rs. 16,989. The cost per square mile of areas completely surveyed was Rs. 79 and Rs. 57 for the 4″ and 2″ scales respectively. Pending the settlement of the western boundary of the Melghat marching with Nimar in the Central Provinces, the printing of the new map sheets containing the western boundary of the Melghat has been deferred.

Revenue survey.

5. Settlement work was carried on in 61 izara, 2 jagir and 33 khalsa villages. The following statement shows the outturn of the year, contrasted with that of the previous year:—

Number and area of fields measured.

1887-88.		1888-89.
Number.	Acres.	Number.	Acres.
2,063	60,778	2,488½	81,770

Number and area of fields classed.

2,008	52,714	2,057	51,420

Of the total area measured, 5,580 acres, or 7 per cent. of the whole, were tested, and of the land classed, 4,763 acres or 9 per cent.

The total expenditure was Rs. 19,495, of which Rs. 18,203 was on account of salaries. The recoveries on account of fines amounted to Rs. 301, which reduced the expenditure to Rs. 19,154. The cost per square mile fell from Rs. 201 or 5 annas an acre in 1887-88 to Rs. 151 or 3 annas an acre in the year under report.

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

6. The number of villages leased under the waste land rules rose from 505 to 507, the total area from 909,369 to 914,545 acres, and the rental from Rs. 83,258 to Rs. 88,122. Two villages were given out on lease, one village in the Basim district was restored to the izardar, and one in the Wun district was made khalsa owing to failure of heirs.

SECTIONS III and IV.

Wards and Government Estates.

7. There are no wards or Government estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Course of Legislation.

8. The following six Acts of the Imperial Legislature and one of the Bombay Legislature were, subject to certain modifications, made applicable, by order of the Governor-General in Council, to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts :—

Act XVI of 1861 (an Act for licensing and regulating stage carriages).

Act IV of 1886 (amending the Indian Contract Act, IX of 1872).

The Indian Registration Act (VII of 1886), except sub-sections (1) and (3) of section 3 and section 6.

Act VIII of 1887, abolishing military courts of requests as established by Indian military law.

The Debtors Act, VI of 1888, except sections 9 and 10.

The Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act VII of 1888, except section 17.

Bombay Act III of 1887—The Bombay Boiler Inspection Act, 1887.

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

9. During the year 1888 a further reduction of camel sowars took place, and the foot police force was strengthened to the extent of 4 head constables and 14 constables. With these exceptions, there was no change in the strength of the police, which remained as sanctioned at 538 officers (including 1 Inspector General, 6 District Superintendents, and 2 Assistants) and 2,249 men. The proportion of police to area was 1 to every 63 square miles, and to population 1 to every 961 persons.

Composition and health of the force.

10. There was a slight improvement in the health of the force during the year under report, the rate of mortality being 1·5 against 2 per cent. in 1887, and the total number of deaths 44 against 58. Omitting vacancies, of which there were 48 at the close of the year, the details of the force according to race and caste or religion were as follow :—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	17	5
Muhammadans	191	921
Brahmins	166	383
Rajputs	35	160
Sikhs	10	9
Hindus of all other castes	116	725
	535	2,203

Conduct and discipline.

11. The following figures show the number of punishments, departmental and judicial, and the number of men granted rewards during 1888 as compared with the previous year:—

Punishments.

	1887.	1888.
Judicial	39	37
Departmental	279	323
	318	360

Rewards.

By promotion	59	13
By grants of money	28	27

Resignations and entertainments.

12. The total number of men who left the force from all causes was 337, against 326 in the previous year; of these, 60 retired on pension or gratuity, 161 resigned, 48 were dismissed, 20 discharged and 4 deserted, while 44 died. As regards service, there were, exclusive of 319 recruits, 1,263 men with service ranging from one to ten years, and 1,148 with service of ten years and upwards.

Equipment.

13. There was no change in the armament of the force. Omitting gazetted officers, the number of men provided with fire-arms was 1,359; with swords only or with swords and batons, 444; and with batons only, 975.

State of crime.

14. The total number of cases of cognizable crime reported during the year was 8,601. Of these, 117 were rejected as false, leaving a total of 8,484 cases investigated including 2,953 petty nuisance cases.

The following statement gives the offences of the year under report as compared with the preceding year:—

	1887.	1888.
Class I.—Offences against the State and public tranquillity, &c.	96	126
„ II.—Serious offences against the person ...	228	249
„ III.— Do. against person and property or property only	1,134	1,365
„ IV.—Minor offences against the person ...	175	199
„ V.— Do. against property	2,860	3,369

Heinous crime.

15. Murders decreased from 38 to 33, while dakaitis rose from 13 to 19. None of the dakaitis were of a serious type, and the increase is believed to have been a casual fluctuation only. The suppression of four gangs of dakaits in Basim at the close of the year 1888 is expected to have a good effect in the south-eastern part of that district, which has for some years been troubled by dakaits. No crimes were committed in the Melghat by Tantia Bhil or his gang, nor did he, as far as is known, visit that tract. Robberies rose from 26 to 36, house-breakings from 981 to 1,194, and thefts from 2,367 to 2,819. In house-breakings the percentage of value of property recovered was 20·2 as compared with 20·4 in 1887.

Thefts.

16. The following figures show the number of thefts classified according to the value of property stolen :—

	1887.	1888
From „ 10 to Rs. 100 ...	571	656
„ „ 100 to Rs. 1,000 ...	121	134

(l) Property recovered	49,965	64,847
(m) Percentage of recoveries	28·2	30·7

Non-cognizable crime.

18. The statistics of non-cognizable crime in the year under report as compared with that of the preceding year are given below :—

		1887.		1888.
Cases instituted by complaint ...	4,730		7,209
Taken up by magistrate of his own motion ...	522		389
		5,252		7,598

No. of persons against whom process issued		10,702		14,226
Do. acquitted		6,677		7,898
Do. convicted		3,245		4,629

Photographing of old offenders.

19. The system of photographing professional offenders, which was introduced in 1887, has been attended with good results.

Railway police.

20. The following table gives the working of this branch of the force for the past two years. There was a slight improvement in regard to the number of persons convicted and the amount of property recovered.

		1887.	1888.
	detected	15	11
	convicted	19	25
Value of property	stolen	3,341	2,387
	recovered	339	451

Relations between the police and the magistracy.

21. With reference to paragraph 21 of the Administration Report for 1887-88, it may be mentioned that instructions regarding the relations of District Superintendents of police to District Magistrates were issued by the Resident in June last, i.e., after the close of the year to which the statistics given in paragraphs 9 to 20 relate.

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

Tribunals.

22. The courts which exercised criminal jurisdiction during the year were—

1 Resident's Court (High Court).
1 Judicial Commissioner's Court (Sessions Court).
6 Deputy Commissioners exercising powers under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code.
17 First Class Magistrates.
22 Second Class Magistrates.
7 Third Class Magistrates.
16 Special Magistrates.
1 Bench of Magistrates.

71 Total.

Amount of crime.

23. The following figures show the number of offences reported during the year under review as compared with the preceding year, and how they were disposed of:—

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under Section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
		No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent	No.	Per cent
1887 ...	15,699	2,507	15·97	612	3·9	12,580	80·1	10,809	68·8
1888 ...	19,629	3,214	16·37	795	4·05	15,620	79·5	13,410	68·3

The increase of 3,040 in the number of offences committed during the year is made up chiefly of offences against the person and property. In these there was an increase of 899 and 760 respectively. Offences under special and local laws also increased by 989. The percentage of cases brought to trial to cases returned as true was 85·8, against 86 in the preceding year.

The following table shows offences in each class for the past two years:—

	1888.	1887.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the State	...	...	...	...
Do. relating to the army and navy ...	...	...	...	...
Do. against the public tranquillity ...	134	119	15	...
Do. by or relating to public servants ...	16	4	12	...
Contempts of the lawful authority of servants ...	270	288	...	18
False evidence and offences against public justice ...	76	52	24	...
Offences relating to coin and Government stamps...	14	14	...	...
Do. relating to weights and measures ...	46	64	...	18
Do. affecting the public health, safety, convenience, decency and morals ...	827	442	385	...
Do. relating to religion	9	7	2	...
Total ...	1,392	990	438	36
Offences affecting the human body	4,235	3,336	899	...
Do. against property	5,033	4,273	760	...
Do. not included in the above	175	185	...	10
Do. under special and local laws	4,785	3,796	989	...
Grand total ...	15,620	12,580	3,086	46

It will be seen from the above statement that offences against the public health have largely increased. Of the 4,235 offences affecting human life, 32 were murders against 38 in 1887. There was an increase in minor offences affecting the human body and in offences against property. The offences under "Special and Local Laws" consisted principally of breaches of the Abkari Act, the Cattle Trespass Act, the Forest Rules of 1871, the Opium Act and the Acts which deal with conservancy, municipal, and police regulations.

Of the 15,620 offences returned as true, 13,410 were brought to trial. The number of persons before the courts during the year 1887 was 18,610 against 22,965 in 1888. Of these, 11,468 or 50·2 per cent. were acquitted or discharged, 10,658 or 46·7 per cent. were convicted, 535 or 2·3 per cent. died, escaped or were transferred, and 186 or 0·8 per cent. were committed or referred.

Distribution of work.

24. The following statement shows the distribution of work among the several courts as compared with the previous year:—

Courts.	Cases.	Percentage.
		1888.	1887.
Deputy Commissioners	458	3·3	3·6
Special Assistant Commissioners	159	1·2	0·3

Benches of Magistrates	612	4·4	6·7
Assistant Conservator of Forests	...	...	...
Total ...	13,797	100	100

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

25. Eighty cases were disposed of by District Magistrates in exercise of their enhanced powers.

Of the 164 persons tried, 90 or 54·9 per cent. were convicted, and 74 or 48·1 per cent. acquitted.

The average duration of cases decided by the several classes of Magistrates (including cases under section 30, Criminal Procedure Code), was 5·1 days, against 5·6 and 5·5 in 1887 and 1886 respectively.

26. There were 453 summary trials during the year, against 476 in 1887. Summary trials.

27. Two European British subjects were tried during the year—one for an offence relating to documents, the other for criminal force and assault; both were acquitted. European British subjects.

The following statement shows the total number of punishments inflicted by the various classes of courts:—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total number of persons punished.	Persons sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

28. Eight thousand seven hundred and thirty-eight persons were sentenced to fine, against 7,439 in the previous year, and the total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 62,951, against Rs. 65,335. The total amount realized during the year was Rs. 56,198, of which Rs. 7,202 was paid away as compensation. Fines.

29. The total number of witnesses examined by the criminal courts was 26,343, of whom 658 or 1·7 per cent. were detained for more than three days. Witnesses.

30. The proportion of persons tried to total population was 1 in 119, against 1 in 146 in the preceding year. Proportion of offenders and witnesses to population.

31. Sixty-seven persons were tried by the court of sessions. Of these 47 were convicted, of whom 14 were sentenced to death and 21 to transportation; 20 were acquitted. Sessions court.

In one case the sentence of death was commuted by the Resident as High Court to transportation for life.

The percentage of convictions rose from 37·8 to 70·1.

Twenty-nine cases were tried with the aid of assessors. In 22 the judge agreed with the assessors and differed from one or both assessors in the remaining seven.

The duration of trials before the sessions court was 55·2 days, or 9·8 less than in 1887.

Appeals.

32. Including cases pending at the beginning of the year, there were 443 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners, against 309 in 1887. The number of appellants involved was 781, of whom the cases of 773 were disposed of with the following results:—

	Rejected.	Confirmed.	Varied.	Reversed.	Quashed.	New trial ordered.	Pending
	286	213	97	175	1	1	8
Compare 1887 ...	193	115	58	129	...	1	12

The Judicial Commissioner's court as court of session had to deal with 415 appellants against convictions by First Class Magistrates with the following results:—

In 289 cases the appeals were rejected, in 7 the sentences were confirmed, in 16 modified, and in 44 reversed. In one case the proceedings were quashed, and 35 remained undisposed of at the end of the year.

The average duration of appeals in the Deputy Commissioners' and Judicia Commissioner's courts was 9·8 and 21·3 days respectively, against 16·9 and 24·4 in 1887.

Including one case pending from the previous year, there were 34 criminal appeals for disposal in the Resident's court. These were disposed of as follows:—

Rejected	14
Sentences reversed	7
Do. confirmed	6
Do. modified	3
	30
	34

33. There were 30 applications for disposal by the Resident as a court of revision, of which 17 were rejected. In 2 the sentences were quashed, in 3 enhanced, in 2 confirmed, and in 2 reversed.

SECTION IV.

Prisons.

Jail population.

34. The year 1888 opened with a total jail population of 1,053 as compared with 1,144 in 1887. The number of prisoners admitted during the year rose from 2,873 to 3,512, or 22·2 per cent., and the direct admissions from 1,690 to 2,071. The daily average strength of all prisoners rose from 936·5 to 1018·5, or nearly 9 per cent. The increase is attributed to dearness of jowari, the staple food grain, and the ousting of manual labour by the introduction of machinery for cotton ginning with consequent reduction of the wages of the poorer classes.

No. of convicts and their disposal.

Omitting under-trial and civil prisoners, the following figures show the number in the jails and how they were disposed of during the year:—

Remained at the end of 1887	993
Received from other jails	311
Imprisoned during the year	2,071
Total ...	3,375

These were disposed of as under :—

Classification of convicts.

35. The daily average strength of the convict population also rose from 890·7 to 972·81. Of the 2,071 convicts admitted during the year, 1,937 were males and 134 females, 318 were Mahomedans, 1,747 Hindus and Sikhs, and 6 Buddhists and Jains. Twenty-two convicts were under 16 years, 1,797 between the ages of 16 and 40, 239 between the ages of 40 and 60, and 13 above the age of 60. Of the females, 91 were married, 4 unmarried, 37 were widows, and 2 were prostitutes.

Previous occupation of convicts.

36. The following table shows the occupations followed by the prisoners previous to their admission :—

	1887.	1888.
Persons employed under Government or municipal or other local authorities	63	72
Professional persons	24	3
Persons in service or performing personal offices ...	58	138
Persons engaged in agriculture and with animals ...	277	669
Persons engaged in trade or commerce	59	186
Persons employed in mechanical arts, manufactures, and engineering operations, &c.	13	109
Miscellaneous persons not otherwise classed ...	1,069	760

Nature and length of sentence.

37. Of the 2,071 convicts admitted, 152 were sentenced to simple imprisonment, 1,611 to rigorous imprisonment, 258 to rigorous imprisonment with solitary confinement, and 50 to rigorous imprisonment with whipping. The following figures show the terms of imprisonment to which the convicts were sentenced :—

	1887.	1888.
Not exceeding one year	1,506	1,777
Above 1 year and not exceeding 5 years ...	146	217
Above 5 years and not exceeding 10 years ...	25	43
Exceeding 10 years	...	...
Sentenced to transportation	9	21
Do. to death	4	13
Total ...	1,690	2,071

Previous convictions.

38. The number of convicts admitted into jail who had been previously convicted was 262 against 283 in 1887. Of this number, 155 had been convicted once before, 60 twice, and 47 more than twice. Of 15 juvenile prisoners admitted during the year, 1 had been previously convicted.

Escapes and recaptures.

39. Of three prisoners who escaped during the year, two were re-captured. In every case the escapes were due to failure to comply with orders on the part of jail officials. Including the one prisoner who escaped during the year and was not re-captured, there are now 9 escaped prisoners at large.

Offences and punishments.

40. Offences against jail discipline fell from 567 in 1887 to 315 in the year under report. Three of the offences were dealt with by the magistracy, against the same number in the previous year. Corporal punishments fell from 20 to 9.

Jail schools.

41. Instruction is imparted to convicts whose sentences exceed two years. The daily average number under instruction was 93·03 as compared with 85·14 in 1887. Of 86 prisoners released during the year from the two central jails, 13 could not read and write at all, 43 could do so a little, and 30 could read and write well. Of the above, 77 on admission were entirely uneducated, 8 could only read and write a little, and 1 only could read and write well.

Convict officers.

42. Out of a total of 120 prisoners employed as convict officers, 114 were males and 6 females, as compared with 120 and 6 respectively in 1887. Twenty-six officers, of whom 1 was a female, were reduced or otherwise punished, against 21 male officers reduced in 1887.

Mark system.

43. The mark system continued to work well. No convict who came under its operation failed to gain some remission. The maximum remission gained by a convict released during the year was 257 days.

Occupation of convicts.

44. The average number of convicts at labour on working days rose from 765·59 in 1887 to 836·35 in the year under report. The figures given below furnish details as to their employment, &c.:—

	1887.	1888.
On unremunerative labour	2·03	1·59
„ prison duties	328·24	328·43
„ jail buildings	37·98	48·08
„ manufactures	367·97	429·43
„ public works	Nil.	Nil.
Hired out to municipalities, &c. ...	Nil.	Nil.
Sick	13·85	15·80

Manufactures.

45. There was no change in the forms of labour, which were chiefly stone-breaking, lithographing, printing for public departments, and weaving material for police clothing. An attempt is being made to introduce shoe-making for the Police, but this industry is yet in an experimental stage. The following statement shows the net cash earnings of convicts sentenced to labour in all jails for the past three years:—

	1886.	1887.	1888.
Total cash earnings ...	11,395 6 0	12,340 6 0	14,721 10 0
Average earnings per head sentenced to labour ...	11 1 0	14 2 0	15 15 0
Average earnings per head employed on manufactures ...	28 11 0	33 8 0	34 4 0

The best results were obtained in the Amraoti jail, in which the earnings per head sentenced to labour rose from Rs. 18-14-0 in 1887 to Rs. 22-10-0, and per head employed on manufactures from Rs. 42-14-0 to Rs. 50-14-0.

Health.

46. There has been rather more sickness, but less mortality, than in the previous year. The following is an abstract of the health figures for the past two years:—

	Ratio per mille.
	1887.	1888.
Admissions into hospital	719·9	764·1
Daily average number sick	15·1	15·7
Deaths in and out of hospital	26·7	12·7

The decrease in mortality was due to the absence of cholera.

Effects of jail life on weight.

47. Of those discharged during the year, 331 went out as heavy as they came in, 359 lost weight, while 1,581 gained weight.

Expenditure.

48. With an increase in the daily average strength, the total cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners rose from Rs. 64,505 to Rs. 65,514, but the total average cost per head fell from Rs. 68-14-5 to Rs. 64-6-8.

SECTION V.

Civil Justice.

Tribunals.

49. The number of Civil Courts open at the end of the year as compared with the previous year is shown below:—

	1888.	1887.

Number of suits instituted.

50. The total number of suits instituted during the year under report was 26,974 against 24,491 in 1887, showing an increase of 2,483. The following table shows the fluctuations in the different classes of civil courts during the last two years:—

Class of courts.	1888.	1887.
Chief Courts of districts	80	27
District Courts	11,101	7,260
Sub-divisional Courts	7,261	10,298
Small Cause Courts	8,532	6,906
Total ...	26,974	24,491

Classification of suits.

51. The following table gives the substance of the classification of suits instituted during the year under report:—

Description of suits.	1888.	1887.
Contracts in writing	15,414	3,917
Do. not in writing ...	3,068	2,767
On account stated	3,957	3,670
Money had and received ...	92	114
Goods sold	399	465
Wages, work, and material ...	166	213
Rent not falling under rent law	294	273
Moveable property	538	483
Damages	267	181
Other suits for money or moveables not already mentioned ...	228	192
Suits relating to marriage ...	67	70
Immoveable property ...	1,377	1,219
Other suits	1,107	927
Total ...	26,974	24,491

There was an increase in the number of suits instituted on contracts in writing, contracts not in writing, on account stated, for rent of houses and property, for moveable property, for damages, and for immoveable property, and a decrease in the number of suits for money had and received, goods sold, wages, work and material, and of those relating to marriage.

Value and cost of suits.

52. The total value of the claims in the suits instituted during the year 1888 was Rs. 29,82,648-6-9 against Rs. 30,05,346-14-10 in 1887, showing a decrease of Rs. 22,698-8-1.

There was a corresponding decline in the average value per suit from Rs. 118-0-10 to Rs. 109-4-7. The average cost per suit decreased from Rs. 15-6-2 to Rs. 15-2-4.

The following figures give the value of the claims in the suits disposed of during the year :—

Disposal of suits.

53. The total number of suits for disposal including 1,919 pending from 1887, 500 re-admitted cases, and 1,298 received by transfer, was 30,691. Of these, 27,767, or 90·4 per cent., were disposed of during the year.

The general results of the trial of suits disposed of are shown below :—

	No. of suits.	Proportion per cent.	Corresponding proportion in 1887.
Disposed of without trial ...	2,179	7·9	9·1
Compromised	3,585	12·9	12·7

Work done by each class of court.

54. The following statement shows the distribution of work among the different grades of officers :—

No. of officers.		Grade of officers.	Original cases decided.
			Number.		Percentage.
1887.	1888.		1888.	1887.	1888.	1887.

			19,135	26,018	100	100

Seventy-one per cent., or nearly three-fourths, of the entire civil work of the province was done by Extra Assistant Commissioners, and 13 per cent. by the Attachés. This result is satisfactory as showing that Tahsildars were to a great extent relieved and given more time for their executive duties.

Average duration.

55. The average duration of contested cases decreased from 74·6 to 59·2 days, and of uncontested cases from 36·5 to 31·7 days.

Witnesses.

56. Forty-three thousand two hundred and sixty-five witnesses attended the civil courts. Of these, 40,066 were detained for one day, 2,283 for two days, and the remaining 916 for three days and upwards.

Execution of decrees.

57. The total number of applications for execution of decrees was 31,429.

In 4,460 cases satisfaction was obtained in full.
„ 4,453 do. do. in part.
„ 15,601 cases the applications were wholly infructuous.
1,617 applications were transferred.
5,288 applications were pending at the close of the year.

The total amount realized was Rs. 2,98,879-14-10, as compared with Rs. 2,36,979-12-7 in the previous year.

The details of realization are as given below :—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Paid in voluntarily	16,980	1	9
With the issue of process	2,81,899	13	1

Moveable property was attached in 2,495 cases, but sale was actually resorted to in 1,592 cases only. Immoveable property was attached in 2,602 cases, but in 1,536 only was sale carried out. Two hundred and thirty-six persons were imprisoned in execution of decrees, against 217 in 1887.

Insolvency.

58. There were 44 applications under chapter XX of the Civil Procedure Code for declaration of insolvency, against 52 in the previous year, and of these 7 only were granted. In 2 cases only was a receiver appointed. Twenty-one persons were declared insolvent and discharged, and one was sentenced to imprisonment under section 359 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Processes.

59. The total receipts on account of court and process fees during the year amounted to Rs. 3,70,839-11-0, against Rs. 3,42,991-10-0 in 1887, and the expenditure to Rs. 59,258-8-1, against Rs. 58,576-8-11.

Appellate business.

60. Including appeals pending at the commencement of the year, there were 266 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners. Of these, 249 were disposed of, and a balance of 17 remained for disposal at the close of the year. Of the decisions of the lower courts—

81 were confirmed under section 551 of the Civil Procedure Code,
7 were dismissed for default,
71 were upheld,
25 were modified,
47 were reversed, and
18 were remanded under section 562 of the Code.

There were 25 miscellaneous appeals during the year, of which 22 were disposed of.

Appeals to Judicial Commissioner.

61. In the Judicial Commissioner's court there were 734 appeals for disposal, of which 644 were from original decrees and 90 from orders passed in appeal by Deputy Commissioners. Of these, 151 appeals were disposed of with the following results:—

Rejected	65
Dismissed for default	5
Confirmed	27
Modified	15
Remanded	9

The average duration of appeals was in the Deputy Commissioner's courts 46·8 days, and in the Judicial Commissioner's court 296·6.

Appeals to the Resident.

62. There were 21 appeals before the Resident during the year, including 8 pending from 1887, and 23 applications under section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code. The appeals and applications were disposed of as follows:—

SECTION VI.

Registration.

No. of offices.

63. The number of offices opened for registration business, including those of the Inspector General and Inspector, was the same as in the previous year, viz., 62. An Honorary Magistrate and a Tahsildar in the Basim District were relieved of their duties as Sub-registrars, and special officers were appointed in their room. The proportion of registration offices to area and population of the province was 1 Sub-registrar's office to every 295 square miles and to every 44,544 of the population.

Registration work.

64. The aggregate number of registrations during the year rose to 28,151, being 1,861 higher than in 1887-88, and the highest figure yet recorded. The following table shows the registrations effected during the past four years:—

Year.	Compulsory.	Optional.		Wills, &c.	Total.
		Immoveable.	Moveable.
1885-86	17,717	6,698	2,156	61	26,632
1886-87	17,017	6,008	1,995	68	25,088
1887-88	18,089	6,152	1,962	87	26,290
1888-89	19,679	6,411	1,988	73	28,151

The aggregate value of property transferred rose from Rs. 62,74,587 to Rs. 66,06,301. Although the number of registrations affecting moveable property increased, the value of the property registered fell from Rs. 4,55,218 to Rs. 2,70,426. The general results for the past two years were as follow :—

	1887-88.		1888-89.
	No.	Value.	No.	Value.
		Rs.		Rs.
Documents affecting immoveable property ...	24,241	58,19,369	26,090	63,35,875

Total ...	26,203	62,74,587	28,078	66,06,301

Refusals to register fell from 238 to 226.

65. The total receipts for the year were Rs. 61,853 against Rs. 59,185 in 1887-88, and the expenditure Rs. 38,628 as compared with Rs. 37,222. The net surplus was Rs. 23,224, or Rs. 1,262 more than that of the previous year. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 2,48,727. In no instance did a Sub-registrar's office work at a loss. Financial results.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

66. As the Berar Municipal Law of 1886 did not come into operation until after the year had closed, the municipalities were worked under Act IV of 1873 as heretofore. Number and constitution.

There was no change in the number and constitution of the municipal committees as is shown by the following figures :—

Municipalities	7
Ex-officio members	24
Nominated	71
Elected	8
Total number of members ...	103

There were 43 official members, and 60 non-official; 30 were Europeans and 73 natives of India. Khamgaon, as in the previous year, was the only municipality which had any elected members serving on its Committee.

67. The total income from all sources exclusive of previous balances was Rs. 1,55,905 as compared with Rs. 1,54,925 in the previous year, and the total expenditure Rs. 1,59,991, against Rs. 1,42,266. Income and expenditure.

The following statement shows the manner in which the income of each municipality has been utilized during the two past years, and the balances remaining at the close of each year :—

SECTION VIII.

Military.

68 During the year 1888 the following changes in the conditions of service in the Hyderabad Contingent were introduced under a notification of the Government of India :—

(1) An increase of two British Officers in each of the regiments of cavalry and infantry.

(2) The linking of the regiments and batteries for active service.

(3) The formation of "Reserves."

The average strength of the Hyderabad Contingent force in Berar during the year was as follows :—

	Artillery.	Cavalry.	Infantry.

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

69. Further corrections made by the Survey and Settlement Officer during the year show that the total area of the province is more by 1,056 acres than that given in the report for 1887-88. The increase is almost wholly in the Wun district. The total area of the province, exclusive of the Melghat, now stands at 10,282,395 acres and includes 6,677 villages. The following figures show the distribution of this area for the past two years :—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Difference.
1. Area not included in any survey number, such as village sites, tanks, rivers, &c. ...	200,876	200,990	+114
2. Area demarcated as state forests ...	279,519	287,475	+7,956
3. Do. babul buns ...	15,671	15,655	—16
4. Do. rumnahs	36,361	34,964	—1,397
5. Other district reserved forests ...	193,858	187,491	—6,367
6. Fields assigned for free grazing ...	715,980	716,102	+122
7. Do. for village purposes ...	59,289	59,497	+208
8. Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing	800,278	763,425	—36,853
9. Balance assessed and available for occupation.	7,979,507	8,016,796	+37,289
10. Occupied	7,594,572	7,590,182	—4,390
11. Not occupied	384,935	426,614	+41,619

No territorial changes occurred during the year. The number of villages remained the same, and the classification figures differ but slightly from those of the previous year. Khalsa villages and villages leased under the the waste land rules show an increase of 4 and 2 respectively, and the number of integral waste and jagir villages a corresponding decrease.

Cultivated area.

70. The total area assessed and available for occupation rose from 7,979,507 acres in 1887-88 to 8,016,796 in the year under report, and the area actually occupied fell from 7,594,572 to 7,590,182, while the unoccupied area showed an increase of 41,679 acres. The area under crops rose from 6,436,628 to 6,469,504. This increase took place in three districts only (Wun, Basim, and Akola), the remaining three districts showing a falling-off. The area under rabi and miscellaneous crops decreased by 141,436 and 2,554 acres respectively. This decrease may be attributed to the fact that large areas intended for kharif in the previous year were, owing to excessive rains, re-sown with rabi; and was more than compensated for by an increase of 176,866 acres in the area under kharif.

Crops cultivated.

71. The following table gives the acreage under each of the principal kinds of crops for the past two years :—

	1887-88.		1888-89.
	Acres.	Proportion.	Acres.	Proportion.
Jowari—great millet or Holcus sorghum ...	2,064,077	31·8	2,218,260	33·9

Total ...	6,068,428	...	6,156,467	...

There was an increase of 2·1 per cent. in the area under jowari cultivation and of 1·1 in that under cotton as compared with the previous year. The increase under jowari, which is most noticeable in the Basim district, is attributed to the stimulus caused by high prices and the depletion of stocks consequent on the failure of the previous year's jowari crop.

Irrigated area.

72. The total area under irrigation fell from 67,166 to 62,710 acres, the area under rice from 22,434 to 19,840, and that under other irrigated crops from 44,732 to 42,870. The area under rice is steadily decreasing, and the same may be said as regards the other irrigated crops, of which there was considerably less than in any of the four previous years with the exception of 1886-87.

SECTION I.

Weather and Crops.

Rainfall.

73. The rainfall of the year, though considerably below the average of the previous eight years, was on the whole favourable to agricultural operations, and particularly so to the kharif crops. The rain in July, when the seed is sown, was not excessive, and the scanty fall in October facilitated the autumn harvest. The tracts which suffered more than others from the scantiness of the fall were the Buldana district and the Melghat. In Akola some distress was occasioned by scarcity of water during the cold season. The general average for the province was 30 inches—22 inches less than that of the previous year, which was exceptionally high. The average for the districts ranged from 33·38 and 33·43 inches in Wun and Basim to 24·69 in Buldana.

Effect of the rainfall.

74. The season was most favourable to cotton, which yielded an exceptionally abundant crop. The scanty rainfall after September was prejudicial to wheat, but linseed, which requires less moisture, gave good results.

Prices of produce and labour.

75. The variations in the price of wheat, gram, and rice were slight and call for no remark. The price of jowari rose from 20 to 19 seers per rupee. Wages of labour were the same as in the previous year, except in Buldana, where skilled labour fell from 12 to 10 annas per diem owing to the dearness of provisions.

Experimental farms.

76. The experimental farm at Amraoti was closed during the year, as there was no officer with adequate knowledge available for its superintendence. A proposal was made to utilize some of the land for experiments in cotton cultivation, but the scheme fell through owing to want of funds.

77. The subjoined table shows the agricultural stock of the province with the corresponding figures for the previous year, but the figures can only be taken as approximate:— Agricultural stock.

	1887-88.	1888-89.
Cows and bullocks	1,610,224	1,694,134
Buffaloes	314,993	324,307
Sheep and goats	481,267	459,083
Carts	136,030	111,294

There was no cattle-disease and consequently no special mortality. The figures show an increase under "Cows and Bullocks" and "Buffaloes," which is ascribed to natural production.

78. The Berar students at the Bombay Veterinary College are reported to have done well. One passed his final examination, obtained the diploma of the college, and will soon be available for employment in the province. The province is shown by the reports of the district officers to have enjoyed comparative immunity from the more fatal forms of cattle-disease; but it is suspected that the village officials have falsified their returns. A scheme is now under preparation by the Commissioner for obtaining and registering statistics of sickness among cattle whereby more accurate returns will be secured. Veterinary.

79. Horse-breeding operations made steady progress during the year, Government stallions having served 178 mares—an increase of 51 on the previous year. Mule-breeding failed utterly, and the two donkey stallions lent for the purpose were returned to the department for horse-breeding operations. Horse-breeding.

80. A horse and cattle show was held at Amraoti, and was fairly successful. Horse and cattle show.

81. Advances under the Land Improvement Act were made in four districts only. The total amount advanced was Rs. 8,300, against Rs. 4,450 in the previous year. Land Improvement Act.

SECTION III.

Horticulture.

82. There were altogether 23 nurseries and public gardens, the expenditure on which was borne by local funds, excepting in one instance where it was debited to arboricultural operations. The number of seedlings supplied fell from 6,562 in 1887-88 to 4,926 in the year under report. The number of seedlings issued gratis to the public was 1,020. The cost of nursery maintenance fell from Rs. 1,981 to Rs. 1,376.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

83. The sanctioned strength of the superior staff during the year was— Staff.

1 Conservator.
3 Deputy or Assistant Conservators.
5 Sub-Assistant Conservators, including one employed as a Tahsildar in the Melghat in addition to his forest duties.

For the reasons stated in paragraph 84 of the last administration report, the actual strength at the end of the year was—

1 Conservator.
2 Deputy and Assistant Conservators.
4 Sub-Assistant Conservators.

Forest area.

84. There was a net increase of 35 square miles in the area of forest lands in Berar. This area was distributed as follows :—

	Square Miles.
Demarcated State forests	1,059
District reserves	478
District unreserved forests	2,614
Total ...	4,151

Boundaries.

85. The boundaries of the reserves throughout the province were kept in order. In Amraoti the heavy work of repairing the boundary marks of district reserves was continued,—12,419 such marks being taken in hand at a cost of Rs. 1,400,—and the demarcation of the Mehdari reserve was completed.

Prosecutions.

86. Prosecutions for offences against the forest rules rose from 387 to 496. Including five cases pending from the previous year, 495 cases were disposed of, involving 769 persons, of whom 417 were convicted, 78 acquitted, and 6 cases remained undisposed of at the close of the year. The percentage of convictions rose from 82 to 84.

Fire conservancy.

87. The results of fire protection were more satisfactory than in the previous year. The total area over which protection was attempted rose from 668,371 to 680,271 acres, and the areas successfully protected from 639,453 to 667,967, while the area over which protection failed fell from 28,918 to 12,304. The approximate cost of fire protection per square mile rose from Rs. 5-5-0 to Rs. 6-8-0.

Forest law.

88. The new Berar Forest Law had not come into force when the year closed. A proposal to exclude all the unreserved forests and an important part of the district reserved forests (the grazing reserves) from the operation of the new law and to place them under a special revenue regulation has been under consideration together with various rules framed in connection with it, and this has tended to delay the introduction of the new law.

Working plans.

89. The particulars given and the results shown in last year's administration report in connection with the working of the Raipur-Makhla working plan were inaccurate owing to the Conservator being furnished with incorrect data. Although improvement fellings on an irregular and unimportant scale, including the felling of first class trees, had been carried on in the Raipur-Makhla blocks, the sanctioned working plan was practically not introduced until the 1st April 1888. The exploitations carried out under the provisions of this plan in the selected area ($3\frac{1}{2}$ square miles) show that, out of 628 first class trees felled, two only were sound, the remainder being of great age, hollow, with their bases much injured by fire, and very stunted in growth. No really good timber was obtained, and the total revenue realized on these 628 first class teak trees was Rs. 3,206, or an average Rs. 5 per tree. Improvement fellings were also carried out over the same area: 2,450 teak and 1,050 trees of other species were felled, realizing Rs. 2,317. Of the 3,500 trees felled, 648 proved unsaleable.

Grazing.

90. The system of grazing with passes was continued during the year and, although the duties and responsibilities of the forest establishment were increased by the measure, it continued to work in the interests of the people in addition to maintaining its ground financially. The revenue realized on cattle grazed in the district reserved and unreserved forests rose from Rs. 1,52,986 to Rs. 1,61,660. Light grazing was, as in the previous year, permitted under certain conditions in the demarcated state forests of Akola, Basim, Buldana and Wun, and realized a revenue of Rs. 9,534 compared with Rs. 6,377 in the previous year, but it was eventually found necessary, owing to the injury done, to put a stop to all grazing within the demarcated state forests, except in those cases where undoubted hardship would ensue to the surrounding populations.

Natural reproduction.

91. Natural reproduction is very unfavourably reported on. The seedlings which germinate during the rainy season die off during the hot months from the effects of the sun and drought.

Artificial reproduction.

92. The 50 acres of experimental plantation in the Pathrot reserve (Wun) commenced in 1886-87 were abandoned as a failure. The rats devastated it, and its protection and watering involved an outlay disproportionate to the results obtained. The total outlay on these 50 acres was Rs. 2,571. No further area was taken up for experimental plantation.

Cultural operations.

93. The area under cultural operations was 11,418 acres against 10,632 in 1887-88. During the year 1,139 acres were added to and 353 excluded from this area. Broadcast sowing was continued in all the districts, but the results were poor.

Communications.

94. The road-work is all confined to the Melghat hills of Ellichpur, as elsewhere the forests are generally accessible by means of old cart tracks, and roads are at present unnecessary. During the year 24 miles of road were completed in the Melghat by departmental agency at a cost Rs. 10,448, while Rs. 1,261 were expended on the repair of 191 miles of existing communications. The Makla-Biba road was finished, and 4 miles of the Raipur-Jarida road executed, making the total mileage of forest roads in the province 161. The total expenditure of the year was Rs. 12,844, against Rs. 19,184 in the previous year.

Yield and working

95. With the exception of 380 cubic feet of teak removed for departmental purposes of construction, no produce was extracted by Government agency. In Berar all the produce intended for the market is removed by the purchasers themselves. The following figures show the revenue obtained under each class of forest produce for the past two years:—

	1887-88. Rs.	1888-89. Rs.
Firewood and charcoal	43,591	37,381

Total ...	4,06,247	4,08,192

Financial results.

96. A summary of the financial results for the past two years is given in the subjoined table. The difference between some of the figures for 1887-88 as now shown and as given in paragraph 97 of last year's administration report is, it is explained, due to the fact that the previous statements of this kind had been wrongly prepared.

SECTION V.

Mines and quarries.

97. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

98. The only real manufactory in the province is the steam mill at Badnera, where yarn and cotton cloth are manufactured. It produced 1,774,207 lbs. of twist and yarn, against 1,633,500 in the preceding year. The number of persons employed in this manufactory was 742, or 92 more than in the previous year. The proprietors also started a weaving mill at Badnera about the middle of December 1888, which up to the close of the year produced 142,973 lbs. of cloth, valued at Rs. 67,018. The number of employés in this mill was 244. The steam cotton presses are by far the most important industries in the province; and of these there were 23 at work during the year, that is, one less than in 1887-88. The number of bales pressed rose from 226,498 to 381,324. An oil press is worked in conjunction with one of the cotton presses at Amraoti. It turned out 483 tons of oil and 1,053 of oil-cake, against 300 and 658 respectively in the previous year. In addition to the steam presses there were 19 ginning factories at work, of which number 10 were working in the Amraoti district alone.

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Registration.

99. The statistics relating to trade refer solely to rail-borne traffic. They are, as stated in last year's report, furnished by the railway audit office, which is paid Rs. 720 annually as the cost of registration.

Total trade.

100. The following statement shows the import and export trade of the province for the past two years:—

Fairs.

102. Three fairs had to be stopped during the year owing to the prevalence of cholera and scarcity of water. The internal traffic consequently suffered to a certain extent, although the attendance at some of the fairs was larger and the trade brisker than in the preceding year.

SECTION VIII.

Public works.

Total expenditure.

103. The total expenditure on public works in the Hyderabad Administration during the year under review amounted to Rs. 18,72,536 as detailed below, viz. :—

	Rs.
Imperial Military Works	2,77,838

IMPERIAL—MILITARY.

Imperial military outlay.

104. The budget grant for the year was Rs. 3,00,000, which amount was subsequently reduced by withdrawals to meet charges for stores in England to Rs. 2,77,000, and the expenditure thereon in India amounted to Rs. 2,77,838.

The following table shows the final grants compared with the expenditure of the year:—

Heads.	Final Grants.	Expenditure.
	Rs.	Rs.
Original works	1,67,000	1,58,822
Repairs	71,700	70,492

Staff and miscellaneous	2,917	6,345
General Cantonment works ...	337	16,184
Fortifications	...	755
Total ...	1,58,822	70,492

Works in progress or completed.

106. Four half-troop barracks and two troop cook-rooms for the British Cavalry at Trimulgherry were in progress during the year, and an expenditure of Rs. 97,964 was incurred against a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 2,06,343. Quarters for two Field Officers, a range of Subalterns' quarters, and stables for two troops of British Cavalry were also completed at a total cost of Rs. 89,737 against an estimate of Rs. 85,160. Minor works over Rs. 500 each were also carried out at an aggregate cost of Rs. 11,599, while the expenditure incurred on minor works under Rs. 500 each undertaken during the year amounted to Rs. 9,646 out of a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 10,878.

Repairs.

107. The military buildings in the cantonments of Trimulgherry and Secunderabad were maintained in an efficient state of repair, as were also the defences and draw-bridges of the entrenched post at Trimulgherry.

Residency defences.

108. Orders as regards the project for the defence of the Hyderabad Residency were received from the Government of India during the year, and it is being revised accordingly. No funds were provided for putting the work in hand during the official year.

IMPERIAL—CIVIL WORKS.

109. The following table shows the final grants compared with the expenditure of the year :—

Suspense	...		11,913
Grand total ...	11,02,000		10,83,177

The grant of Rs. 11,02,000 was made up as follows:—

	Rs.
(a) From Provincial Revenues	10,00,000
(b) From the Jaglia Cess	1,02,000
Total ...	11,02,000

The grand total of expenditure from the Provincial and Jaglia Cess allotments was Rs. 10,83,177, being Rs. 18,823 short of the total grant. There was an unappropriated balance of Rs. 13,843 belonging to the Jaglia Cess, which if deducted from the saving of Rs. 18,823, makes the net lapse on the grant from Provincial Revenues (Rs. 10,00,000) Rs. 4,980. The "Jaglia Cess" is a difficult one to utilize, as it is only spent on projects receiving contributions from other funds as well; and if the funds concerned are unable to contribute, the Jaglia Cess money remains unappropriated.

The following figures give the expenditure and budget allotments for provincial funds only for the past three years:—

	Allotment. Rs.	Expenditure. Rs.	Lapse or excess. Rs.
1886-87	10,00,000	9,84,565	—15,435
1887-88	12,00,000	12,09,842	+ 9,842
1888-89	10,00,000	9,95,020	— 4,980

The distribution of lapses on works and repairs according to budget sub-heads is as follows:—

Constructing offices for the Assistant Adjutant General, Hyderabad Contingent, and the Superintendent of Police and Bazaars at Bolarum	12,921

NOTE.—Rs. 7,107 of the expenditure are debitable to Cantonment Funds on account of the Police office.

Several works of less importance were also completed at a cost of Rs. 5,163.

The principal works in progress were quarters for hospital assistants and servants at Aurangabad and the re-roofing of the guard-room for the cavalry at Ellichpur. On these Rs. 11,059 and Rs. 389 respectively were expended out of estimates of Rs. 22,712 and Rs. 633. In addition to this, materials to the value of Rs. 17,366 were supplied by the Department for the construction of the lines for the native infantry regiment at Raichur, the labour being furnished by the regiment itself. The charge for the materials supplied is debitable to the Military Department and not against the provincial grant of Rs. 10,00,000.

III.—Civil Buildings.

Administrative buildings.

112. The works under this head which were completed were not so important as those finished in 1887-88, and details are accordingly omitted. The total cost was Rs. 10,174 against an estimate of Rs. 10,744. Several works estimated at Rs. 17,974 were also in progress, and a sum of Rs. 13,618 was expended on them.

Jail buildings.

113. The actual expenditure on jail buildings completed was Rs. 4,179, while a sum of Rs. 10,913 was spent on those in course of construction.

Police buildings.

114. Out of the sanctioned estimate of Rs. 8,45,440 for the complete system of police buildings, a sum of Rs. 7,26,306 was spent up to the 31st March 1889, leaving a balance of Rs. 1,19,134 to complete the schemes. Works under this head were carried out at Hiwarkhed, Boregaon, Loni Burroor, Ellichpur, Amraoti and Manora, at a total cost of Rs. 13,087. At other police outposts and stations, works, on which an aggregate sum of Rs. 16,316 was spent, were in progress.

Educational buildings.

115. The expenditure under this head reached Rs. 30,488 out of a total estimate of Rs. 62,052. The principal work completed was the middle class school at Ellichpur, and the chief works in progress were the Anglo-vernacular schools at Mehkar and Amraoti. An allotment of Rs. 4,764 out of the budget provision of Rs. 5,000 was made, in addition, on account of the grant-in-aid schools in the province.

Medical buildings.

116. A new latrine for the civil hospital at Yeotmal was completed at a cost of Rs. 283, while Rs. 490 were expended on a dead-house at Talegaon Dussasoor, which is now near completion.

Ecclesiastical buildings.

117. The enlargement of the English church at Amraoti, estimated at Rs. 4,345, was carried out at the full estimate, and a cemetery in the Raichur Cantonment constructed at a cost of Rs. 2,159, exceeding the estimate by Rs. 152.

Miscellaneous.

118. The sanctioned estimates for works under this head amounted to Rs. 4,929, of which a sum of Rs. 4,531 was spent. The principal works completed were the stables for the Government stallions at Akola and Amraoti. A stable and compound for the stallion at Mekhar was in progress. Sums aggregating Rs. 1,428 were spent up to the end of the year on the preservation of a mosque at Rohinkhed and certain temples at Wun and Yeotmal.

Communications.

119. Under this head the principal works completed and in progress were :—

The Gugamal forest road, 36¾ miles long, and estimated to cost Rs. 4,38,125, was in progress. The expenditure on this up to the end of 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 2,51,305, while the amount expended during the year was Rs. 56,094. A sum of Rs. 5,708 was also expended in the construction of bridges on this line.

The road from Barur to the Wardha river, in continuation of the Morsi-Barur line to the boundary of the Central Provinces. This road, which is 14½ miles long, was in progress. The amount expended on it up to the close of the year was Rs. 27,770 out of an estimate of Rs. 1,26,511 ; the sum laid out on it during the year was Rs. 10,518.

The bridge across the Golababa Nulla was completed at a cost of Rs. 7,572, exceeding the estimate by Rs. 1,404.

The lattice girder bridge across the Purna river at Assegaon on the Amraoti-Ellichpur road. Omitting excluded local funds items 8 and 18, the surplus of the year under review was Rs. 14,24,940, as compared with Rs. 17,36,502 of the previous year.

The year under review is the tenth in which the system has been in force of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for civil, public works, and railway expenditure; the proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent., and thereafter up to 1886-87, 52 per cent. This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent., for the period of five years commencing from the year 1887-88; but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India, on the representation of the Resident, increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent., with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92—vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1889 was Rs. 6,66,425 as shown below:—

16. Balance at credit of the Resident on the 31st March 1889		...	6,66,425

Land revenue.

129. The revenue under this head brought to account in 1888-89 shows a decrease of Rs. 20,051, as compared with the actuals of 1887-88 as shown below, and an increase over the estimate by Rs. 1,92,927:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	67,12,565	66,91,790	...	20,775

Miscellaneous	14,413	14,865	452	...
Total ...	67,26,978	67,06,927	724	20,775

The decrease was chiefly in the Buldana District, and was due to a portion of the second instalment of the demand for 1887-88, which was due in the year 1888-89, having been realized in March 1888 and credited in the account of 1887-88.

Opium.

130. This item represents duty levied by the Malwa Opium Agent on opium imported into Berar. The receipts of the year 1888-89 brought to account under this head were Rs. 1,93,550, and show an increase of Rs. 9,100.

Stamps.

131. The receipts of 1888-89 brought to account under this head show an increase of Rs. 40,853 over those of the previous year, and of Rs. 61,501 over the estimate. They are compared with the figures of 1887-88 as follows :—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Registration.

135. The receipts of 1888-89 were Rs. 61,943, and show an increase of Rs. 2,713 over the actuals of the previous year, and of Rs. 6,943 over the estimate.

Interest.

136. The receipts under this head during the year 1888-89 were Rs. 3,174; they fell short by Rs. 713 as compared with the actuals of 1887-88 and by Rs. 827 as compared with the estimate, this head of account being fluctuating.

Law and justice Courts of law.

137. The receipts under this head during the year 1888-89 were Rs. 65,278. They exceeded the estimate by Rs. 8,278, and the actuals of 1887-88 by Rs. 2,895. The actuals of the two years were as under:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property	9,911	11,508	1,597	...

Miscellaneous	2,538	833	...	1,705
Total ...	62,383	65,278	6,158	3,263

Law and justice: Jails.

138. The receipts under this head during the year under review were Rs. 18,974, and show a decrease of Rs. 1,879 as compared with the actuals of 1887-88, and of Rs. 17,026 as compared with the estimate.

The large decrease in the actuals of 1888-89, as compared with the estimate, is apparently owing to the estimated cost of printed forms, which it was then expected would be supplied by the jail presses to other departments, having been included under this head, instead of under XXIII Stationery and Printing. The cost of forms supplied however was not adjusted to credit of Stationery and Printing by per contra debit to the department which obtained the supplies as in previous years, but was treated as a final charge against the head 30. Stationery and Printing under recent orders of the Comptroller General.

Police.

139. The receipts under this head were Rs. 15,118. and show an increase of Rs. 5,650 over the actuals of 1887-88, chiefly due to the contribution from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company on account of the cost of Berar Police employed on the Company's line in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for 1887, having been paid in the year 1888-89.

Education.

140. The receipts under this head were Rs. 44,894, and better than the estimate by Rs. 3,894, and the actuals of 1887-88 by Rs. 6,326. The following is a comparison of the actuals of 1888-89 with those of 1887-88:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	Increase.	Decrease.

Medical.

141. These receipts show a decrease of Rs. 287 as compared with the actuals of 1887-88, though the result is somewhat better than the estimate by Rs. 115.

Scientific and other minor departments.

142. The receipts under this head show an increase of Rs. 2,157 over the actuals of 1887-88 and of Rs. 1,865 over the estimate.

Receipts in aid of superannuations.

143. The amount credited to this head during the year 1888-89 was Rs. 7,877, which is slightly below the estimate and the actuals of the previous year.

Stationery and printing.

144. The receipts under this head were Rs. 10,049, and show an increase of Rs. 4,049 over the estmiate, and a decrease of Rs. 1,474 as compared with the actuals of 1887-88, The decrease is chiefly under the head "Other press receipts."

Miscellaneous.

145. The actuals of 1888-89 were Rs. 1,06,232, and fell below the estimate by Rs. 12,768 and the actuals of the previous year by Rs. 26,282. The decrease is chiefly under gain by exchange on supply bills issued by the Hyderabad Civil Treasury on the Bank of Bombay against funds in the bank at credit of the Hyderabad Administration.

State railways.

146. The revenue credited in the accounts of 1888-89 was Rs. 1,34,345, against Rs. 1,41,637 credited in 1887-88; the decrease is due wholly to the falling-off in goods traffic.

Civil works.

147. The receipts under this head during the year 1888-89 were Rs. 11,247, and were better than the actuals of the previous year by Rs. 149.

Military, H.C.

148. The receipts under this head during 1888-89 were Rs. 26,343, against Rs. 29,485, and show a decrease of Rs. 3,142, principally under value of Ordnance Stores returned to arsenals of the Madras and Bombay Presidencies.

Contributions from local to provincial.

149. This represents the contribution from the balance of the old jaglia cess, and amounted during 1888-89 to Rs. 91,313, showing an increase of Rs. 74,205 over the actuals of the previous year, while they fell below the estimate by Rs. 88,687. There still remained a balance of this fund on the 31st March 1889 of Rs. 1,31,615.

Contributions from provincial to local

150. These aggregated Rs. 81,327, of which Rs. 78,440 forms a grant for primary vernacular schools, and the remainder for local public works.

Disbursements.

The charges for 1888-89 aggregate Rs. 92,55,897, as against Rs. 87,38,374 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 5,17,523, as shown in the following statement :—

1. Army and Garrison Staff.—The increase of Rs. 2,986 under Army and Garrison Staff is chiefly due to the appointment of Station Staff Officers in the Hyderabad Contingent, from 1st September 1888, and to the increased expenditure, under tour charges, of the Brigadier-General and Assistant Adjutant General, Hyderabad Contingent.

3. Regimental Pay Allowances.—The increase of Rs. 82,192 under Regimental pay allowances is due to the addition of eight horses per battery, to the establishment of British Officers per regiment of cavalry and infantry having been increased, and to certain concessions in the matter of good conduct pay and half mounting allowance granted to troops of the Hyderabad Contingent, under clause 152-A, Circulars, India, September 1888.

4. Commissariat Establishment.—Increase of Rs. 48,85 4 under Commissariat Establishment occurs chiefly under compensation for dearness of provisions for natives and for horses and ponies, and is due partly to the rise in the average prices of provisions, and partly to certain regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent having returned to India from field service in Burma, during 1888-89, and which became entitled to compensation for dearness of provisions, whereas in 1887-88 these regiments while in Burma, were not drawing any compensation for dearness of provisions.

5. Stud and Remount Establishment.—Thirty-two additional horses sanctioned by Government, and also horses and bullocks to replace those cast, died, &c., having been purchased for batteries of the Hyderabad Contingent during the year under review, the expenditure under Stud and Remount Establishment is increased by Rs. 20,000.

6. Clothing Establishment.—The triennial issue of clothing to infantry regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent having been supplied during 1888-89 and charged in the accounts of that year, the expenditure under Clothing Establishment is increased by Rs. 65,401.

10. Ordnance Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 5,186 under Ordnance Establishment chiefly occurs under purchase of camp equipage and line gear, the cost being less during 1887-88 than during 1888-89. This is due to the extra wear of the articles during camp of exercise in 1888-89.

14. Miscellaneous.—The increase of Rs. 2,86,887 under Miscellaneous Services, is chiefly due to the charges in connection with the Burma expedition having been adjusted against the Berar Administration under Government of India, Financial Department letter No. 523-E., dated 7th March 1889, to the address of the Resident, Hyderabad, and also to the extra charges incurred for the camp of exercise held at Jalna during 1888-89, under special sanction of the Government of India.

17. Retired Officers.—The decrease of Rs. 21,009 under Retired Officers is due to the fact of the arrears of retired allowance of certain officers having been adjusted during 1887-88.

Withdrawal of surplus cash balance.

152. The surplus cash balance of the Berar treasuries for the season 1889 was originally estimated at Rs. 59,00,000. The actual surplus, however, exceeded the estimate by Rs. 6,00,000, and subsequently it was also found feasible to transfer a further sum of Rupees 5,00,000. The whole, aggregating Rs. 70,00,000, was paid into the branches of the Bombay Bank at Amraoti and Akola for transfer free of remittance charge to Bombay, to credit of the Hyderabad Administration, in accordance with the Bank's agreement, the management of the Government treasuries at Amraoti and Akola having been transferred to the branches of the Bank from October 1888.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths

System of registration.

156. There was no change in the system of registration of vital statistics.

Births.

157. The number of births registered in the province during the year was 108,390, or 2,243 more than in the previous year. Of these 55,813 were males and 52,577 females. The proportion of registered births to population was 41·3 per mille. In districts the birth-rate varied from 46·2 and 44·8 per mille in Buldana and Amraoti to 38·1 in Wun. In towns the mean birth-rate was 38·5, while in rural circles it was 41·6. The largest number of births was recorded in the third quarter of the year, or rainy season, and the smallest number in the second quarter, or hot weather months. The number of registrations was greatest in the months of August, September, and October, and smallest in April and May.

Still-births.

158. The number of still-births registered was 4,141, of which 2,323 were males and 1,818 females. The proportion of still-births to total live-births was 3·8 per cent

Deaths.

159. The year was a healthy one, and free from epidemic disease. The number of deaths registered from all causes was 64,865, or 53,932 less than in the previous year. The registered death-rate to population was 24·7 per 1,000, against 45·3 in 1887, and 38·5 for the previous five years. Of the total deaths recorded 34,182 were of males and 30,683 of females. The male deaths exceeded those of females in the proportion of 111 to 100. In districts the death-rate ranged from 29·1 per 1,000 of population in Buldana to 19·9 in Wun. The greatest mortality occurred in the last quarter of the year, and the smallest in the second, while September with a total of 7,269 deaths was the most unhealthy month, and June with 3,723 deaths the least so. The following figures show the annual rate of mortality per mille of population* according to age for the last two years :—

Ages.	1887.			1888.

* Including Ellichpur Cantonment population living at different ages.

The number of deaths of each class are shown below :—

	1887.	1888.
Christians	23	14
Muhammadans	7,479	4,440
Hindus	106,195	57,973
Other classes	5,100	2,438
Total ...	118,797	64,865

The death-rate in towns was 25·7, compared with 24·6 in rural circles.

The following statement shows the mortality for the two past years, under specified causes :—

Causes of death.	1887.		1888.
	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.	Deaths.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.
Cholera	14,396	5·5	305	·1

Injuries	1,029	·4	1,119	·4
Other causes	33,417	12·8	22,658	8·6

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

160. There has been no noticeable movement of population either from or into the province beyond the ordinary influx of labourers who seek work during the cold and hot weather months, and return to their homes in the rains. Of these 416 entered the Akola and 1,730 the Wun District, while 71 quitted the former and 848 the latter.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

No. of hospitals.

161. There were 43 dispensaries as in the previous year.

Medical staff.

162. The medical staff employed during the year was as follows :—

Surgeon Major		1
Surgeons		3
Apothecary class,..	Civil Surgeons	3
	Assistant to Civil Surgeon	1
Hospital Assistants	1st Class	24
	2nd Class	11
	3rd Class	16

Patients treated.

163. The total number of patients treated was 256,799, exceeding by 8,289 the figure for the preceding year. Considering that the year under report was a healthier one, this would indicate a steady advance in the popularity of the dispensaries. Of the total number treated 2,383 were in-door and 254,416 out-door patients. The average daily number of in-door patients was 78·007, and of out-door patients 1,856·7, against 75·08 and 1,847·07 respectively in the previous year. Of the out-patients 208,769 received medical aid in person, and 45,647 through friends. Of the in-patients 2,005 were cured, 91 relieved, 123 discharged, and 102 died. The average death-rate among in-door patients was 4·2 per cent. as compared with 5·8, in the previous year. Of the total number of in and out-patients 125,279 were men, 39,338 women, and 92,182 children, and the daily average attendance was 960 men, 307 women, and 667 children. Seven hundred and fourteen of the patients were Europeans, 1,827 Eurasians, 155,674 Hindus, 86,452 Muhammadans, and 12,132 of other classes.

Diseases treated.

164. Fever of a malarious type was the commonest form of disease. The chief diseases treated, in order of relative prevalence for the two past years, are given below:—

Name of disease.	1887.	1888.
Fevers	37,232	41,919
Diseases of the skin	28,334	33,467
Diseases of the eye	23,187	29,347
Ulcers	18,257	20,027
Worms	13,708	14,974
Dyspepsia	8,225	7,765
Diarrhœa	10,016	7,124
Diseases of the ear	6,851	7,059
Rheumatic affections	5,201	5,402
Diseases of the connective tissue ...	5,053	5,203
Diseases of the nervous system ...	4,646	4,984

Operations.

165. The number of major surgical operations fell from 335 to 218. The decrease is due to the introduction of a stricter classification of surgical work, as it was considered misleading that simple cases of fracture or dislocation and like operations involving no special surgical skill, should be classified as major operations. Of major operations 190 were successful, 6 persons were relieved, 8 were discharged, and 6 died, leaving 8 cases under treatment when the year closed.

Income and expenditure.

166. The cash balance in hand at the beginning of the year was Rs. 57,485-0-2, compared with Rs. 51,617-3-7 in 1887. The total receipts from all sources during the year amounted to Rs. 1,06,684-7-5, against Rs. 1,04,210-6-5, and the cash balance remaining at the close of the year was Rs. 54,971-14-7, compared with Rs. 54,328-9-1. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 1,01,499-0-11 to Rs. 1,09,197 9-5 in the year under report.

Inspection.

167. With few exceptions, accounted for by the circumstances of the charge, the inspection of dispensaries in all districts except Akola were made punctually. The Inspector General inspected 6 civil hospitals, 6 jail hospitals, and 32 charitable dispensaries.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

168. No sanitary works of any magnitude were undertaken or completed during the year; but attention was paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy more or less in all the municipalities. Out of a total income of Rs. 1,55,627, Rs. 89,198, or 57·3 per cent. was expended for sanitary purposes, and 22·8 on conservancy alone. The total district expenditure, excluding municipalities, on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,05,476 out of a total allotment of Rs. 1,06,246, compared with Rs. 1,03,389 in the previous year. The principal works executed by the Public Works Department and in progress during the year were :—

	Cost. Rs.
The camp water works, Amraoti	53,162
Repairing do. do. Wadali tank	6,020
Increasing storage capacity of the Kalapani tank, City water works	1,779
Increasing storage capacity of Wadali tank, and raising dam	8,643
Extending City water works	26,548
Supplying water to new Gowlipura, Amraoti	7,950
Drainage of Murtazapur town	16,399
Bhir dam, Chikalda	83,130
Improving the old tank at Ookli Sookli	1,721
Raising and extending the bund of Kootasa tank ...	12,343

There were also works of less importance.

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Strength and conduct of the staff.

169. The establishment remained at its sanctioned strength. Two vaccinators were dismissed during the year: one for falsification of returns, and the other for absenting himself without leave.

Work done.

170. The total number of operations performed was 105,602, as compared with 97,158 in the previous year. Of these 96,458 were performed by the special establishment, and 9,144 at dispensaries. Of the total number of persons operated upon by the special establishment, 50,262 were males, and 46,196 were females. The average number of persons vaccinated by each operator was 2,243, an increase of 93 per head over the figure of the previous year. Out of a total of 97,512 successful operations, 89,173 were performed by the special establishment, and 8,339 at dispensaries. The percentages of successful cases were 96·4 and 95·5 respectively, against 96·5 and 93·3 in 1887-88. The following figures show the results of re-vaccination for the past two years :—

	1887-88.	1888-89.
Total number of operations by all establishments ...	433	4,377
Total successful	234	1,697
Percentage of success	54·0	38·8

Cost.

171. The total expenditure incurred, exclusive of the Melghat, rose from Rs. 16,770-3-2 in 1887-88 to Rs. 16,811-15-6 in the year under report, and the average cost of each successful operation fell from 3·1 as. to 2-11 as.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

Education.

No. of schools and scholars.

172. The ground lost in the previous year was partially recovered in the year under report. The decrease of 21 in the number of unaided schools in 1887-88 was all but made good by an increase of 20 in 1888-89, while the number of pupils remained the same. The number of secondary schools remained the same, but the number of pupils in both high and middle schools increased slightly. Government primary schools for boys increased by 1 and the number of scholars by 322. The number of municipal schools for boys and girls remained the same, but the attendance at the former rose by 89, and at the latter by 4. There was an increase of 78 in the number of aided schools for boys and of 1,603 in the attendance; but there was a falling-off in the number of aided schools for girls as well as in the attendance. Government schools for girls, however, showed a satisfactory increase in atendance. The following table shows the number of schools and scholars on the 31st March 1889:—

Description of schools.				No. of schools.		No. of scholars.

* This includes 20 pupil-teachers who are being trained for masterships in the different districts.

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

173. Taking the number of schools and scholars according to districts, Akola still maintains the first and Amraoti the next place, while Wun continues last on the list. Ellichpur, excluding the Melghat taluk, still shows the smallest average number of square miles to every school and the largest percentage of scholars to the male population of school-going age. The average for the province was one school to every 16·2 square miles, and the percentage of male pupils to the male population of school-going age was 21·3, against 17·8 and 20·4 respectively in the previous year.

University education.

174. There were seven students holding Berar scholarships at colleges in the Bombay Presidency, against 6 in the previous year. One of these succeeded in passing the first B. A. examination. Two who failed were allowed to retain their scholarships as their failure was due to exceptional and unavoidable causes. Of students from Berar high schools who did not hold scholarships, one graduated in arts, one in medicine, and four passed the first B. A. examination.

Matriculation.

175. The results of the matriculation examination were again very satisfactory. The number of candidates from the two Berar High Schools who appeared for examination was 23, or 4 less than in the previous year, but the number that passed was the same, viz., 17, giving a percentage of 76 passes as compared with 26·2 for the Bombay Presidency and adjoining districts. Three students were awarded scholarships and one won the "Sinclair Prize" for the highest marks in Sanskrit. Seven of the successful candidates joined the Arts Colleges, and one the Grant Medical College.

Secondary schools.

176. As regards secondary schools, the statement below compares the results for the past two years:—

* Omitted as the information on these points has not been furnished in the report of the Director of Public Instruction.

Primary schools.

177. There was an increase of 1 in the number of schools for boys, 13 new Government schools having been opened and 12 closed during the year. The number of pupils at Government schools increased by 324. The number of municipal schools for boys remained unchanged, but the number of pupils attending them rose from 2,064 to 2,153. The following two tables furnish information regarding the state and cost of education in these schools for the past two years:—

There was not only a very large increase in fee receipts and in the total expenditure, but also a rise in both the total cost and cost to provincial revenues of educating each pupil. The proportion of the total expenditure on Government primary schools borne by provincial revenues rose from 43·7 to 45·3. The increased expenditure was caused by the strengthening of establishments and by a much larger outlay on repairs to school-buildings than in the previous year.

Aided schools.

178. Schools receiving fixed monthly advances from Government remained the same as in 1887-88, but the attendance fell from 225 to 190. The number of pupils who passed in the primary standards was 73. The aggregate monthly allowance granted to these schools was, as in the previous year, Rs. 92.

Indigenous schools.

179. The number of indigenous schools rose from 390 to 487, and the number of scholars from 4,635 to 5,759. The number inspected and examined during the year was 476, an increase of 116 over the figure of the previous year. The total value of grants of all kinds rose from Rs. 8,180 to Rs. 10,529. Unfortunately for the character of the schools, the increase in the number does not mean that so many new schools were added to the number existing at the close of the previous year; but that there were so many in excess of the number that collapsed during the year. The ephemeral condition of these schools is still very general, and little reliance can be placed on them; but their fluctuating tendencies are slowly but steadily diminishing, and, as educational agents, they are gradually becoming more reliable. The substantial increase under each head, however, gives just grounds for the belief that the village communities see more and more clearly every day the advantages which education offers and the wisdom of giving their children the use of them.

Training college.

180. At the close of the year there were 98 students undergoing training as pupil-teachers—some in the training college and some attached to vernacular schools—against 99 at the close of the previous year. Out of a total number of 87 students who were examined for entrance into the college, 54 passed—43 on the Marathi and 11 on the Hindustani side. Of 45 students who joined the college, 36 were admitted on the Marathi and 9 on the Hindustani side.

Drawing.

181. The results of the first-grade examination of the Bombay School of Art were an almost complete failure. Only three certificates were obtained by the Amraoti and none by the Akola high school, against 11 and 17 obtained respectively in the previous year, while the training college obtained 1. The failure is attributed mainly to the examination having been held on an important Hindu holiday.

Industrial training.

182. During the year an industrial school was opened at Akola under Mr. Fuller, an American Missionary, the object being to make Berar artizans more capable and skilful workmen, and to teach trades to boys of other than the artizan classes desiring to avail themselves of the advantages of an industrial training. An initial outlay of Rs. 600 for the purchase of plant and tools, and monthly grants of Rs. 227 for maintenance and Rs. 60 for scholarships, were sanctioned. On the 31st of March 1889 there were 45 pupils on the rolls of the school, of whom 14 were being taught carpentry, 4 shoe-making, 25 tailoring, and 2 were being trained as smiths. The school is reported to fully supply the requirements of the district.

Female education, primary.

183. Female education is slowly but steadily progressing. The number of Government and municipal schools for girls rose from 36 to 37, the number of scholars from 1,213 to 1,279, the average monthly number on the rolls from 1,139 to 1,261, and the average daily attendance from 767 to 800. The fees collected also showed a slight increase, viz., from Rs. 196-2-3 to Rs. 210-12-3. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 8,325-0-10 to Rs. 8,966-0-1, but the annual cost of educating each pupil fell from Rs. 7-4-11 to Rs. 7-1-9. In addition to these institutions there were 4 aided and 1 unaided private schools for girls with an attendance of 98 scholars. The figures, when compared with those of the previous year, show an increase of 1 in the number of Government schools and a decrease of 3 in that of aided schools; but the attendance, including girl pupils studying at boys' schools, rose from 1,572 to 1,617. The number of passes fell from 414 to 407.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

184. There were only 2 schools for European and Eurasian children when the year closed, against 3 in the previous year. One had to be closed during the year owing to a falling-off in the attendance. The total number of pupils who attended the two schools was 37, against 45 in the previous year. Only one of the schools is reported to have done well, the other having been placed at a disadvantage by the resignation of the head-master and the difficulty in obtaining a successor.

Muhammadan education.

185. The following figures show the state of Muhammadan education in the Government and municipal schools in the province for the past two years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.
No. of schools	78	81
„ of scholars on the 31st March ...	4,015	4,119
„ of pupils examined under the several standards	1,778	2,039
„ of pupils passed	1,283	1,215

The number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management rose from 635 to 705.

Education of aborigines.

186. There was one school only for the children of aborigines, against two in the previous year; but the number of pupils rose from 60 to 81. Out of 56 pupils examined 27 passed, against 10 in 1887-88.

Education of low castes.

187. Although the number of low caste pupils attending schools rose from 1,392 to 1,423, the progress made, as shown by the examination results, was not so satisfactory as in the previous year. 427 pupils were examined and 271 passed, against 448 and 294 in 1887-88.

Private schools.

188. There were 12 private schools on the 31st March 1889, against 11 at the close of the previous year, and the number of pupils rose from 173 to 210. These schools are of two classes, advanced and elementary, and are all Muhammadan schools in which the Koran is taught.

Physical education.

189. Steady progress was made in physical education. The number of gymnasia rose from 392 to 426, and the number visited by the instructor from 381 to 395.

Castes of pupils.

190. A classification of the pupils according to race or creed gives the following results for the past three years :—

	1887-88.		1888-89.
	Pupils.	Percentage.	Pupils.	Percentage.

Popular contributions.

191. Popular contributions rose from Rs. 5,938-6-8 to Rs. 9,022-3-9 in the year under report.

Fee receipts.

192. Income from fees levied in all classes of schools has increased steadily. The figures for the past three years are compared below :—

Schools.	1886-87.			1887-88.			1888-89.
	Rs.	a.	p.	Rs.	a.	p.	Rs.	a.	p.

Expenditure.

193. The total expenditure on education rose from Rs. 4,24,984 to Rs. 4,36,588. The exenditure from every source of income, except provincial revenues, was greater than in 1887-88, the increase being due chiefly to larger disbursements on primary schools. Of the total expenditure, Rs. 2,49,867 was met from provincial revenues, Rs. 1,20,044 from the educational cess, Rs. 48,682 from fees, and the balance from local funds and subscriptions.

SECTION II.

Literature and the Press.

Text-book committees.

194. There were in all seven books for review during the year, including six remaining over from the previous year. And all of these were reported on by the text-book committee.

Book depôts.

195. A new branch book depôt was opened at Warud in Amraoti, raising the total number of book depôts in the province to 29. The stock account of these institutions was as follows :—

Receipts.

	Copies.	Amount. Rs.	a.	p.

Balance on 31st March 1889 ...	184,876 ...	24,982	6	3
Total ...	283,549 ...	40,658	11	6

Literature.

196. Fifteen books were registered under Act XXV of 1867, eight of which were monthly numbers of the Berar School Paper. Of the remainder, four were connected with social and political societies (the National Congress and the Berar Sarvajanik Sabha), and three were medical, educational and literary publications.

Honoraria of Rs. 150 and Rs. 50 respectively were granted for a work named "Kadambari Sar," and a manual on practical agriculture.

Presses.

197. With the exception of a new printing press, opened in the Akola district for job work, there was no change either in the number of presses or in the newspapers and periodicals published in the province.

Public libraries.

198. There were 29 public libraries and reading rooms against 27 in the previous year. Four new libraries were opened and two of the older ones closed during the year. The Amraoti library was, as usual, the most flourishing institution of the kind in the province.

SECTION III.

Arts and Sciences.

199. There is nothing to record under this head.
